Red China Vows To Intervene In Viet Nam

Johnson Rejects Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has rejected Kwame Nkrumah's appeal for a halt in the bombing of North Viet Nam, but promised vigorous support for any peace prospect that might arise from the Ghana president's proposed trip to Hanoi.

Presidential Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers reported that Saturday in reply to a special message from the African leader, who is considering a peace-seeking trip to the North Vietnamese capital.

Moyers said: "If President Nkrumah visits Hanoi and arrives at an arrangement which would open the way to peace, he, President Johnson, would of course be prepared to add his full weight to initiatives arising out of the visit."

Moyers announced also that Johnson will brief all members of Congress on the Viet Nam situation next week.

The President and his top advisers will meet with one-half of the senators Monday morning, the other half Monday evening.

House members will come to the executive mansion later in the week.

This is the third such round of congressional briefings in recent months.

Nkrumah has been critical of U.S. actions in Viet Nam but has been contemplating a go-between role in the so far unsuccessful effort to get peace negotiations started.

Friday, his foreign minister, Alex Quaison-Sackey, brought a Nkrumah message to Johnson following the Ghanaian president's receipt of a letter from North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh.

Ho is reported to have invited Nkrumah to visit but to have said he could not insure the African's safety from American bombs.

Nkrumah "asked that all bombing of North Viet Nam be halted so that it would be safe for him to go to Hanoi," Moyers said.

File Suit Under New Voting Law

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Justice Department, acting swiftly under President Johnson's orders, filed a federal court suit Saturday to wipe out Mississippi's poll tax.

Under the law, state voters must pay $2 a year to cast ballots in state elections. Federal elections were made exempt from poll tax in a recent constitutional amendment.

"We are confident the poll-tax requirements will be struck down as unconstitutional," said Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, in Washington.

Poll taxes have long been criticized as having been imposed to discourage voting by Negroes—and poor whites.

The historic 11-page suit was the first of four to be filed under the 1965 voting rights law, which the President signed Friday in Washington.

Other suits will be filed in Alabama, Texas and Virginia—last states to cling to the poll tax.

The Justice Department asked for a three-judge court to be convened as soon as possible to hear the Mississippi suit.

It also asked that the state and the Democratic and Republican parties be enjoined from "conducting any election in Mississippi in which voting is conditioned on the payment of a poll tax."

The Commission on Civil Rights, in a report to the President, called the poll tax a major obstacle to Negro voting rights. It cited an instance in which a tax collector refused to accept poll-tax payments from Negroes.

The 1960 census showed Mississippi with a population of 1,257,546 whites and 915,743 Negroes.

The Justice Department said about 25,000 Negroes have been registered as voters, compared to 600,000 whites.

The state said the suit will be opposed. A spokesman said a major defense argument will be that Congress could easily have included states in the anti-poll-tax amendment, if such had been the intent.

MAINE FOREST FIRE STILL RAGES
WHITNEYVILLE, Maine (AP)—The wind shifted Saturday and turned the flaming front of Maine's worst forest fire in 18 years toward the small hamlet of East Machias.

Winds gusting up to 25 m.p.h. gave the fire momentum, advancing it into fresh timberland after burning more than 11,000 acres.

The wind shift from southwesterly to northwesterly placed East Machias directly in the fire's path, about six to eight miles away.

The fire, which has been burning for four days, has a nine-mile-long front.

FREEDOM SHORT-LIVED
PONTIAC, Ill. (AP)—A prisoner at the Illinois State Penitentiary, Pontiac, escaped early Saturday morning, but his freedom was short-lived as he was recaptured some 5½ hours after his escape.

Warden Joseph Vitek said an information would be filed with Livingston County Circuit Court charging Willis with escape.

Paratrooper Force Fails To Break 64-Day Siege

Editor's Note: Associated Press Correspondent Peter Arnett spent two days in the besieged outpost of Duc Co near the Cambodian border. Here is his report.

By PETER ARNETT
DUC CO, South Viet Nam (AP)—Communist troops have laid siege to this Special Forces camp since five miles from Cambodia for 64 days.

A large Vietnamese paratrooper force was sent in Tuesday to lift the siege, but they have been driven back into the camp lines.

Late Saturday, Viet Cong mortar fire from as close as 500 yards away was smashing into the camp. Nine soldiers were wounded in one attack.

Duc Co came under mortar fire seven times from midday Friday to late Saturday afternoon. Casualties to the paratroopers were high. Their plight was made worse because of difficulties moving them to hospitals.

Among the casualties were Montagnard strike forces that normally protect the camp, and regional forces from the province capital of Pleiku, 40 miles northeast.

An emergency helicopter airlift of wounded was made late Saturday. Scores were carried or hobbled to the helicopters.

Duc Co, a heavily-bunkered camp built by American Special Forces in 1962, has 12 Americans living here now. They have been here throughout the siege. The Viet Cong laid siege to Duc Co apparently to prevent Vietnamese patrols from interfering with supply lines into the central highlands. The camp lies on Route 19, long regarded a key Viet Cong supply route.

Two Americans have been killed, along with high Vietnamese and Montagnard casualties. The Vietnamese paratroopers were flown in from Pleiku to relieve the pressure on Duc Co. "We have had a helluva fight all the way," said Maj. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, from East Orange, N.J., senior U.S. adviser to the Vietnamese paratrooper task force.

The mortar attacks convinced paratrooper officers they were surrounded.

"We are being hit from the northeast and south. A patrol moving north is heavily engaged," Schwarzkopf reported.

The bombs were being dropped less than 400 yards away to neutralize Viet Cong positions that were creeping nearer.

The defenders of Duc Co have no doubt they can hold the camp against any attack. They are worried, however, that a combination of bad weather and Viet Cong mortaring could isolate them from air support.

This would be disastrous for the little camp that already has withstood a tremendous amount of punishment.

King Constantine Mum On Plans To Solve Crisis

ATHENS (AP) — King Constantine ended three days of political consultations Saturday, but kept mum on how he plans to solve the grave Greek government crisis. He appeared to be in deep trouble.

Former Premier George Papandreou, fired by Constantine July 15, remained confident his demands would be met: either that he be restored to power or that general elections be ordered.

The King had been expected to see Papandreou Saturday night but there was no indication the former premier had been summoned to the palace.

It appeared the King might delay a decision until Sunday, perhaps later.

The King's silence and his grim manner increased speculation that he might seek an alternative course, possibly the appointment of a compromise premier from Papandreou's Center Union party or the convening of a crown council of leaders of all parties.

Reliable sources said that at a strategy meeting with leaders of his party and close supporters Papandreou had been urged to step aside and allow Stephanos Stephanopoulos, his former deputy, to become premier.

Papandreou stood adamant against the proposal, informants said, and there was speculation that if the King should name someone other than Papandreou the 77-year-old political warrior would call his supporters into the streets again.

Street demonstrations after he was ousted turned into bloody rioting that resulted in the death of a student and injury to at least 300 other demonstrators.

Constantine ousted Papandreou in a dispute over control of the armed forces.

All political leaders who spoke with the King agreed he should call new elections unless he could find a premier capable of rallying a parliamentary majority. Papandreou is confident of winning new elections.

Name Winners Of 1965 Harmon Aviation Awards

NEW YORK (AP)—A flying grandfather and a woman pilot who lost her life in a crash early this year were named winners Saturday of the 1965 Harmon International Aviation trophies.

The awards for feats of individual piloting skill during 1964 recognized Max Conrad of Winona, Minn., and Prescott, Ariz., known as "The Flying Grandfather," and the late Joan Merriam of Long Beach, Calif., wife of Navy Lt. Cmdr. Jack Smith.

Since being established in 1926 by the late Col. Clifford B. Harmon, a pioneer aviator and balloonist, the trophies have been presented by the President at the White House.

Conrad, 62—who has 10 children and 16 grandchildren—won the aviator trophy for a nonstop, 57-hour, 6,000-mile solo flight from Cape Town, South Africa, to St. Petersburg, Fla., last Christmas. The flight set a world record for the class aircraft he piloted.

Miss Merriam was recognized for her 27,000-mile flight, March 17-May 12, 1964, around the world along the route charted by Amelia Earhart for the flight on which she mysteriously disappeared July 2, 1937.

Miss Merriam, 28, who had been a pilot for 13 years, was killed last Feb. 17 in a crash in California's San Gabriel Mountains.

Trustees of the Clifford B. Harmon Trust did not choose a trophy winner in the lighter-than-air category this year. There was no explanation for the omission.

JOHN POTTER (L), of route two Jacksonville, has a good reason to look happy. Alvin "Pete" Lovekamp has just purchased his reserve champion barrow for $1.25 a pound. Mr. Lovekamp was buying on behalf of the Faultless Grain Company of Springfield who will take delivery of the animal after John has shown it at the State Fair. Kay Jones, of route one Jacksonville, received 35-cents a pound for her reserve 4-H champion barrow.

Charge Student In Coed Murders

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A soft-spoken, suave host . . . two beautiful guests . . . murder in a fit of passion and fear . . . and a long vigil until the bodies could be spirited away and hidden in the cool darkness of early morning.

Like an incomplete jig-saw puzzle, this picture gradually built up Saturday from bits of evidence and comments dropped by officials who charged James C. Cross Jr. with murdering Shirley Ann Stark and Susan Rigby.

Cross, 22, dark, handsome son of a Fort Worth chain store executive, was held without bond in the Travis County jail here.

Officers said he voluntarily made a statement late Friday about the killing of the two 21-year-old brunette beauties from Dallas.

The two girls disappeared the afternoon of July 18. They were found dead, part of their underwear stripped off and their skirts pulled up under their arms. 12 days later in a weed-covered vacant lot.

A medical examiner said at least one, probably both, had been strangled. The bodies were too decomposed for the autopsy to determine whether they had been raped.

Meanwhile, among hundreds of other persons, investigators talked with Cross, who lived alone in an expensively furnished apartment near the University of Texas, where he was a sophomore. Cross confirmed it was he whom Miss Stark had telephoned from a hamburger place just before she disappeared.

Cross, invited the girls to his place, he said, but Miss Stark told him she had to help Susan Rigby move into an apartment where she was to stay during the university's summer session. Miss Stark was then to return to Dallas.

Organized Labor Suffers Jitters Over New Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor is suffering a severe case of the jitters over a recent Supreme Court ruling that could shake up the system of collective bargaining as it now is carried on.

At worst, labor lawyers fear the long exemption of unions from federal antitrust laws may be ended and the growing pattern of industrywide labor contracts may wither on the vine.

At best, they foresee a rash of lawsuits over labor contracts until the courts iron out the full implications of the decision.

Former Justice Arthur J. Goldberg—who disagreed with the majority ruling—hinted it could mean the sharpest setback for organized labor since the modern era of labor relations began with the 1935 Wagner Act that guaranteed unions the right to organize and bargain.

The Supreme Court ruled a labor union is subject to triple damages under antitrust laws if it conspires with one set of employers to set a wage scale designed to drive other companies out of business.

The hitch, labor lawyers say, is that the court left unclear what is sufficient evidence of a conspiracy to send the case to a jury.

Three justices in the six-man majority said any industrywide wage scale too high for some employers to pay is enough evidence; the other three said there must be some further evidence but didn't say what.

This, said Goldberg in one of his last cases before resigning to become ambassador to the United Nations, could lead to judges and juries setting wage scales throughout the nation.

Goldberg, steeped in a lifetime of labor experience as a union lawyer and secretary of labor, said this is something judges and juries are not competent to do.

Goldberg wrote the dissenting opinion and called the ruling a throwback to the days when human labor was considered a commodity to be bought and sold.

Roses, Smiles Replace Marches In Chicago Loop

CHICAGO (AP) — Roses and smiles replaced the chants of marching integrationists on State Street Saturday.

Both kinds of demonstrations aim at the removal of barriers between people. But the approach is different.

Civil rights groups have paraded to City Hall, usually by way of State Street, dozens of times in the past eight weeks. They demanded a speedy end to de facto segregation in public schools.

An interracial group called the American Friendship Club put on a different sort of show Saturday.

Women gave away roses and an explanatory card saying they want to point up "the need of friendship and understanding for all."

The club's spokesman, Lena Mills Golightly, a Negro, said it hopes to "bring about a better understanding among all races so we can live together as one people."

A reporter watched four Negro women passing out free flowers on State Street. Most of the women, children and men walked past, apparently suspicious of anything offered for nothing. But many took the blooms with a smile and a nod.

"Some thank you," said Roda Paskett, one of the flower distributors. "Some want to give a donation, but we don't accept any."

"Some of them said: 'Thanks a lot. This is so nice,'" reported Ethel Franklin.

Some of the white people who accepted flowers shared their thoughts with a newsman.

"It's a better idea than marching," commented Janet Manne.

LBj Calls Conference To Study Water Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, told that the biggest cities of New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey face a drought, produced "water impasse" within a month, called Saturday for leaders of the three states to meet at the White House Wednesday.

Johnson was told by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall that it is now obvious cities taking water from the Upper Delaware River Basin "will face a water impasse in early September."

Udall further reported that "common prudence requires all concerned to act on the assumption that this unprecedented drought will persist for at least one more year." Only a hurricane or a series of sod-soaking rains could ease the situation in the next few weeks, he said.

Johnson responded by inviting governors, mayors and members of Congress from the parched area to meet here Wednesday and organize "appropriate action to meet the immediate problem, to lay plans against the possibility of another year of drought, and to consider longer range attacks on the problem of water supply and conservation."

Udall, chairman of the Water Resources Council, said that group decided "present circumstances do not warrant issuance of a national disaster proclamation."

However, he said, "it is clear that coordinated planning by the federal, state and local governments must be initiated immediately if shortages that could cripple an entire region are to be avoided."

In emphasizing the scope of the potential disaster, Udall noted that an emergency meeting Friday of the Delaware River Basin Commission heard a prediction that New York City would "run out of water by the middle of February 1966" if the drought continues.

The New York representative at the commission meeting said the city's reservoirs on the Del-

Says All U.S. Forces Must Leave S. Viet

TOKYO (AP) — Red China threatened again Saturday to send fighting men to Viet Nam, declaring: "We warn the U.S. aggressors once more: We Chinese people mean what we say."

Similar to previous Red Chinese statements, the latest government declaration — broadcast by Radio Peking — was prompted by President Johnson's announcement July 28 that 50,000 more U.S. troops will be sent to South Viet Nam.

It was the third Communist reaction in two days to Johnson's statement. The Viet Cong asked Communist North Viet Nam Friday for active help in battling the Americans. And a Soviet government statement said U.S. leaders "should have no delusions that American aggression would go unpunished."

"We, the 650 million Chinese people, have repeatedly pledged to the Vietnamese people our all-out support and assistance, up to and including the sending, according to their need, for our men to fight shoulder to shoulder with them to drive out the U.S. aggressors."

Red China said the United States is sending large numbers of troops to take part in combat in South Viet Nam and added: "This display of arrogance and ferocity is actually but the swagger of a helpless desperado. The United States is fighting for an unjust cause in Viet Nam, hence the low morale of its soldiers and the paucity of support it gets."

Predicting victory for the Viet Cong, Peking assailed Johnson's statement on a willingness to discuss peace.

"Johnson's statement of July 28 was a wholesale exposure of the counter-revolutionary dual tactics used by the U.S. imperialists."

"While announcing the sending of large reinforcements to South Viet Nam, he hypocritically talked about America's willingness to begin unconditional negotiations."

Plane Crash Wipes Out Two Families

LAKEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Two families—en route for a surprise reunion at Niagara Falls, N.Y.—were wiped out today when a twin-engine plane plunged into a fog-shrouded cemetery.

The vacation trip ended minutes after takeoff when the plane ripped into gravestones, just short of a line of homes, hurling blazing debris and the victims' bodies into residences.

The two couples and their children took off despite dense fog, bound for a reunion with their mother of the two women victims at Niagara Falls.

There were no immediate members of the two families who didn't die in the crash.

The plane struck just short of a line of homes, cracking gravestones in its path and hurling flaming wreckage—and victims' bodies—into residences.

Killed were two couples and their children. The women were sisters. Officers said there were no immediate members of the two families who didn't die in the crash.

The state said the suit will be opposed. A spokesman said a major defense argument will be that Congress could easily have included states in the anti-poll-tax amendment, if such had been the intent.

Chicago police asked FBI agents to make sure immigration officers had descriptions of the Blacks in the event the fugitives try to enter Canada or Mexico.

The Negro brothers were sought after authorities found a traffic summons issued by police in the pocket of a shirt discarded by one of the fleeing bandits.

Li John Glas said the brothers have been reported "as far West as Wyoming," in Nebraska, and as "far East as Massachusetts."

The FBI's Chicago office said it would ask bureau officials in Washington to consider placing the brothers on the "10 Most Wanted" list.

Eichhorst is survived by the widow, Jean, and two children, Charles Jr., 8, and Jill, 6.

FREEDOM SHORT-LIVED

PONTIAC, Ill. (AP)—A prisoner at the Illinois State Penitentiary, Pontiac, escaped early Saturday morning, but his freedom was short-lived as he was recaptured some 5½ hours after his escape.

Warden Joseph Vitek said an information would be filed with Livingston County Circuit Court charging Willis with escape.

Paratrooper Force Fails To Break 64-Day Siege

Editor's Note: Associated Press Correspondent Peter Arnett spent two days in the besieged outpost of Duc Co near the Cambodian border. Here is his report.

By PETER ARNETT
DUC CO, South Viet Nam (AP)—Communist troops have laid siege to this Special Forces camp only five miles from Cambodia for 64 days.

A large Vietnamese paratrooper force was sent in Tuesday to lift the siege, but they have been driven back into the camp lines.

Late Saturday, Viet Cong mortar fire from as close as 500 yards was smashing into the camp. Nine soldiers were wounded in one attack.

Duc Co came under mortar fire seven times from midday Friday to late Saturday afternoon. Casualties to the paratroopers were high. Their plight was made worse because of difficulties moving them to hospitals.

Among the casualties were Montagnard strike forces that normally protect the camp, and regional forces from the province capital of Pleiku, 40 miles northeast.

An emergency helicopter airlift of wounded was made late Saturday. Scores were carried or hobbled to the helicopters.

Duc Co, a heavily bunkered camp built by American Special Forces in 1962, has 12 Americans living here now. They have been here throughout the siege.

The Viet Cong laid siege to Duc Co apparently to prevent Vietnamese patrols from interfering with supply lines into the central highlands. The camp lies on Route 19, long regarded as a key Viet Cong supply route.

Two Americans have been killed, along with high Vietnamese and Montagnard casualties.

The Vietnamese paratroopers were flown in from Pleiku to relieve the pressure on Duc Co.

"We have had a helluva fight all the way," said Maj. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, from East Orange, N.J., senior U.S. adviser to the Vietnamese paratrooper task force.

The mortar attacks convinced paratrooper officers they were surrounded.

"We are being hit from the northeast and south. A patrol moving north is heavily engaged," Schwarzkopf reported.

The bombs were being dropped less than 400 yards away to neutralize Viet Cong positions that were creeping nearer.

The defenders of Duc Co have no doubt they can hold the camp against any attack. They are worried, however, that a combination of bad weather and Viet Cong mortaring could isolate them from air support.

This would be disastrous for the little camp that already has withstood a tremendous amount of punishment.

King Constantine Mum On Plans To Solve Crisis

ATHENS (AP) — King Constantine ended three days of political consultations Saturday, but kept mum on how he plans to solve the Greek government crisis. He appeared to be in deep trouble.

Former Premier George Papandreou, fired by Constantine July 15, remained confident his demands would be met: either that he be restored to power or that general elections be ordered.

The King had been expected to see Papandreou Saturday night but there was no indication the former premier had been summoned to the palace.

It appeared the King might delay a decision until Sunday, perhaps later.

The King's silence and his grim manner increased speculation that he might seek an alternative course, possibly the appointment of a compromise premier from Papandreou's Center Union party or the convening of a crown council of leaders of all parties.

Reliable sources said that at a strategy meeting with leaders of his party and close supporters Papandreou had been urged to step aside and allow Stephanos Stephanopoulos, his former deputy, to become premier.

Papandreou stood adamant against the proposal, informants said, and there was speculation that if the King should name someone other than Papandreou the 77-year-old political warrior would call his supporters into the streets again.

Street demonstrations after he was ousted turned into bloody rioting that resulted in the death of a student and injury to at least 300 other demonstrators.

Constantine ousted Papandreou in a dispute over control of the armed forces.

All political leaders who spoke with the King agreed he should call new elections unless he could find a premier capable of rallying a parliamentary majority. Papandreou is confident of winning new elections.

MAINE FOREST FIRE STILL RAGES

WHITNEYVILLE, Maine (AP) — The wind shifted Saturday and turned the flaming front of Maine's worst forest fire in 18 years toward the small hamlet of East Machias.

Winds gusting up to 25 m.p.h. gave the fire momentum, advancing it into fresh timberland after burning more than 11,000 acres.

The wind shift from southwesterly to northwesterly placed East Machias directly in the fire's path, about six to eight miles away.

The fire, which has been burning for four days, has a nine-mile-long front.

Name Winners Of 1965 Harmon Aviation Awards

NEW YORK (AP)—A flying grandfather and a woman pilot who lost her life in a crash early this year were named winners Saturday of the 1965 Harmon International Aviation trophies.

The awards for feats of individual piloting skill during 1964 recognized Max Conrad of Winona, Minn., and Prescott, Ariz., known as "The Flying Grandfather," and the late Joan Merriam of Long Beach, Calif., wife of Navy Lt. Cmdr. Jack Smith.

Since being established in 1926 by the late Col. Clifford B. Harmon, a pioneer aviator and balloonist, the trophies have been presented by the President at the White House.

Conrad, 62—who has 10 children and 16 grandchildren—won the aviator trophy for a nonstop, 57-hour, 6,600-mile solo flight from Capetown, South Africa, to St. Petersburg, Fla., last Christmas.

The flight set a world record for the class aircraft he piloted.

Miss Merriam was recognized for her 27,000-mile flight, March 17-May 12, 1964, around the world along the route charted by Amelia Earhart for the flight on which she mysteriously disappeared July 2, 1937.

Miss Merriam, 28, who had been a pilot for 13 years, was killed last Feb. 17 in a crash in California's San Gabriel Mountains.

Trustees of the Clifford B. Harmon Trust did not choose a trophy winner in the lighter-than-air category this year. There was no explanation for the omission.

JOHN POTTER (L), of route two Jacksonville, has a good reason to look happy. Alvin 'Pete' Lovekamp has just purchased his reserve champion barrow for $1.25 a pound. Mr. Lovekamp was buying on behalf of the Faultless Grain Company of Springfield who will take delivery of the animal after John has shown it at the State Fair. Kay Jones, of route one Jacksonville, received 35-cents a pound for her reserve 4-H champion barrow.

Charge Student In Coed Murders

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A soft-spoken, suave host of two beautiful guests in a murder in a fit of passion and fear . . . and a long vigil until the bodies could be spirited away and hidden in the cool darkness of early morning.

Like an incomplete jig-saw puzzle, this picture gradually built up Saturday from bits of evidence and comments dropped by officials who charged James C. Cross Jr. with murdering Shirley Ann Stark and Susan Riggsby.

Cross, 22, dark, handsome son of a Fort Worth chain store executive, was held without bond in the Travis County jail here. Officers said he voluntarily made a statement late Friday about the killing of the two 21-year-old brunettes beauties from Dallas.

The two girls disappeared the afternoon of July 18. They were found dead, part of their underwear stripped off and their skirts pulled up under their arms, 12 days later in a weed-covered vacant lot.

A medical examiner said at least one, probably both, had been strangled. The bodies were too decomposed for the autopsy to determine whether they had been raped.

Meanwhile, among hundreds of other persons, investigators talked with Cross, who lived alone in an expensively furnished apartment near the University of Texas, where he was a sophomore. Cross confirmed it was he whom Miss Stark had telephoned from a hamburger place just before she disappeared.

Cross, invited the girls to his place, he said, but Miss Stark told him she had to help Susan Riggsby move into an apartment where she was to stay during the university's summer session. Miss Stark was then to return to Dallas.

Organized Labor Suffers Jitters Over New Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor is suffering a severe case of the jitters over a recent Supreme Court ruling that could shake up the system of collective bargaining as it now is carried on.

At worst, labor lawyers fear, the long exemption of unions from federal antitrust laws may be ended and the growing pattern of industrywide labor contracts may wither on the vine.

At best, they foresee a rash of lawsuits over labor contracts until the courts iron out the full implications of the decision.

Former Justice Arthur J. Goldberg—who disagreed with the majority ruling—hinted it could mean the sharpest setback for organized labor since the modern era of labor relations began with the 1935 Wagner Act that guaranteed unions the right to organize and bargain.

The Supreme Court ruled a labor union is subject to triple damages under antitrust laws if it conspires with one set of employers to set a wage scale designed to drive other companies out of business.

The hitch, labor lawyers say, is that the court left unclear what is sufficient evidence of a conspiracy to send the case to a jury.

Three justices in the six-man majority said any industrywide wage scale too high for some employers to pay is enough evidence; the other three said there must be some further evidence that didn't say what.

This, said Goldberg in one of his last cases before resigning to become ambassador to the United Nations, could lead to judges and juries setting wage scales throughout the nation.

Goldberg, steeped in a lifetime of labor experience as a union lawyer and secretary of labor, said this is something judges and juries are not competent to do.

Goldberg wrote the dissenting opinion and called the ruling a throwback to the days when human labor was considered a commodity to be bought and sold.

To play it safe, one prominent labor attorney has advised all unions to review all existing labor contracts and revise them if necessary to stay out of trouble.

Says All U.S. Forces Must Leave S. Viet

Similar to previous Red Chinese statements, the latest government declaration — broadcast by Radio Peking — was prompted by President Johnson's announcement July 28 that 50,000 more U.S. troops will be sent to South Viet Nam.

It was the third Communist reaction in two days to Johnson's statement. The Viet Cong asked Communist North Viet Nam Friday for active help in battling the Americans. And a Soviet government statement said U.S. leaders "should have no delusions that American aggression would go unpunished."

"We, the 650 million Chinese people, have repeatedly pledged to the Vietnamese people our all-out support and assistance, up to and including the sending, according to their need, for our men to fight shoulder to shoulder with them to drive out the U.S. aggressors."

Red China said the United States is sending large numbers of troops to take part in combat in South Viet Nam and added: "This display of arrogance and ferocity is actually but the swag of a helpless desperado. The United States is fighting for an unjust cause in Viet Nam, hence the low morale of its soldiers and the paucity of support it gets."

Predicting victory for the Viet Cong, Peking assailed Johnson's statement on a willingness to discuss peace.

"Johnson's statement of July 28 was a wholesale exposure of the counter-revolutionary dual tactics used by the U.S. imperialists."

Cong Open Mortar Fire Near Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong opened up with mortar barrages on government positions north and south of Saigon Saturday. U.S. and Vietnamese warplanes in retaliatory strikes killed about 200 guerrillas, by count of forward air controllers.

In new air raids on North Viet Nam, a Navy A1 Skyraider was hit by ground fire and plunged to earth. A U.S. spokesman said the pilot was presumed killed.

WCTU Head Says Johnsons Served Beer To Minors

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Fred J. Tooez of Evanston, president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, says that President Johnson's boot in Uncle Sam's front door is helping to keep John Barleycorn's boot in Uncle Sam's front door.

Mrs. Tooez told the WCTU's national convention last night that "President Johnson's great society cannot be achieved while the current drinking situation prevails." Every year, she said, 250,000 persons become alcoholics in the United States, and now they total near 10 million.

"His plan to put a wine cellar in the White House and the White House innovation of serving beer to teen-agers is to be condemned," Mrs. Tooez said in her speech.

"John Barleycorn's boot continues to be in Uncle Sam's door and the President of the United States is helping to keep it there."

Mrs. Tooez later said she referred to a White House party given by the President's daughter, Luci, for children of members of the diplomatic corps as the occasion when teen-agers were given beer.

She said that she and the other WCTU officials had written to Johnson about it several weeks ago. There were replies, she said, from the White House that only persons over 21 were served beer.

The WCTU, she told the convention earlier, supports the anti-poverty program in principle, but, she said:

"President Johnson and the project's other supporters should realize that national sobriety is the master key to a great society, and that any war on poverty can be defeated by poverty-creating alcoholism and drunkenness."

Plane Crash Wipes Out Two Families

LAKEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Two families—on route for a surprise reunion at Niagara Falls, N.Y.—were wiped out today when a twin-engine plane plunged into a fog-shrouded cemetery.

The vacation trip ended minutes after takeoff when the plane ripped into gravestones just short of a line of homes, hurling blazing debris and the victims' bodies into residences.

The two couples and their children took off despite dense fog, bound for a reunion with the mother of the two women victims at Niagara Falls.

There were no immediate members of the two families who didn't die in the crash.

The plane struck just short of a line of homes, cracking gravestones in its path and hurling flaming wreckage—and victims' bodies—into residences.

LBJ Calls Conference To Study Water Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, told that the biggest cities of New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey face a drought-produced "water impasse" within a month, called Saturday for leaders of the three states to meet at the White House Wednesday.

Johnson was told by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall that it is now obvious cities taking water from the Upper Delaware River Basin "will face a water impasse in early September."

Udall further reported that "common prudence requires all concerned to act on the assumption that this unprecedented drought will persist for at least one more year." Only a hurricane or a series of sod-soaking rains could ease the situation in the next few weeks, he said.

Udall, chairman of the Water Resources Council, said that group decided "present circumstances do not warrant issuance of a national disaster proclamation."

However, he said, "it is clear that coordinated planning by the federal, state and local governments must be initiated immediately if shortages that could cripple an entire region are to be avoided."

In emphasizing the scope of the potential disaster, Udall noted that an emergency meeting Friday of the Delaware River Basin Commission heard a prediction that New York City would "run out of water by the middle of February 1966" if the drought continues.

The New York representative at the commission meeting said the city's reservoirs on the Delaware River watershed "would be empty by Nov. 25" and that it would be disastrous for the city to release any water into the Delaware from these reservoirs after Sept. 10.

HAIL DAMAGES CROPS WEST OF GREENFIELD

GREENFIELD — Heavy hail damage was reported after a storm struck west of Greenfield Sunday night, August 1. A swath about a mile wide received 80 to 90% crop damage.

Growing corn and bean crops were damaged on farms owned by J. M. Goebelt, Lawrence Bowman, Lynn Kinser, Richard Dalton and Albert Conlee.

The Lynn Kinser home suffered damage so extensive that it will require repainting.

JAY ABBOTT, left, of 1639 Lakeview, and Estell Coats of 409 East Laurel show off their 10½ pound catfish taken from Lake Mauvaisterre about 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. This isn't the largest catfish brought to the Journal Courier but it's the first one taken with a boat oar. The two boys were boating noticed what they thought was a log near the bank in shallow water. When Coats touched it, the fish started for deep water. Abbott was in the other end of the boat and clobbered the cat with a boat oar.

RAYMOND VASEY, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Vasey, Route 2, displays one of the best crappies taken from Lake Jacksonville this year. The fish weighed 3¼ pounds and measured 18 inches long. The fish was caught last Thursday morning.

Miss Riechmann Benny Lane Wed At Carrollton

CARROLLTON—Miss Sandra Riechmann and Benny G. Lane were married Saturday evening, July thirty-first in Our Redeemer Lutheran Church in Carrollton. Rev. A. O. Kaul officiated. Mrs. Ronald Jones of Carrollton was soloist and Mrs. Edward DeGeal the organist. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Riechmann of Carrollton are the bridegroom's parents. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Lane of Harrisburg, Illinois.

Miss Donna Riechmann of Carrollton was her sister's maid-of-honor. Bridesmaids train A queen's crown of seed pearls and crystals held her and Mrs. Daryl Riechmann, both of Carrollton and both sisters-in-law of the bride.

Larry Johnson of Altamont was best man. Groomsmen were Cloyd Lane and Glendie Lane, both of Harrisburg and brothers of the bridegroom. Richard B. Riechmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Riechmann, of Carrollton, was acolyte. Stacy Riechmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Riechmann of Carrollton, was flower girl and Jeffery Riechmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Riechmann of Carrollton, was ring bearer.

Ushers were Robert Kohl and Leo Watkins, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a peau de sole gown with controlled skirt and detachable wattleau train. A queen's crown of seed pearls and crystals held her veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade of stephanotis and white roses with ivy foliage.

Her attendants wore peacock chiffon empire sheaths and headpieces of mums with seed pearls and matching veils. They carried cascades of white butterfly roses and gardenias. The flower girl wore a white chiffon over peacock taffeta floor length dress, a prayer cap of peacock taffeta and carried a basket of white and peacock pompoms.

A reception was held at the Robin Hood Country club north of Carrollton. After a wedding trip through the east, the couple will make their home in Hardin.

A music director in the Calhoun Community Unit school at Hardin, Mrs. Lane is a graduate of Carrollton Community Unit High school and the University of Illinois. She is a member of the Sigma Alpha Iota Music sorority. Mr. Lane, a graduate of the Harrisburg High school and Murray State College, Murray, Ky., is also a teacher and coach in the Calhoun Community Unit schools. He is a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

ASHLAND COUPLE'S GRANDCHILDREN LEAVE FOR HOME

ASHLAND — Mark and Paul Butzow, who have been visiting at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Lamular for two weeks, returned to their home in Bloomington the latter part of last week.

Kelly Reynolds of Modesto is visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lamular, while Mr. and Mrs. John Otkens have gone to the Dells in Wisconsin for a vacation.

Mrs. Howard Senters and sons here for the part of the week for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ratliff, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. William Senters. Jonie and Robyn Senters, who have been visiting with the Ratliffs, will return home with their mother. Dale Allan Senters will remain for a visit with his grandmother, Mrs. William Senters, and his cousin, Dennis Senters of Fort Pierce, Fla., who is spending the summer in Ashland. The Howard Senters family will be moving soon to the state of Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dalton of Winchester spent the latter part of last week at the home of the former's sister-in-law, Mrs. Grace Dalton.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Birch spent the weekend in Chicago with the Hopciad Fertilizer Group on a three-day tour. One hundred and twenty-five were in the group from other sections. They went by plane from Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Gainer, who have been vacationing in Minnesota on a fishing trip with friends from Pekin, have returned to their home here.

Mrs. Grace Thompson has returned home here after being a surgical patient in St. John's hospital, Springfield, for a short time, and Mrs. Wayne McLin, who has been a medical patient in Memorial hospital for a few days, has returned home here. Mrs. Gary Tasker has also returned home from St. John's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reside and family of King of Prussia, Pa., have arrived here for a two weeks visit at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reside, and Mrs. Rose Hinds.

ASHLAND DPL CLUB AT LEAHY HOME

ASHLAND—Mrs. John Leahy entertained the members of the D.P.L. club at her home last Saturday afternoon. All 13 members of the club were present. The afternoon was spent playing bridge, and refreshments were served by the hostess. Prizes were won by Mrs. Bertha Leahy, Mrs. Elsie Struble, Miss Althea Stout and Mrs. Calista Duncheon.

Other members present were Miss Lorena Bailey, Mrs. Eula Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Glenna Jones, Mrs. Zeta Devlin, Mrs. Ella Sinclair, Miss Julia Hewitt, all of Ashland; Mrs. Mildred Leahy and Mrs. Winona Struble of Springfield.

Ms. Henrietta Weinfeld of Chicago passed away in Chicago on July 26. Funeral services were held Wednesday, July 28. Mrs. Weinfeld and her husband, who preceded her in death, John Reside, and Mrs. Rose Hinds, were former residents of Ashland, leaving about 1910.

She is survived by one son, Nat, in Chicago, and one daughter, Mrs. Jack Hexter of Providence, Rhode Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvie Watkins were in Chicago recently to attend the wedding of Miss Virginia Lou Hinds and Dominic Dugo at the First Baptist church in Oaklawn. The former Miss Hinds is a great niece of Mrs. Watkins and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sandidge.

Miss Kathy Douglass, who has been here visiting at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Douglass for two weeks, returned with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Douglass, to their home in Princeton.

NOTHING WASTED

DENVER (AP) — Not a scrap of lead or a cartridge case is wasted when Denver policemen do their target shooting in the basement of the Police Building.

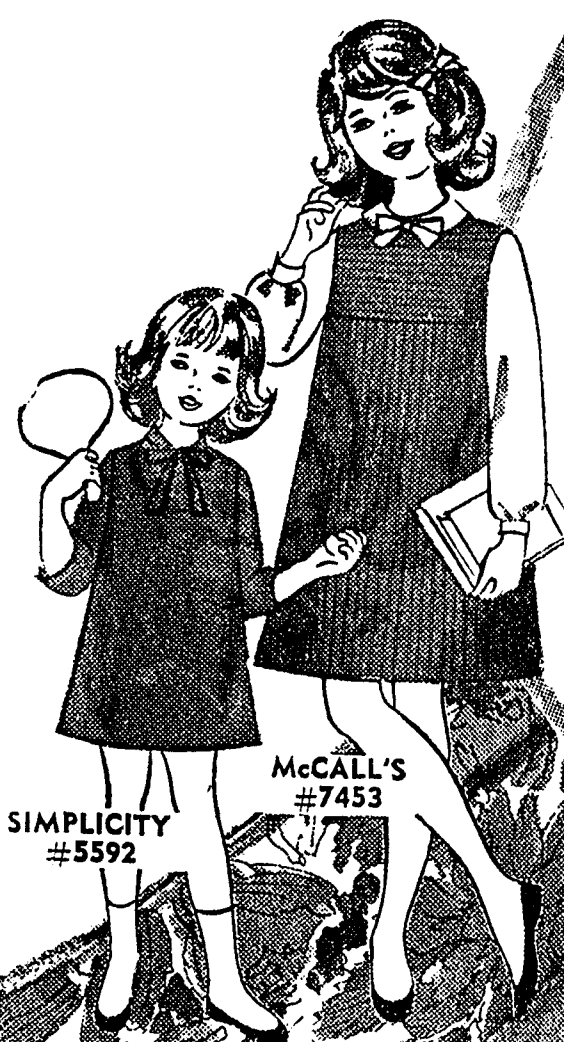

Each officer is required to turn in the empty cases and the smashed lead bullets are recovered in steel containers holding fireproofed sawdust.

Edward J. Kopper, pistol range master, and his assistant, Donald Limes, then melt the lead scraps into half-pound ingots from which fresh bullets are made and inserted into the used cases. The second-hand bullets are used only for target practice.

HERE'S HOW TO TURN YOUR "GOOD INTENTIONS" INTO A GOOD SAVINGS ACCOUNT

It's hard to save money nowadays. Yet, everyone needs and wants some money in the bank.

The secret is to put something aside on a regular basis. But unless you put the money in the bank first, something always comes along to upset your savings plan.

Now Elliott State Bank offers you an automatic savings service. You can have any amount you wish transferred automatically from your checking account to your savings account each month. It's a sure way to "pay yourself first" — to take care of your savings before you spend the money on other things.

You don't have to save a big amount each month. In savings, it's persistence that pays — and pays off!

And your savings grow faster at Elliott because you'll be earning the highest bank interest in our area — 3½% daily interest, compounded four times a year.

Come in and sign up for your automatic savings plan. There's nothing like money in the bank, and there's no easier way to have it than Elliott's automatic savings plan.

Savings accounts insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

HERE'S HOW TO TURN YOUR "GOOD INTENTIONS" INTO A GOOD SAVINGS ACCOUNT

It's hard to save money nowadays. Yet, everyone needs and wants some money in the bank.

The secret is to put something aside on a regular basis. But unless you put the money in the bank first, something always comes along to upset your savings plan.

Now Elliott State Bank offers you an automatic savings service. You can have any amount you wish transferred automatically from your checking account to your savings account each month. It's a sure way to "pay yourself first" — to take care of your savings before you spend the money on other things.

You don't have to save a big amount each month. In savings, it's persistency that pays — and pays off!

And your savings grow faster at Elliott because you'll be earning the highest bank interest in our area — 3½% daily interest, compounded four times a year.

Come in and sign up for your automatic savings plan. There's nothing like money in the bank, and there's no easier way to have it than Elliott's automatic savings plan.

Savings accounts insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Amvets Prepare For Executive Conclave Here

Jacksonville AMVET Post 100 held its second regular meeting of the month on July 27 at the AMVET Home with Commander Fred Daniels presiding.

Colors were posted by Provost Marshall John Smith and opening prayer given by acting Chaplain H. W. Dodsworth.

Minutes of the previous meeting and of the executive committee meeting were approved as read by acting Adjutant John P. Beadles and the semi-monthly financial report was approved as made by Finance Officer Robert J. Curry.

Commander Daniels announced that the executive committee of the Department of Illinois AMVETS will hold their next meeting in Jacksonville on August 14 and 15. All state officers and committee chairmen are expected to be in attendance. It is estimated that approximately 100 out of town AMVET and Auxiliary dignitaries will attend the conference.

Miss Joyce Birch, who was chosen as Miss Jacksonville AMVET and later became Miss Illinois AMVET, will be present.

Miss Birch, in company with her parents, will depart for Boston the following week to vie for honors as Miss National AMVET at the AMVET's national convention.

The post has engaged Lyn Symons and his 7-piece dance band to provide the music for a free "Get Acquainted Dance" on the night of August 14th at the AMVET Home. All AMVETS and their guests are welcome to attend and meet their new state officers.

The following new or re-instatement members: Carter W. Shearburn, E. Wayne Turley, Gerald L. Hembrough, Harry Grissom, Clyde J. Hearld, Houston R. Ward and Bud Birdsell, were welcomed into the Post during the month of July, bringing the membership to a record high and ranking it as the second largest AMVET Post in the nation.

The entertainment committee reported that the annual AMVET and Auxiliary family picnic will be held at the MacMurray cabin this Tuesday with supper served picnic style at 7 p.m. Members and their families are asked to bring a covered dish and their own table service. The Post will provide meat and drinks.

The social committee also announced that there will be a matinee dance for members and guests at the Post Home on August 29 between the hours of 4 and 7 p.m. The Boots Brennan combo will provide music.

Jim Kincaid of Greenville, 23rd district commander, complimented the post for its outstanding accomplishments.

John P. Beadles was elected a delegate to the national convention which will be held in Boston August 19 through 22.

At the close of the meeting, members stood in silence in memory of their departed comrades. A social hour was spent with the auxiliary. A motion picture was shown and refreshments were served.

Mr. Decker is a 1964 graduate of Jacksonville High school and is now with the Navy, attending a nuclear school at Vallejo, Calif.

The wedding will take place at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, August 12 in the Emmanuel Baptist church in Roodhouse. Relatives and friends are cordially invited to attend.

ASHLAND WOMEN AT CASS PAST MATRON'S MEET

ASHLAND — The Past Matrons Club of Ada Robinson chapter of Virginia recently entertained the members of all other Cass County Past Matrons' Clubs at Rossi's restaurant with a dessert luncheon. About 30 members representing four clubs were present.

The afternoon was spent playing cards and each guest received a gift.

Mrs. Louise Quinley, Mrs. Artie Walker and Mrs. Lorene Senter represented the Past Matrons of Ashland. Mrs. Senter, president of the Ashland Chapter, thanked the Virginia Chapter for their invitation and invited all members present to be guests of the Ashland Club next year.

Robert Bast of Springfield former Ashland resident, was the recipient of a Masonic 50-year pin in ceremonies held Thursday night in the Ashland Masonic Hall.

The Cub Scout activity scheduled for August 9th in the West Park has been cancelled and no other date will be set.

Mrs. Anna Blake of Venice, Calif., is visiting here with relatives for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ophir Marion and family of Manchester, New Hampshire, have arrived here for a several days visit at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Marion.

Mrs. Virginia Summers, who has been an observation patient in St. John's hospital, Springfield, for several days, returned to her home here the fore part of the week.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market eked out another gain last week, its second straight, despite some nervousness over the international situation and the rising price of gold in Britain.

The daily gains on average were at times barely worth recording but by week's end there was no doubt whatsoever that stocks were rising on balance in the past five trading days.

The Dow Jones industrial average ended the week with a net gain of a mere .77 at 822.51.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 2.3 to 328.6.

Gainers outnumbered losers by 899 to 455 among the 1,531 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

The week's volume was 22,817,990 shares compared with 22,713,520 shares the week before.

Some concern existed in Wall Street over the Sept. 1 deadline for a steel strike and analysts were generally cautious about the immediate future for the market as a whole.

General Motors disappointed the street by declaring only the usual 75-cent payout. Some Wall Streeters had looked for a stock split or a special, fatter dividends payments.

A rise in new factory orders was an encouraging economic back drop for the market.

Airlines staged a rally of their own on the basis of booming July traffic figures.

The market had its only setback of the week on Thursday. Financial circles were concerned by the rise of 17 cents in the price of gold in London bullion.

Another belligerent statement from Moscow gave traders some hesitation on Friday but this was soon overcome.

International developments depressed prices of most bonds.

The key development was a report by the British Treasury showing a $114 million decline in that nation's reserves during July. The report pushed the price of gold to a four-year high Friday of $35.19 a troy ounce on the London exchange.

Prices of high quality corporate bonds declined on the New York Stock Exchange volume totaled a par value of $50.98 million.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP)—The butcher hog market showed little day-to-day change last week and closed steady to 25 cents a hundredweight higher for a supply only slightly above the previous week's small run.

The week's top went to $25.35 on Wednesday. It compared with $25.25 a week ago and $17.75 a year ago. The average cost of all butcher grades was estimated at $24.60, up 21 cents from the previous week. A year ago it was $16.89.

The supply of cattle increased about 12 per cent last week and became a weakening factor in the trade most of the period. However, slaughter steers closed steady to mostly 25 cents higher after a rather broad advance in Friday's trade.

The average cost for the week was little changed at $26.60 but it was $2.40 better than a year ago.

ROODHOUSE SCOUTS AT 2-DAY CAMPOUT

ROODHOUSE — The local Boy Scouts, under the leadership of their Scoutmaster, Dennis Moulton, are holding a two-day campout beginning Friday of this week. They are staying at the Joe Clark farm in Carrollton until Sunday afternoon. They are fishing at a lake nearby as one bit of recreation.

Lee Haney and brother, Les Haney, have received word of the death of their niece's son, Darrell Eckhart, Los Alamos, Colo., which occurred Sunday while the 18-year old young man was driving a grain truck over a bridge. The young man would have been a senior in high school this year has visited Roodhouse relatives.

Mrs. Lee Haney accompanied her sister, Mrs. Paul Snider, and family to New Salem Park, Sunday where they spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wilson, rural route, have returned from a vacation to Reno, Nevada.

Mrs. DeVillbiss, 86-year old resident, entered the Passavant hospital, Jacksonville, Thursday, following injuries incurred when her right hand was caught in the wringer of her washing machine. The extent of her injuries had not been determined at the last report.

Elsewhere on the ground, a Vietnamese unit reported it had uncovered a major Viet Cong medical facility, an ammunition factory and a supply depot in the jungles 35 miles southwest of Saigon.

The mortar attacks south of Saigon hit government outposts in the Mekong delta 100 to 125 miles from the capital. Vietnamese casualties were reported in some attacks but there were no reports on others.

North of the capital, the Viet Cong hammered a Special Forces camp at Duc Co, five miles from the Cambodian border, with mortar fire. A press dispatch said scores of wounded were removed by helicopter.

The camp is surrounded by the Viet Cong and Vietnamese paratroopers were sent to its relief. They were unable to break out of the encirclement, however. The camp, about 215 miles south of Saigon, is about 40 miles southwest of the government stronghold at Pleiku.

The Navy Skyraider was lost during a raid on the Dong Hoi barracks area 40 miles north of the border.

A military spokesman said the plane was taking part in the mission along with 7 A4 Skyhawks, 7 other Skyraiders and 14 other craft in support from the carrier Midway. The planes ran into heavy ground fire. The Navy planes dropped 15 tons of bombs on the area and pilots reported inflicting 50 per cent damage.

While the spokesman reported that all other planes returned from North Viet Nam missions, Hanoi Radio claimed four U.S. planes were shot down.

In another strike, 10 Skyhawks and 5 F4 Phantoms hit the Vinh army barracks region 165 miles south of Hanoi. Pilots reported three buildings destroyed and seven others damaged.

Amvets Prepare For Executive Conclave Here

Jacksonville AMVET Post 100 held its second regular meeting of the month on July 27 at the AMVET Home with Commander Fred Daniels presiding.

Colors were posted by Provost Marshall John Smith and opening prayer given by acting Chaplain H. W. Dodsworth. Minutes of the previous meeting and of the executive committee meeting were approved as read by acting Adjutant John P. Beadles and the semi-monthly financial report was approved as made by Finance Officer Robert J. Curry.

Commander Daniels announced that the executive committee of the Department of Illinois AMVETS will hold their next meeting in Jacksonville on August 14 and 15. All state officers and committee chairmen are expected to be in attendance. It is estimated that approximately 100 out of town AMVET and Auxiliary dignitaries will attend the conference.

Miss Joyce Birch, who was chosen as Miss Jacksonville AMVET and later became Miss Illinois AMVET, will be present.

Miss Birch, in company with her parents, will depart for Boston the following week to vie for honors as Miss National AMVET at the AMVET's national convention.

The post has engaged Lyn Symons and his 7-piece dance band to provide the music for a free "Get Acquainted Dance" on the night of August 14th at the AMVET Home. All AMVETS and their guests are welcome to attend and meet their new state officers.

The following new or re-instatement members: Carter W. Shearburn, E. Wayne Turley, Gerald L. Hembrough, Harry Grissom, Clyde J. Heard, Houston R. Ward and Bud Birdsell, were welcomed into the Post during the month of July, bringing the membership to a record high and ranking it as the second largest AMVET Post in the nation.

The entertainment committee reported that the annual AMVET and Auxiliary family picnic will be held at the MacMurray cabin this Tuesday with supper served picnic style at 7 p.m. Members and their families are asked to bring a covered dish and their own table service. The Post will provide meat and drinks.

The social committee also announced that there will be a matinee dance for members and guests at the Post Home on August 29 between the hours of 4 and 7 p.m. The Boots Brennan combo will provide music.

Jim Kincaid of Greenville, 23rd district commander, complimented the post for its outstanding accomplishments.

John P. Beadles was elected a delegate to the national convention which will be held in Boston August 19 through 22.

At the close of the meeting, members stood in silence in memory of their departed comrades. A social hour was spent with the auxiliary. A motion picture was shown and refreshments were served.

Mays Blasts Pair As Cards Fall, 10-4

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Willie Mays boomed his 28th and 29th home runs of the season Saturday, each with a man on base, breaking open a close game and boosting his San Francisco Giants to a 10-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Dodgers Nip Reds 5-3 On 4 In First

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four consecutive walks by Cincinnati's Sammy Ellis plus Don LeJohn's two-run single highlighted a four-run first inning that triggered the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers to a 5-3 triumph over the Reds Saturday night.

Mauri Williams started the game with an infield single but was out trying to steal second. Ellis, seeking his 15th victory, then walked Wes Parker, Jim LeFebvre, Ron Rairly and Lou Johnson for one run. LeJohn singled to center field, driving in LeFebvre and Fairly.

Huarte Named MVP With Butkus Second

CHICAGO (AP) — Quarterback John Huarte, Notre Dame's 1964 Heisman Trophy winner, was named most valuable All-Star football player Saturday by an overwhelming margin over line backer Dick Butkus of Illinois.

Huarte, who inspired a rally after entering Friday night's game in Soldier Field in the third period that cut the winning margin of the National Football League champion Cleveland Browns to 24-16, received 66 of 96 votes by newsmen covering the 32nd annual classic.

Butkus drew 27 votes. Single votes went to end Alphonse Dotson of Grambling, fullback-placemaker Chuck Mercein, Yale, and safetyman Al Nelson, Cincinnati.

The 22-year-old, 180-pound Huarte of Anaheim, Calif., who set Notre Dame passing records last season, will be presented a silver trophy at halftime ceremonies of next year's All-Star game.

Halfback Charley Taylor of Arizona State, who won National Football League rookie honors last season with the Washington Redskins was the 1964 most valuable selection.

Huarte didn't get the quarterback call Friday night from All-Star Coach Otto Graham until 7½ minutes were gone in the third period.

By that time the Browns were bustling along with a 24-3 lead. In thunder, lightning and a downpour, Huarte capped two 80-yard drives with touchdown tosses. He completed nine out of nine passes for 132 yards in the streak.

Linebacker Butkus of Illinois, meanwhile, was in on 15 tackles and also blocked Lou Groza's fourth period field goal try.

Why did Graham wait so long to unleash Huarte, the $200,000 property of the New York Jets?

GAMES CALLED OFF

The Jacksonville Redlegs game scheduled for this evening against Riley's of Decatur has been postponed because the visitors are now involved in a tournament. The next Redlegs, tilt will be here Tuesday against Springfield North End Merchants.

Two insurance runs in the seventh with a homer to left after Jesus Alou had doubled. Willie McCovey hit a two-run homer for the Giants in the third.

Right-hander Bob Shaw, helped by Mays' five RBI, got his 12th victory against six losses. San Fran. 102 020 230—10 10 1. St. Louis 000 300 010—4 9 1. ## Lema Recovers To Grab Front In Golf Classic

WHITEMARSH, Pa. (AP) — Champagne Tony Lema, recovered from an aching back and dosed with pills for an ailing shoulder, shot a five-under-par 67 Saturday and grabbed a one-stroke lead after 54 holes in the $125,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

The 31-year-old Lema emerged the leader with a 207-nine under par—after three rounds of the 72-hole competition in a see-saw battle with the veteran Doug Sanders, Masters Champion Jack Nicklaus, and rookie Dick Sikes.

Sanders, who by his own admission was weary of even qualifying until he caught fire on the back nine Friday, scored a 35-32—67 for a total of 208, and a tie with Sikes, leader of the first two rounds.

Sikes, a pro only 14 months and a former NCAA champion, slipped to a 73. Nicklaus, the big, blond Masters champion, had a 35 going out but fell apart on the homecoming nine, finishing with a 73 and 209, putting him alone in fourth place.

Randy Glover of Florence, S.C., and Joe Campbell each had a 210. Seven others, including U.S. Open champion Gary Player, were grouped at 212.

Grant, who has beaten Boston four times this season with the Twins scoring 46 runs in those games, checked the Red Sox on nine hits, including the 15th home run for Carl Yastrzemski and Felix Mantilla.

Grant lost only three. Don Mincher's 15th homer, with a man on base, capped a three-run Minnesota burst in the fourth inning that broke a 1-1 tie.

Boston 100 001 011—4 9 1. Minnesota 100 330 025—9 11 0. Wilson, Earley (5), Duliba (6), Hefner (7) and Nixon; Grant and Zimmerman, Battey (4). W—Grant (14-3). L—Wilson (8-9). Home runs—Boston, Yastrzemski (15), Mantilla (15), Minnesota, Versalles (15), Mincher (15).

Farrell Blanks Milwaukee, 4-0 For 8th Victory

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Houston Astros backed up Dick Farrell's shutout pitching with a 12-hit attack, including a home run by Bob Aspromonte, and romped to a 4-0 victory over Milwaukee Saturday.

Farrell, who limited Milwaukee to five hits, allowed only one Brave to reach third as he posted his eighth victory of the season and his third shutout. He struck out five and did not issue a walk.

Ken Johnson, seeking his 13th victory, took his sixth defeat instead. He gave up 10 hits and three runs, one of them unearned, before being knocked out in the sixth.

City Power Ends Season Here Today

Jacksonville City Power closes out its Little Eight League schedule today, entertaining Florence in a twinbill at Nichols Park.

City Power, out of the running for one of the two spots in the league and a tournament bid, faces a team that is tied with Taylorville for second spot in the Little Eight.

The locals had their best day of the season here last Sunday, taking a pair of games from Springfield, 1-0 and 3-2, while Florence split with league-leading Riverton at their home park. The loss by Riverton was their only one in league play thus far.

With the twin triumph last week City Power has a 4-9 league record, 5-9 overall. Florence packs an 8-5 mark into the final week of the season.

Starters for Jacksonville will be Fred Curtis, who threw a four-hitter and struck out 12 last week, and Gordon Elmore, who allowed just three singles in a 3-2 edge over Springfield last time out.

Probable starters for Florence will be Jim O'Donnell and Keith Schumann.

White Sox Rally For 4-3 Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox, helped along by Max Alvis' tangle-foot act, rallied for two runs in the bottom of the 10th inning Saturday and edged the Cleveland Indians 4-3.

The Sox, who had to rally from a 2-0 deficit to send it into overtime, trailed 3-2 going into their half of the 10th, and had one out when Alvis had his trouble.

With pinch runner Al Weis on first, J. C. Martin popped down the third base line. But Alvis tripped over the bag, the ball dropped safely and runners were on first and second.

SILENT APPRAISAL: Roy Cooper (R) and Bob Lee (L) watch closely as Howard Curtis lines up a fifteen-foot putt on No. 3 during City Championship play at Nichols Park Saturday afternoon. Curtis fired a 34-35—69 round to go into a three-way tie with Cooper and Steve Bockemeier.

SOUTHPAW: Monte Secrist chips from the edge of the 4th green on his way to a 36-37—73 round, four strokes off the pace.

BODY ENGLISH: Bob Lee, of Waverly, follows through on a 50-foot chip shot on the third hole that stopped less than a foot from the cup. Lee covered the first nine in 33 but skied to a 47 on the second to finish with an 80.

Williams' 5 RBI Spark 7-1 Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Williams drove in five runs with a double and his 18th homer, paced by McGraw 9 and Schaffer. W—Hoeft (1-1). L—Cisno (3-8). Victory over the New York Mets Saturday.

The loss was the sixth straight for the last-place Mets.

Williams' two-run double capped a four-run Chicago burst in the fifth inning after successive errors by losing pitcher Galen Cisco and first baseman Ed Kranepool opened the gates.

In the seventh, after reliever Gordon Richardson walked Jim Stewart and hit Don Landrum with a pitch, Williams drove a three-run homer over the right field wall.

Billy Hoeft pitched the final five innings and picked up his first victory of the season.

Grid Cardinals' Defense Praised

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — The offense scored four touchdowns and a field goal but the defense got most of the praise Saturday as the St. Louis football Cardinals wound up their heavy scrimmage work of the training season.

Quarterback Charlie Johnson threw two scoring passes, one to Jackie Smith and another to Sonny Randle. Quarterback Buddy Humphrey connected with Billy Gambrell for one more and Bob Parnell ran for the fourth. Jim Bakken booted a 37-yard field goal.

Coach Wally Lemm praised the defense which shackled the offense most of the way.

Trio Shares Lead In City Golf Play

By SANDY PETERSEN

Defending champion Howard Curtis, Roy Cooper, and Steve Bockemeier each fired three over par 69's at Nichols Park Saturday afternoon, to share the first-round lead in the Jacksonville City Golf Championship.

Jim Cisne carded a 70, one stroke off the pace, while Mickey Little and Dale Gibbs recorded 71's to go two strokes back.

Cooper fired the best round of the day with a one-under-par 32 in his front nine effort, but fell to even par after the 10th.

A representative of the country club, Cooper bogied the 12th, 13th and 17th on the back side to finish at three over for the day.

Cooper had a chance to go ahead in the 72 hole tourney, but missed a three foot side-hill birdie putt on the 18th.

Curtis, winner of last month's Nichols Park Open, for the second consecutive year, claimed consistent rounds of 34 and 35 in the first round action. Starting the back-nine at one over par, Curtis gained a par on the 10th, but went three over with bogies on both the 11th and 12th.

The defending champion played even par on the remaining six holes to continue his three-over pace. Curtis also missed a chance to take the lead on the 18th, but likewise missed a tricky three footer. Bockemeier, the youngest player in the tournament, appeared to have everything under control until rain halted action on the 15th. Bockemeier recorded an even par 33 on the front nine, and remained even through the 14th hole.

After the delay, the young contender found putting tough on the rain soaked greens and went three over on the last four holes for his back-nine total of 36.

Gibbs knocked in the only eagle of the day, a 15 foot putt on the ninth hole.

Every golf tournament has a hard luck stories, and Saturday's first round action was no exception. Lee, a sophomore at the University of Houston from Waverly, was in strong contention after firing an even par round of 33 on the front-nine, but then the roof fell in.

Lee bogied the 10th, but parred the 11th and 12th. Disaster then struck the young linkster, topped off with a five-over-par nine in the 14th. Lee salvaged a 47 on the back-nine, but fell well back into the field with his 18 hole total of 80.

The jamboree was sponsored by the state of Illinois, the Illinois Youth Commission and the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

Reniff And Ford Preserve Slim Win Over Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Relievers Hal Reniff and Whitey Ford combined to pitch out of a two-on, none-out jam in the ninth inning, saving a 6-5 victory for the New York Yankees over Detroit Saturday night.

Reniff came on after the Tigers had scored two runs in the ninth and had Don Demeter at third and Jake Wood at first. He struck out Bill Freehan and got pinch hitter John Sullivan on a short fly to left field but then walked Don Wert loading the bases.

Manager Johnny Keane then called on Ford for his first relief appearance of the season, and the veteran left-hander got the left-hand hitting Jerry Lumpe to hit into a force play at second.

Mel Stottlemyre, who brought his record to 13-6, allowed the Tigers to score three hits, including Lumpe's two-run homer in the eighth, until the ninth.

Night Game

New York 200 210 006—6 12 1. Detroit 100 000 022—5 7 0.

Stottlemyre, Hamilton (9). Reniff (9). Ford (9) and Howard Aguirre, Gladding (4). Fox (1) here at the State Fair.

(6). Sherry (9) and Freehan. W—Stottlemyre (13-6). L—Aguirre (10-8).

Home runs—New York, Tresh (18), Mantle (15). Detroit, Lumpe (4).

Landis' Homer Leads Athletics Past Orioles 7-4

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jim Landis cracked a three-run homer in the seventh inning, capping a six-run rally that carried Kansas City to a 7-4 victory over Baltimore Saturday night.

The loss dropped the second-place Orioles 7½ games behind American League-leading Minnesota, giving the Twins their biggest lead of the season.

Contests, Parades Set At Nortonville Picnic

NORTONVILLE — Among events scheduled during the Nortonville Picnic and Burgoo Thursday are a pet parade, husband-calling contest, sack race, bicycle race, cracker eating contest, balloon-blowing tournament and entertainment by Hiatt Dance Studio pupils and Slim and the Country Rhythm Boys. Prizes will be awarded to the youngest baby in attendance, the most recently married couple, to the person traveling the greatest distance to the picnic, the youngest grandmother and the girl with the prettiest ponytail.

A tractor pull will get underway at Nortonville Park at 12:30 p.m. Rules for the contest have been announced as follows: Tractors will be given thirty seconds to pull as far as possible, each tractor may be entered once. No restriction is set on gear changes or gears used if forward motion of sled continues. No clutch clipping will be allowed. The tractors must have 14 lbs. or more of air in the rear tires. Super chargers or oxygen not allowed except as factory equipment.

Tractors may not be stripped of standard parts to make any weight class and additional parts must be fastened securely. The contest is open to privately owned rubber-tired tractors, tire chains and rear duals are not allowed. The operator must be 14 years of age or older and must be considered a safe operator by the contest judges.

Prizes will be awarded on the basis of entry fees with the winner scheduled to receive 40 percent of the total fees collected. The second place winner will receive 30 percent, the third place finisher, 20 percent. An entry fee of $5 will be charged.

Class One will include tractors up to 4,000 pounds; class two, 4,000 to 5,000 pounds; class three, 5,000 to 6,000 lbs.; class four, 6,000 to 8,000 pounds; class five, 8,000 to 10,000 lbs.; class six, 10,000 to 12,000 lbs.

Lawrence Jones and Joe Veder are contest chairman.

TO PRESENT PUPILS IN PIANO RECITAL

Miss Mary Kay McGinnis, junior music major at MacMurray College, will present thirteen of her piano pupils in a recital at 3 p.m. today at the Liter Baptist Church, Literberry.

The pianists are Mary Fae Nergenhah, Debra Chambers, Kathy Owsley, Mary Beth Ifner, Diana Chambers, Jo Ellen Ifner, Diane Waggener, Ruth Ann Lawrence, Becky Ifner, Pam Owsley, Vickie Hamilton, Ruth Ann Ifner and Judy Waggener.

Also on the program are a French horn solo by Carol Williamson and a vocal solo by Beverly Waggener.

The invocation will be given by Reverend William J. Boston, pastor of the church and the benediction will be offered by Ronald G. Bottens of the Literberry Christian church.

The public is welcome.

FISH POND CLINIC SET FOR AUG. 11 NEAR PITTSFIELD

PITTSFIELD—Tom Groutage, Illinois fish biologist, and Roger Frazier, local conservation agent, will hold a fish pond clinic Wednesday, Aug. 11, at 6:30 p.m. on the Russel Smith farm, located a mile north of Milton on Route 100.

The clinic is sponsored by the Pike County Soil and Water Conservation Service to acquaint interested landowners with good pond management practices.

Pittsfield city police have their new squad car in operation. The new white Ford is different from the older car because it has a signal light inside the car and a loud speaker mounted under the hood.

Guidance counselor in the Pittsfield High school, Jerry Craddock, has accepted a position in the St. Petersburg, Fla. school system.

CASS COUPLE WED IN BEARDSTOWN CHURCH CEREMONY

BEARDSTOWN — Miss June Carls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carls of rural Beardstown became the bride of John Conner, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Conner of Beardstown at 7 p.m. Saturday, July 31.

Rev. Edward Lang, minister of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, pronounced the vows at the church.

Attendants were Miss Sharon Deacon and Tommy Joe Treat, the latter of Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Gale Painter was flower girl and the ushers were Schaeffer and Ernest J. Carls.

The bride and bridegroom are graduates of Beardstown high school. Mr. Conner is employed by radio station W.R.M.S.

Jacqueline Motley

The engagement and approaching marriage of Jacqueline Gaye Motley to Gary Decker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Decker of Jacksonville has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Motley of Roodhouse.

Mr. Decker is a 1964 graduate of Jacksonville High school and is now with the Navy, attending a nuclear school at Vallejo, Calif.

The wedding will take place at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, August 12 in the Emmanuel Baptist church in Roodhouse. Relatives and friends are cordially invited to attend.

ASHLAND WOMEN AT CASS PAST MATRON'S MEET

ASHLAND — The Past Matrons Club of Ada Robinson chapter of Virginia recently entertained the members of all other Cass County Past Matrons' Clubs at Rossi's restaurant with a dessert luncheon. About 30 members representing four clubs were present.

The afternoon was spent playing cards and each guest received a gift.

Mrs. Louise Quinley, Mrs. Artie Walker and Mrs. Lorene Senters represented the Past Matrons of Ashland. Mrs. Senters, president of the Ashland Chapter, thanked the Virginia Chapter for their invitation and invited all members present to be guests of the Ashland Club next year.

Robert Bast of Springfield, former Ashland resident, was the recipient of a Masonic 50-year pin in ceremonies held Thursday night in the Ashland Masonic Hall.

The Cub Scout activity scheduled for August 9th in the West Park has been cancelled and no other date will be set.

Mrs. Anna Blake of Venice, Calif., is visiting here with relatives for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ophir Marion and family of Manchester, New Hampshire, have arrived here for a several days visit at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Marion.

Mrs. Virginia Summers, who has been an observation patient in St. John's hospital, Springfield, for several days, returned to her home here the fore part of the week.

Percie L. Kelley vs. Henry F. Kelley, cruelty.

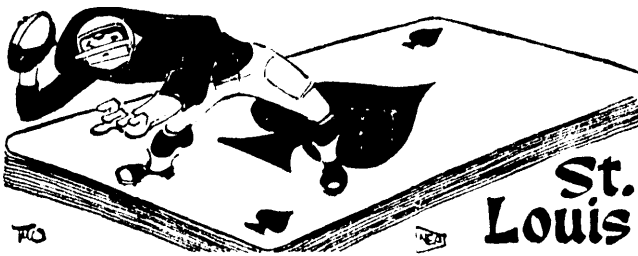

Shirley Jean Craddock vs. Edward Eugene Craddock, desertion.

Sharon Lee Brannan vs. Loyal Weston Brannan, desertion.

Pro Charts

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

Offense
RECEIVERS — Fine balance, with Bobby Joe Conrad for the sure catch as a flanker. Sonny Randle returning 100 per cent as the premier deep threat and either Jackie Smith or Taz Anderson for the heavy duty stuff at tight end. Cards added a plus with Billy Gambrell as Randle's replacement last half of '64 and rookie Ray Ogden. RATING — very good.

DEFENSIVE LINE — I'll line up same way with Don Brumm, Joe Robb on flanks, Luke Owens, Sam Silas inside. Brumm is the strong man on the pass rush. Owens fortifies the middle. Silas still has tendency to get trapped but he's eager. This is one department where a rookie has a chance to get a strong play. RATING — fair-to-good.

LINEBACKERS — If they can avoid injury, Cards have admirable combo of skill and experience. Dale Meinert's flanker by Bill Koman and Larry Stallings. Greatest virtue is that they make no mental errors. Cards hope for depth from rookie Dave Simmons. The corner of the corps is Stallings on strong side. RATING — good.

QUARTERBACKS — It's all up to Charley Johnson. The young chemist (studying for Ph. D.) is a prolific thrower but must conquer tendency to keep ball too long — leads to interceptions. There's still no adequate replacement if any. Stovall as the strong man and thing happens to him. RATING — good.

RUNNING BACKS — Big plus is the return of Bill Triplett after bout with T.B. He supplies the outside threat. The muscle comes from steady Joe McClure, burly Willis Crenshaw and Bill Thornton. Look for Thornton to come on strong. There's also Prentice Gault if Triplett has any trouble regaining form. RATING — good.

Summary — Cardinals have the best balanced team in the Eastern Division. There's no obvious weakness. They only have to prove they have winning poise, and that lays burden strictly on quarterback Charley Johnson. PREDICTION — First place.

Maury Wills Not Spoiled By Success

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

hasn't spoiled Maury Wills. Nor has it made him less contempla-

before a game and you can almost sense the mental determination building up.

"I plan and scheme what I'm going to do," explained the Los

brained captain who has been stealing bases this season at a pace almost impossible to comprehend.

"Sometimes I plan to steal

every time I get on base. Or bunt four times in one game.

I've done both. I'm not a power hitter so I've got to try to irritate the pitcher the best way I can.

"When they start throwing at me or make countless efforts to pick me off, that's when I know

I've succeeded."

From a vantage point in the dugout, Wills studies the pitchers' every move.

"Even before I get on base,"

he said, "I've decided whether

I'm going to steal. 'In the dugout and on deck, I watch every move the pitcher makes — and

Catalogs Pitchers

"I catalog every pitcher. I'm constantly on the lookout for a

give-away sign. A dip of the head, a twist of the shoulder, a turn of the body, all these things

mean something to me.

"Most of the things a pitcher

does on the mound, he does unconsciously. That's why I can rely on him to do those things all the time. My job is to find out what they are."

This constant battle of wits takes a lot out of the slightly built speedster, who doesn't rely on brute strength and flashing speed the way Ty Cobb did.

Cobb weighed over 200. Wills weighs 170.

"I start the season about 174 or 176 but I can't hold it," said Maury. "I purposely add the weight for my own protection.

Sometimes it's necessary to barrel into a baseman."

Wills stands today as the only player of modern times to pass the 100 mark in stealing bases.

Cobb set the modern major league record of 96 with the Detroit Tigers in 1915. Then along came Wills to steal 104 in a 192-game season in 1962. His 72 stolen bases through games of Sunday, Aug. 1, have put him well ahead of the 1962 pace.

But he's the finest offensive lineup in the American League and has been almost from the day he signed a contract with the Chargers in his first year of existence, because he has a detached dedication to the physical aspects of football that subverts his intellectual bent.

"I've thrown a couple of punches in the heat of action," he admitted, "but I don't really remember them. They were more or less reaction."

"I never stop to think about football until I'm asked about

Successful Auction Ends Morgan Fair; Cleanup Started

A highly successful auction of championship 4-H livestock brought the curtain down on the 1965 Morgan County Junior Progress Fair.

Generally, prices throughout the auction were well above market quotation and the top steer sold higher than in several previous years. There were no complaints from swine and sheep owners when the checks were made available.

The top sheep was purchased by Dr. and Mrs. Dean Gross on their bid of one dollar a pound; the top hog was purchased by Alvin "Pete" Lovekamp on behalf of Faultless Grain Company of Springfield at $1.25 per pound; and the top steer was sold to Jack Kurtz, owner of Howard Johnson's Restaurant on his bid of 84 cents a pound for the 905 pound animal.

All proceeds from the sale go directly to the owners. There are no commission fees from the fair association nor the auctioneers who donated their services.

Auctioneers who were on hand Saturday were Carman

Local Firm Gets Bridge Repair Job At Quincy

The Caldwell Engineering Company of Jacksonville was awarded a contract in the amount of $169,286 for repair of the roadway, sidewalks and curbs of a 3,500 foot bridge over the Mississippi River at Quincy.

The bridge is about 75 feet above the low water mark at the center span which is 1,256 feet wide.

Don Caldwell, president of the firm, said the work includes complete resurfacing of the 20-foot roadway which will be completed under traffic conditions on U.S. Route 24.

Caldwell said one-way traffic would be maintained at all times and that construction would begin within three weeks as soon as all safety equipment could be moved to the job site and installed.

Estimated time of completion is one year.

Magistrate Court Fines For Week

Magistrate Richard Doyle handled several cases involving traffic offenses last week and assessed fines and court costs after the defendants entered pleas of guilty to the charges.

ONE HOSPITALIZED: One person was hospitalized and another ticketed for reckless driving following an accident in which this car received heavy damage at 9 p.m. Saturday. Jesse Turner, Mound Road, a passenger in the vehicle driven by Donald E. Murphy of Route 1, Alexander, was admitted to Passavant Hospital with head lacerations.

Murphy stated he lost control of his car as he was going west on West College and turned on Fairview Terrace in front of 1500 West College. The car missed the curve and struck a tree in front of 1503 West College, skidding 70 yards before hitting the tree.

Murphy was ticketed for reckless driving and released on $100 bond.

Scott Asks Bids On $500 Million In Bank Deposits

State Treasurer William J. Scott called last week for new bids on $500 million of State funds deposited in 850 banks throughout Illinois.

Scott estimated that new interest rates from the bids will increase the earnings of his office by at least another $2 million a year. Since taking office in January, 1963, Scott has made Illinois taxpayers over $50 million through investments of State funds.

Last month's earnings of $1,718,994 broke all records for the month of July, the previous high being Scott's own record of $1,589,549, in July, 1963.

The bid requests were sent to every bank in the State, and offered funds subject to 120-day, six-month, and one-year notices of withdrawal. Scott stated that no bids will be accepted on the 120-day funds for less than 3-1/4 per cent, which compares to a current rate of 2-3/4 per cent for the short-term funds. The one-year deposits should bring between 4.0 and 4-1/4 per cent, Scott said.

Scott recently negotiated a contract with four major Chicago banks, the Continental Illinois, Harris Trust, American National, and LaSalle National, which would guarantee the Illinois Toll Highway Commission a 4-1/4 per cent rate on their bank deposits for the next eight years.

Chairman Donald Bonniwell of the Illinois Toll Highway Commission worked with Scott on the contract, which is considered the most favorable for any state agency in the United States.

VITAL STATISTICS PRICES INCREASE

Any applicant for a birth or death certificate must now submit $2 for the initial search fee, according to legislation passed by the 74th General Assembly and signed into law by Gov. Otto Kerner August 2. Formerly the search fee was $1.

This fee also entitles the applicant to one copy of the certificate if the record is found. Additional copies may be had for $1 each.

Applications may be directed to the county clerk, local registrar or the Bureau of Statistics, Illinois Department of Public Health.

JOURNAL COURIER PRIZE WINNERS

The final winner of an AM-FM radio presented by the Journal Courier Company to a visitor at the merchants' building is Paul E. Mallicoat of Route 1, Jacksonville.

Mr. Mallicoat registered at the Journal Courier booth and may receive his radio by calling at the Journal Courier office at 235 West State.

The drawing was made by Monica Lamma, daughter of Mrs. Betty J. Lamma, 1106 West State.

Engineers Seek Bids For Levee On Lost Creek

BEARDSTOWN — The U.S. Army Engineers, Chicago District office, is advertising for bids for an Illinois Waterway Control project involving the Lost Creek Levee at Beardstown.

The work consists of approximately 6,500 L.F. of levee improvements including about 700 cubic yards of levee embankment, 3,200 cubic yards of stripping, 18 acres of seeding together with minor reinforced concrete work, dumped riprap and other related site improvements.

The bids are scheduled to be opened about August 31 and 120 calendar days will be allowed for the work.

Bids under this invitation are solicited from small business concerns only, and the project will be awarded to only a small business concern, according to the engineer's announcement.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market eked out another gain last week, its second straight, despite some nervousness over the international situation and the rising price of gold in Britain.

The daily gains on average were at times barely worth recording but by week's end there was no doubt whatsoever that stocks were rising on balance in the past five trading days.

The Dow Jones industrial average ended the week with a net gain of a mere .77 at 822.51.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 2.3 to 328.6.

Gainers outnumbered losers by 899 to 455 among the 1,531 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

The week's volume was 22,817,990 shares compared with 22,713,520 shares the week before.

Some concern existed in Wall Street over the Sept. 1 deadline for a steel strike and analysts were generally cautious about the immediate future for the market as a whole.

General Motors disappointed the street by declaring only the usual 75-cent payout. Some Wall Streeters had looked for a stock split or a special, fatter dividends payments.

A rise in new factory orders was an encouraging economic back drop for the market.

Airlines staged a rally of their own on the basis of booming July traffic figures.

The market had its only setback of the week on Thursday. Financial circles were concerned by the rise of 1½ cents in the price of gold in London bullion.

Another belligerent statement from Moscow gave traders some hesitation on Friday but this was soon overcome.

International developments depressed prices of most bonds. The key development was a report by the British Treasury showing a $114 million decline in that nation's reserves during July. The report pushed the price of gold to a four-year high Friday of $35.19 a troy ounce on the London exchange.

Prices of high quality corporate bonds declined on the New York Stock Exchange volume totaled a par value of $50.98 million.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP)—The butcher or hog market showed little day-to-day change last week and closed steady to 25 cents a hundredweight higher for a supply only slightly above the previous week's small run.

The week's top went to $25.35 on Wednesday. It compared with $25.25 a week ago and $17.75 a year ago. The average cost of all butcher grades was estimated at $24.60, up 21 cents from the previous week. A year ago it was $16.89.

The supply of cattle increased about 12 per cent last week and became a weakening factor in the trade most of the week. However, slaughter steers closed steady to mostly 25 cents higher after a rather broad advance in Friday's trade.

The average cost for the week was little changed at $26.60 but it was $2.40 better than a year ago.

The market for spring slaughter lambs was steady to 50 cents lower.

CHICAGO (AP)—The butcher hog market showed little day to day change this week and closed steady to 25 cents a hundredweight higher for a supply only slightly above last week's small run.

The week's top went to $25.35 on Wednesday. It compared with $25.25 last week and $17.75 a year ago. The average cost of all butcher grades was estimated at $24.60, up 21 cents from the previous week. A year ago it was $16.89.

The supply of cattle increased about 12 per cent this week and became a weakening factor in the trade during most of the period. However, slaughter steers closed steady to mostly 25 cents higher after a rather broad advance in Friday's trade.

The average cost for the week was little changed at $26.60 but it was $2.40 better than a year ago.

WINCHESTER — The Scott County 4-H Junior Agricultural Fair will open Monday evening at the local fairgrounds.

Swine carcass entries must be in place at 7 p.m. Live judging will begin at 8 p.m.

On Tuesday, floral, culinary, and garden exhibits will be judged at 9 a.m., followed by the judging of poultry, rabbits, fine arts and textiles, and hobby and handicraft exhibits.

The swine breeding class entries will be evaluated at 9 a.m. Barrow judging will begin at 2 p.m.

Wednesday's activities include the judging of sheep at 9 a.m.; dairy entries at 10 a.m.; and horse entries at 1:30 p.m. The evening's entertainment, at 8 p.m., will feature local performers and Share the Fun skits.

On Thursday, beef judging is scheduled at 8 a.m. and livestock auction will be held at 1 p.m.

Scott County young people will compete for $4,000.75 in premiums along with a large number of ribbons and trophies being offered this year.

Serving as judges in various 1965 fair departments will be: Robert Layne, Calhoun County farm adviser and David Hembrough, assistant farm adviser in Greene County, who will judge garden, poultry, rabbit, crop, hobby and handicraft entries. Mrs. Ruth Brock, Cass County home adviser, and Mrs. Harry Merriman of Jacksonville will preside in the floral, culinary, fine arts and textiles departments. Robert Lama will judge the horses and entries in the swine, beef, sheep and dairy departments will be evaluated by Marvin Beechner of Farmersville. A panel of local swine producers will judge the swine carcass entries.

City Council Meets

The Winchester City Council Wednesday evening authorized the transfer of the balance of the water works construction fund to the waterworks reserve fund to close the account. Construction is reported complete.

An open house is planned at the waterworks in the near future. Denton Conrod is chairman for the event.

Wed In South

Mrs. Alceda Claywell and Alvie Drake, both of Winchester, were married July 30 at Humboldt, Tenn.

Reverend William James performed the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Galas, who attended the couple.

The bride was attired in a light blue three-piece suit with white accessories. Mrs. Galas wore a light blue street length dress with white accessories.

The newly-weds are making their home on Hardin Street in Winchester.

To Vote On Taxes

Residents of Road Districts 1 and 2 in Scott County will vote Tuesday on the continuation of road taxes.

In Road District 1 the election will be held at Hart's School. The District 2 polling place is the Claude Day residence. Polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Mrs. Larry Albert Rentschler

Miss Webster, Lincoln Man Repeat Vows

An impressive ceremony Sunday afternoon, August first at the Centenary Methodist Church united in marriage Miss Alma Kay Webster and Larry Albert Rentschler, Candelabra, ferns and baskets of yellow and white gladioli and mums adorned the altar. Reverend David Ericson officiated. Miss Patricia Bradshaw, soloist, was accompanied at the organ by Gordon Wolgast.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Webster of 1328 South Clay avenue are parents of the bride. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Burnell Rentschler of Lincoln.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of taffeta and lace with train. Her veil of illusion fashioned with a crown of pearls was elbow length and she carried a cascade of yellow and white carnations.

Miss Janet Loyd of Alexander, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Davis, and Miss Corrine Spencer, Nancy Norfleet, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. All the attendants wore street length dresses of yellow satin and lace with matching headpieces and colonial bouquets of yellow and white carnations. Nancy Norfleet's dress was of yellow satin and lace with headpiece identical to the bridesmaids. She carried a basket of yellow rose petals and wore a wrist corsage of yellow flowers.

The bride's mother wore pink lace with white accessories and bridegroom's mother wore beige with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Assisting at the reception held in the church parlor were Mrs. Hubert Norfleet and Mrs. Kenneth Loyd, aunts of the bride, Mrs. Eugene Byers, Mrs. Richard Bourn, Miss Sharon Lawless, Miss Donna Wood, Miss Bonnie Clupper, Miss Jan Rentschler and Miss Gail Rentschler, the bridegroom's sister. The bride, who until her marriage was employed as secretary at Elliott State Bank, was graduated from Jacksonville High school. Mr. Rentschler, graduate of the same high school, is employed at Cutler Hammer in Lincoln.

Guests from out-of-town were Elmhurst, Mt. Pulaski, Peoria, Lincoln, Springfield, Alton, Carlinville, Shipman, Franklin, Alexander and Virginia.

Combine chilled pineapple juice and cranberry juice cocktail for a delicious cold beverage to serve to unexpected guests. If the cans aren't on hand in the refrigerator, just take them from the pantry shelf and give them a quick chilling by adding ice cubes and stirring vigorously. Remove the ice before it dilutes the drink too much.

Ever add grated orange along with butter when you are seasoning freshly cooked beets?

Lt. and Mrs. Howard S. Chesley

Judith Hack Of Pike Bride Of Lt. Chesley

Miss Judith Hack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hack of Pittsfield rural route one, became the bride of Lt. (j.g.) Howard S. Chesley in a candlelight ceremony at the Marble Collegiate Church in New York City on June eleventh. The Reverend Allister Haig officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by Edward Schwarzer, wore a floor length empire waist gown of peau-de-soie and Chantilly lace designed and made by her mother. Her finger tip veil fell from a pillbox hat and she carried a bouquet of white roses and orchids.

Miss Lois Jeffrey of the Bronx, New York, was maid of honor, and Miss Anita Boras of New York City, was bridesmaid. Both wore identical floor length gowns of mint silk shantung, with matching pillbox hat and bouquets of pink rosebuds and carnations.

Lt. (j.g.) Jacques Richey was bestman. Lt. (j.g.) David Pearson and Lt. James Champin were ushers.

A navy blue silk shantung suit was worn by the bride's mother. The bridegroom's mother wore a turquoise and white dress with white accessories.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the New York room of the commissioned officers' mess, New York Naval shipyard, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Mrs. Chesley graduated from East Pike High school and Personnel Training Institute, Omaha, and is presently employed with the Mutual of New York. Lt. Chesley is a graduate of Marquette University, Milwaukee, and is serving as Aide to the Commandant, Third Naval District, New York, N.Y.

The newlyweds are at home in Brooklyn after returning from wedding trip to Indian Lake, N.Y.

Add barbecue-type seasonings to condensed tomato soup and heat; add frankfurters (whole or cut in chunks) and reheat. Serve, if you like, on halved toasted buttered frankfurters.

Barbara Harp, La Grange Man Wed In Greene

WHITE HALL — White spider lilies and roses with greenery were used at the candlelight altar of the Calvary Baptist church for the mid-afternoon wedding Saturday, July thirty-first, of Miss Barbara Sue Harp and James Richard O'Keane.

The Reverend Ray Emerson officiated. Miss Bonnie Sparks of Wood River, formerly of White Hall, was at the organ and Miss Kay Gardner of Kennett, Missouri, a sorority sister of the bride, sang.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harp of White Hall and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Velma O'Keane of Lockport and the late Howard O'Keane.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Terry Tennill of Roodhouse, was matron of honor. Mrs. Edward Baker, White Hall, former classmate of the bride, Miss Ann Bredden, Bolivar, Tennessee, and Miss Betty Bridgewater, Brownsville, Tennessee, both sorority sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Donald O'Keane of Topeka, Kansas served as his brother's best man. Ernest Ornellas, White Hall, cousin of the bride; Gary Moser, Union City, Tennessee, fraternity brother of the bridegroom and Bayard Watkins, Lockport, brother-in-law of the bridegroom were groomsmen.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal wedding gown of white peau de soie and Chantilly lace with chapel train. Her illusion veil fell from a crown of lace, crystals and pearls, and she carried a single long-stemmed white rose.

Her attendants wore floor length gowns of mint green satin with satin cabbage rose headpieces with rose veils. Each girl carried a single long-stemmed white rose.

Ushers for the ceremony were Larry Brogdon and James McCurley of White Hall.

Suellen Tennill, niece of the bride, was flower girl and Marc Alan Tennill, her brother, was ring bearer. Suellen wore a floor length dress made similar to those worn by the attendants.

The mother of the bride wore navy blue sheer with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother chose a beige costume with matching accessories. Both mothers wore shoulder corsages of white roses.

At the reception held in the parlors of the White Hall Methodist church the following friends and relatives assisted: Mrs. Pauline Fox, Mrs. JoAnn Ward, Miss Linda Savage, Miss Brenda Dawdy, Mrs. Kathryn Blake, Miss Theresa Ornellas, Mrs. Ernest Ornellas, Martha Littleton and Mrs. Dean Wellhausen.

The newlyweds will make their home in LaGrange, Illinois after a brief wedding trip.

Mrs. O'Keane, a graduate of White Hall High School, attended Southwest Baptist College and received her degree from the Union University at Jackson, Tenn. She was a member of the National Honor Society and Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. She will teach in the LaGrange elementary school this fall.

Mr. O'Keane was graduated from Caruthersville High School, Caruthersville, Missouri and attended Union University where he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He is employed at LaGrange.

The rehearsal dinner served the Friday evening before the ceremony was hosted by the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Tennill in their home at Roodhouse.

Guests attended from the immediate area and Springfield, Carbondale, Alton, Palmyra, Salem, Carrollton, Pana, Jacksonville, Hillview and from the states of Kansas, Missouri, Tennessee, Iowa and California.

Marcia Colton, Phillip Howe Jr. July Newlyweds

Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday afternoon, July thirty-first at the First Presbyterian Church by Miss Marcia Gayle Colton and Phillip Trusler Howe, Jr. The Reverend Dale Robb performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with palms. Mrs. Janice Angel was organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Colton of Naperville. Mr. and Mrs. Trusler R. Howe, Jr. of 1835 Mound Road are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of lace over taffeta. Her shoulder length veil fell from a pillbox hat and she carried a cascade of white carnations and ivy.

Mrs. Batty, the bride's attendant, wore a deep pink chiffon dress and carried a colonial bouquet of deep pink and white carnations. David Batty was best man.

The bride's mother wore an arnel and linen knit with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother chose a pink chiffon dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Dunlap Motor Inn. Assisting were Karen Schremp and Lois Howe. The bridegroom's parents hosted a dinner party at the Blackhawk restaurant on Friday evening before the wedding.

The new Mrs. Howe is a graduate of Naperville High school and attended Western Illinois University. Mr. Howe, a graduate of Jacksonville High school, also attended Western Illinois University and is presently employed at Howe Electric company in Jacksonville.

After a wedding trip to the Ozarks, the newlyweds will be at home in Jacksonville.

To Be Bride

Kathleen Ann Romang

Mr. and Mrs. John Romang of Waverly announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Ann, to Don C. English, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Don English of Murrayville.

Miss Romang is a graduate of Routh High School and will graduate from Illinois College in January. She is a member of Gamma Delta Literary Society and the Hilltop Players. Her fiancé was graduated from the same high school and attended Illinois College before enlisting in the Army last October. He has just completed training as surgical technician and is stationed at Brooke Hospital, Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio, Texas.

An August wedding is planned.

The Rev. John Lydon performed the double ring ceremony Saturday afternoon, May 29 before an altar adorned with white gladioli, tangerine carnations and greenery.

Mr. Latimer escorted his daughter to the altar. The bride wore a gown of silk organza and Chantilly lace with detachable train. Her queen's crown of pearls and sequins held secure her shoulder length veil and she carried a cascade of white gladioli intertwined with ivy.

Mrs. William Latimer, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Other bridal attendants were Miss Barbara Burns and the bride's sisters, Mrs. Douglas Courtney and Mrs. Leroy Cartwright. The attendants were gowned alike in yellow peau de soie with matching headpieces and they carried cascades of tangerine carnations.

The bridegroom's twin brothers, Lawrence and Gerald, were best man and usher respectively. Leroy Cartwright and the bride's twin brother, Ronald, were also ushers.

Mrs. Latimer chose for her daughter's wedding a silver and black silk crepe with matching

Mays Blasts Pair As Cards Fall, 10-4

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Willie Mays boomed his 28th and 29th home runs of the season Saturday, each with a man on base, breaking open a close game and boosting his San Francisco Giants to a 10-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Dodgers Nip Reds 5-3 On 4 In First

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four consecutive walks by Cincinnati's Sammy Ellis plus Don LeJohn's two-run single highlighted a four-run first inning that triggered the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers to a 5-3 triumph over the Reds Saturday night.

Maurie Wills started the game with an infield single but was out trying to steal second. Ellis, seeking his 15th victory, then walked Wes Parker, Jim Lefebvre, Ron Rairly and Lou Johnson for one run. LeJohn singled to center field, driving in Lefebvre and Fairly. Ted Davidson replaced Ellis and struck out Willie Davis before John Roseboro singled in Johnson with what turned out to be the deciding run.

Howie Reed, making only his second start of the season, stopped the Reds on six hits through seven innings. Ron Peranoski finished up.

Lema Recovers To Grab Front In Golf Classic

WHITEMARSH, Pa. (AP) — Champagne Tony Lema, recovered from an aching back and dosed with pills for an ailing shoulder, shot a five-under-par 67 Saturday and grabbed a one-stroke lead after 54 holes in the $125,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

The 31-year-old Lema emerged the leader with a 207-nine under par—after three rounds of the 72 hole competition in a see-saw battle with the veteran Doug Sanders, Masters Champion Jack Nicklaus, and rookie Dick Sikes.

Sanders, who by his own admission was weary of even qualifying until he caught fire on the back nine Friday, scored a 35-32—67 for a total of 208, and a tie with Sikes, leader of the first two rounds.

Sikes, a pro only 14 months and a former NCAA champion, slipped to a 73.

Nicklaus, the big, blond Masters champion, had a 35 going out but fell apart on the homecoming nine, finishing with a 73 and 209, putting him alone in fourth place. Randy Glover of Florence, S.C., and Joe Campbell each had a 210. Seven others, including U.S. Open champion Gary Player, were grouped at 212.

Farrell Blanks Milwaukee, 4-0 For 8th Victory

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Houston Astros backed up Dick Farrell's shutout pitching with a 12-hit attack, including a home run by Bob Aspromonte, and romped to a 4-0 victory over Milwaukee Saturday.

Farrell, who limited Milwaukee to five hits, allowed only one Brave to reach third as he posted his eighth victory of the season and his third shutout. He struck out five and did not issue a walk.

City Power Ends Season Here Today

Jacksonville City Power closes out its Little Eight League schedule today, entertaining Florence in a twinbill at Nichols Park.

City Power, out of the running for one of the two spots in the league and a tournament bid, faces a team that is tied with Taylorville for second spot in the Little Eight.

The locals had their best day of the season here last Sunday, taking a pair of games from Springfield, 1-0 and 3-2, while Florence split with league-leading Riverton at their home park. The loss by Riverton was their only one in league play thus far.

With the twin triumph last week City Power has a 4-9 league record, 5-9 overall. Florence packs an 8-5 mark into the final week of the season.

Starters for Jacksonville will be Fred Curtis, who threw a four-hitter and struck out 12 last week, and Gordon Elmore, who allowed just three singles in a 3-2 edge over Springfield last time out.

Probable starters for Florence will be Jim O'Donnell and Keith Schumann.

White Sox Rally For 4-3 Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox, helped along by Max Alvis' tangle-foot act, rallied for two runs in the bottom of the 10th inning Saturday and edged the Cleveland Indians 4-3.

The Sox, who had to rally from a 2-0 deficit to send it into overtime, trailed 3-2 going into their half of the 10th, and had one out when Alvis had his trouble.

With pinch runner Al Weis on first, J. C. Martin popped down the third base line. But Alvis tripped over the bag, the ball dropped safely and runners were on first and second.

Don Buford and Floyd Robinson followed with consecutive singles, scoring the tying and winning runs.

Williams' 5 RBI Spark 7-1 Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Williams drove in five runs with a double and his 18th homer, pacing the Chicago Cubs to a 7-1 victory over the New York Mets Saturday.

The loss was the sixth straight for the last-place Mets.

Williams' two-run double capped a four-run Chicago burst in the fifth inning after successive errors by losing pitcher Galen Cisco and first baseman Ed Kranepool opened the gates.

Billy Hoelt pitched the final five innings and picked up his first victory of the season. 000 040 300—7 3 1

Trio Shares Lead In City Golf Play

By SANDY PETERSEN

Defending champion Howard Curtis, Roy Cooper, and Steve Bockemeier each fired three over par 69's at Nichols Park Saturday afternoon, to share the first-round lead in the Jacksonville City Golf Championship.

Jim Cisne carded a 70, one stroke off the pace, while Mickey Little and Dale Gibbs recorded 71's to go two strokes back.

Cooper fired the best round of the day with a one-under-par 32 in his front nine effort, but fell to even par after the 10th. A representative of the country club, Cooper bogied the 12th, 13th and 17th on the back side to finish at three over for the day.

Cooper had a chance to go ahead in the 72 hole tourney, but missed a three foot side-hill birdie putt on the 18th. Curtis, winner of last month's Nichols Park Open, for the second consecutive year, claimed consistent rounds of 34 and 35 in the first round action. Starting the back-nine at one over par, Curtis gained a par on the 10th, but went three over with bogies on both the 11th and 12th.

The defending champion played even par on the remaining six holes to continue his three-over pace. Curtis also missed a chance to take the lead on the 18th, but likewise missed a tricky three footer. Bockemeier, the youngest player in the tournament, appeared to have everything under control until rain halted action on the 15th. Bockemeier recorded an even par 33 on the front nine, and remained even through the 14th hole.

Gibbs knocked in the only eagle of the day, a 15 foot putt

HOPEFUL GAZE: Mickey Little keeps a hopeful watch on his ball as it soars over the water in front of the third green. Little carded a 37-34—71 first round and is two off the pace going into Sunday's action.

Reniff And Ford Preserve Slim Win Over Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Relievers Hal Reniff and Whitey Ford combined to pitch out of a two-on, none-out jam in the ninth inning, saving a 6-5 victory for the New York Yankees over Detroit Saturday night.

Reniff came on after the Tigers had scored two runs in the ninth and had Don Demeter at third and Jake Wood at first. He struck out Bill Freehan and got pinch hitter John Sullivan on a short fly to left field but then walked Don Wert loading the bases.

Manager Johnny Keane then called on Ford for his first relief appearance of the season, and the veteran left-hander got the left-hand hitting Jerry Lunte to hit into a force play at second.

Mel Stottlemyre, who brought his record to 13-6, allowed the Tigers only three hits, including Lunte's two-run homer in the eighth, until the ninth.

Landis' Homer Leads Athletics Past Orioles 7-4

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jim Landis cracked a three-run homer in the seventh inning, capping a six-run rally that carried Kansas City to a 7-4 victory over Baltimore Saturday night.

The loss dropped the second-place Orioles 7½ games behind American League-leading Minnesota, giving the Twins their biggest lead of the season.

Trailing 2-1, the Athletics got started in the seventh with a leadoff walk to Dick Green. Singles by Ed Charles, Tom Reynolds, Rene Lachemann and Jose Tartabull brought in three runs. Then Landis, who drove in a run with a sacrifice fly in the first, unloaded his homer off reliever Dick Hall.

Grid Cardinals' Defense Praised

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — The offense scored four touchdowns and a field goal but the defense got most of the praise Saturday as the St. Louis football Cardinals wound up their heavy scrimmage work of the training season.

Quarterback Charlie Johnson threw two scoring passes, one to Jackie Smith and another to Sonny Randle. Quarterback Buddy Humphrey connected with Billy Gambrell for one more and Bob Paremore ran for the fourth. Jim Bakken booted a 37-yard field goal.

Six Spectacular Days Of Harness Racing At Fair

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Six spectacular days of harness racing drawing the nation's attention to Illinois will begin this Friday (Aug. 13) and continue through next Thursday (Aug. 19) here at the State Fair.

A significant change in the policy of recent years has been the move to a Friday opening instead of the usual Saturday inaugural. There will be no Sunday racing.

Illinois best two and three year old trotters and pacers will compete for total purses worth $175,000 Monday, August 16 in the famed Illinois State Fair Colt Stakes. This is the richest single day in harness racing anywhere. Upwards of $400,000 in purses will be awarded during the meeting.

The nation's top two and three year olds led by trotter Noble Victory, the Hambleton favorite, and pacer Bret Hanover, possessor of the longest winning streak in harness racing (33 through July 30) will appear in their respective divisions of the Review Futurity on Wednesday, August 18.

Franklin H. Rust, State Fair Manager, and Hube Elliott, Superintendent of Speed, reviewing the calibre of horses for the Fair agree that "this year people will see the finest horses since the Stakes were introduced in 1952." Elliott further points out that "the track is wonderful and we have a strong chance of setting a record for the most 2:00 miles here."

Trotter Joe Brooke, winner of 16 races last year including the $43,050 two year old division of the Colt Stakes, and pacer Lan Dow, winner of four races including the $47,950 Colt Stake, both will start in three year old company this year. Les Redshaw will handle Joe Brooke and Bob Williams, Lan Dow.

Promising two year olds in the Colt Stakes include Tom Graham's Little Pistol in the trot and Del Insko's Jimmy's Pilot in the pace. Both were winners in the $5,000 Johnston Cup at Sportsman's Park in Chicago.

Frank Ervin, who'll race Bret Hanover in the Review Futurity, is bringing 12 horses here. Stanley Dancer, Noble Victory's pilot, will have four. Other top drivers who'll be here include Johnny Simpson, Joe O'Brien, Del Insko, Lou Rapone, D. E. Miller, Ralph Baldwin, John Patterson, Charley King, Jim Dennis, Don Busse, Gene Riegler, Bob Farrington and Benny Schue.

Outstanding Boy Athlete — Curt Anders of Moline.

Every golf tournament has a hard luck stories, and Saturday's first round action was no exception. Lee, a sophomore at the University of Houston from Waverly, was in strong contention after firing an even par round of 33 on the front-nine, but then the roof fell in.

Lee bogied the 10th, then parred the 11th and 12th. Disaster then struck the young linkster, topped off with a five-over-par nine in the 14th. Lee salvaged a 47 on the back-nine, but fell well back into the field with his 18 hole total of 80.

20 Records Fall During Illinois Sports Jamboree

Law Is Mortar For Building

Mere absence of war is not enough. Before real peace can come to the world, a truly international and truly workable system of law must somehow be hammered out of the diverse legal and political systems, cultures, religions, fears and suspicions, needs and desires of the nations of the world.

What may one day be viewed as a significant milestone on the road to this goal is the second international conference on World Peace Through Law, to be held in Washington Sept. 13-18. More than 2,000 judges, lawyers, law professors and students will attend to exchange ideas and problems at its sessions.

President Johnson has designated the opening day of the conference as World Law Day and lawyers in every community are being asked to stage some special program in observance.

Driving force behind the conference is Charles S. Rhyne, former president of the American Bar Association, who organized the first world conference held in Athens in 1963. Out of this meeting sprang the World Peace Through Law Center, which Rhyne heads and which is presently headquartered in Washington. It is supported by dues from member lawyers around the world.

Purpose of the 1965 Washington conference is twofold:

First, to examine the thousands of existing international treaties and precedents and to draw up new treaties and laws in a host of actual and potential areas of friction and dispute; second, to lay the groundwork for a system of world regional courts to handle cases not important enough to go to the International Court of Justice in The Hague.

Lawyers, who will attend the conference as individuals and not as official representatives of their countries, will go home to drum up support for their proposals.

While Rhyne points to "the shocking inadequacies of existing international law and legal institutions," he nevertheless feels that "ours is becoming the golden age of the law"—one that will be fashioned by and shared by all nations and all peoples.

He has to be right. There is no other rational way.

Bitter Pill For Medical Men

American doctors may learn to swallow Medicare and like it, but a lot of them in Ohio are having disturbing after-effects from another kind of prescription that has been dispensed from Washington.

The Ohio State Medical Association is slamming a directive from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare requiring doctors to sign a pledge that they will comply with the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and not practice discrimination among welfare patients.

Such a requirement, complains the association, is making "second-class citizens" of Ohio physicians, about 4,900 of whom have signed the oath and are now having second thoughts.

Caught in the middle is the Ohio Department of Public Welfare, which must apply the regulation to the doctors working with it in order to qualify for government monies. A proposal by the department that doctors be permitted to make an oral promise to abide by the law was turned down by HIEW.

It all amounts to another example of government distrust of its citizens—or selected groups of citizens. It smacks of the loyalty oaths students must sign to receive federal loans, something that has long aroused the ire of liberals.

In the matter of the doctors, anyway, it would seem that another oath—the ancient Oath of Hippocrates—ought to take precedent and cover any situation that might arise under the Civil Rights Act.

The self-imposed ethics of the medical profession apparently carry little weight with the bureaucrats, however.

Our Modern Arms Alone Can't Win Guerrilla War

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There's an old frontier story about a famous Indian medicine man. When a white scout with an incurable sore on his hip asked the Indian if he could heal him, the red-skin doctor said yes. Whereupon he tied the white man to a tree, ordered a poker heated red hot in a campfire and thrust into the man's side. When the victim regained consciousness he weakly but angrily asked what the Indian thought he was doing.

"It's simple," said the medicine man. "I didn't know how to cure that sore. But I do know how to cure a burn. Now your sore is gone and you have a burn. I can handle that."

The question is whether the United States with a red hot poker (a massive influx of modern arms) can convert an old-fashioned guerrilla war (which we don't know how to fight) into a conventional conflict (at which we are adept).

History gives a mixed answer. The Japanese failed in China, the French in Indochina and Algeria. The United States succeeded in Greece and the British in Malaya. The Philippine government put down the Huk struggle. The U.S. Army defeated the American Indians.

There are critical points to note about each successful anti-guerrilla campaign.

Modern weapons were very useful. They were not the deciding factor. None of the anti-guerrilla wars, in fact, were won by directly defeating the guerrilla forces.

No war against guerrillas was won until five major objectives were achieved:

1. The guerrillas were cut off from their major foreign and domestic supplies of weapons, ammunition and food. The plains Indians were finally defeated—not in battle—but when the whites killed off the buffalo. The Greek guerrillas were defeated when the borders were sealed. The Malayan guerrillas were controlled when the non-Communist farmers and their food supplies were sealed off from the underground fighters.
2. Some successful program was initiated to give the guerrilla a chance to surrender and live with his family and children in a better world than he was living in as a guerrilla. In the Philippines, the Huk were offered farming land. The Indians were given reservations, however meager.
3. Some way was found to separate the guerrillas from the loyal or neutral country and city folk. The guerrillas were rooted out of the safe areas, not left to build underground as they did in Algeria, Indochina and China.
4. Some form of orderly government and police protection was offered in the hamlets, villages and cities to those who remained on the government anti-guerrilla side.
5. The ordinary people on the government side (and the neutrals) saw an opportunity for gradually bettering their lot.

The lesson of history would seem to indicate that modern weapons will not win the Vietnam war unless these five criteria are followed with strong determination.

U.N. Reds Face Wily

Opponent in Goldberg

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Justice Arthur Goldberg's publicly voiced reluctance at leaving the Supreme Court for the U.N. ambassadorship cannot hide the abundant evidence that he felt "walled up" in the high court's marble isolation.

President Johnson was fully aware of the justice's discomfort, and may also have known of his hankering to cavort a little on the international stage—among others.

White House sources say the President thought of Goldberg almost immediately as a possible replacement for the late Adlai Stevenson. Johnson's first talk with the justice came a day or so after Stevenson's death in London.

Other announced timetables notwithstanding, it is said the President had largely made up his mind the day before he took Goldberg with him to Stevenson's funeral in Illinois.

The President's contacts with Goldberg over the months have been fairly frequent, Goldberg was on the scene, offering a bit of advice, when Johnson was preparing his convention acceptance speech last August.

As the new U.N. Ambassador, Goldberg will have a handi-cap—a rather heavy-handed speaking style. But most who know him think he will nevertheless perform superbly at the United Nations because of his dazzling talents as a negotiator. He is described as a "dinker" who gets at the problem of the moment and builds a bridge which often prevents a long-range crisis from ever materializing.

One lawyer says with an admiring laugh: "I almost feel sorry for the Communists. He'll de-trouser them, and they'll stand there smiling, liking him."

This same man thinks Goldberg will have the "brass" to insinuate himself into decision-making more than Stevenson did and won't be hobbled by the 225-mile gap between Washington and New York. He adds: "He'll be the (airline) shuttle's most noted passenger."

"Well, I'm not entirely out of it. I am sure the President is going to ask my advice now on how we settle the Cuban conflict."

"I opened the envelope," it was a notice from the Office of Emergency Management, giving me my directions as to how I could be evacuated from Washington.

FINDING THE WAY

Listen and Understand

BY RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For years I've visited hospitals, calling on patients and counseling with people in need. The care and maintenance of these complicated institutions of healing has been intriguing. I enjoyed visiting; I could always leave. All of that changed a few days ago when I became the patient. It has been a new, unasked for, but meaningful experience.

The art of listening, which is important in the whole of life, is especially significant here. Doctors and nurses are suddenly interested in listening to the sounds of my body. "Breathe deeply! Cough!" They listen to heart, to lungs, to abdomen. Despite the pain and the temperature, I could rejoice with the doctor when he looked up to say, "Good stomach sounds!"

To listen is one thing; to understand is another. All of these body sounds are unintelligible to the layman. It's as though the body had a voice, spoke with an articulate and logical language which has been successfully decoded and interpreted by the scientist.

It's comforting to be listened to by the understanding. As the Arne Siirila has wisely commented, "In the encounter with illness the two participants (patient and physician) cannot remain in the position of simply responding to each other's fears among them, a new dimension and wishes. It is necessary to concentrate on listening to the language of illness as it appears in the human organism." They have to do more than listen to each other!

For me, this visit to the hospital is comparatively brief. The few weeks are soon lost in the continuing history of other experiences. These experiences, I am well aware now, will require the same quality of listening. For in our political, civic and racial illnesses we must do more than listen to one another. We must listen to the voice of the illness.

Jesus knew how to do this. A woman came to him asking for the healing of her body and he replied, "Thy sins be forgiven thee." She hadn't asked for that, but that was her real need.

We must listen to the voice of the illness. One who was known as a Physician and who understood the sounds that were deeper than words.

I've learned many things in these days in the hospital and, responding to each other's fears among them, a new dimension and wishes. It is necessary to

Breaks Pact To Quit Smoking

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: On New Year's eve my husband and I made a pact to quit smoking. Hank was a much heavier smoker than I was so I knew it would be more difficult for him to quit. Well, Ann, he hasn't touched a cigarette since the night we made the agreement, but I started three weeks ago when I found half a pack of cigarettes, which had been left by a guest.

Last night when Hank came home he saw a cigarette butt in the garbage pail. He asked me who had been smoking. I lied and said the plumber had come to fix the sink. He picked up the garbage pail and said, "Since when did the plumber start to wear lipstick?" I felt like a trapped rat.

Now Hank insists the only way I can square things is to quit smoking for good. I don't want to quit. (Perhaps I should be honest and say I don't think I CAN quit.) Furthermore, I resent his bossiness. Please give me your most broadminded, liberal opinion. —LYDIA

Dear Lydia: My most broadminded liberal opinion is that a woman who made a deal with her husband should keep it. You say you CAN'T quit. I say ANYBODY can quit if he makes up his mind. A person who is addicted to tobacco will find it very difficult, but not impossible.

because I am a high school student and have no money of my own.

The wedding invitations were sent out last week and I was sure my parents would receive one. They did not. The mother of the bride met my mother at a party yesterday and told her she was sorry they could not invite them to the wedding because the church was so small.

I am very upset. My folks want to see me in the wedding procession and I want them to be there. Who is wrong and what should be done? —OFFENDED

Dear Offended: The parents of the attendants should always be invited to the wedding—regardless of the size of the church. Tell the bride exactly how you feel. If your parents don't receive an invitation promptly your friend's family is guilty of atrocious taste.

Dear Ann Landers: This may sound like a very insignificant problem compared with some you get, but it really does annoy the heck out of me.

I married a wonderful gal who had been married before, but only for a few months. I won't go into the details, but the marriage was annulled. (Her first husband was a real nut.)

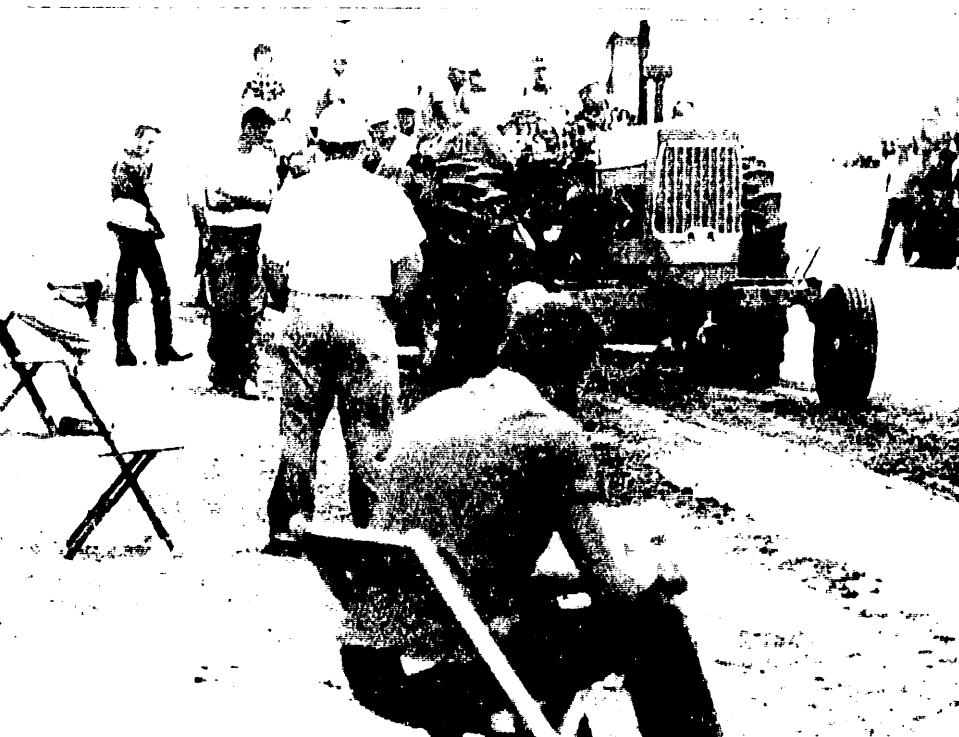

My wife had a beautiful trousseau of bedshets, pillow cases and towels. Everything was monogrammed at the bottom with the initials of the nut's last name. I hate to see this stuff around and I've told my wife how I feel. Her answer is as follows: "My folks spent a fortune on these things and I'm not going to throw them out."

DRIVER INJURED—Harvey L. Mueller, 51, of 1420 Passavant Drive is in fair condition at Passavant hospital where he was admitted as a patient shortly after 9 o'clock Friday evening. Mueller was alone in his auto, about two miles northwest of the city on the County Farm Road, when he apparently lost control of the vehicle on a curve. The auto skidded about 300 feet, sheared off a telephone pole and overturned after vaulting a 9-foot ditch. Mueller was rushed to the hospital by Lowe ambulance. State police said Mueller was thrown from the auto after it struck the telephone pole. Telephone service northwest of town was knocked out for several hours until repair crews restored the broken lines. The demolished auto was towed from the scene.

Rat—The Great Killer Can Be Exterminated

Why board rats when each one costs you $10 or more a year and gives nothing in return but disease problems and property damage?

Too many people do little about rats because they are misled into believing that they have few rats on their farms, according to University of Illinois extension poultry specialists S. F. Riden and Hugh S. Johnson. But a few visible rats mean that many more are on the premises.

For example, when one farmer sold his laying flock, he decided to get rid of the "one or two" rats in his henhouse. The score at the end of his extermination program was 1,800 dead rats.

Here is a way to estimate rat population: If you never see rats but see signs of them, there are from one to 100 on the premises. If you see rats occasionally at night, there are 100 to 500. Occasional daytime and numerous night sightings indicate 500 to 1,000. And there may be as many as 5,000 rats if you see many of them at night and several in the daytime.

A Deadly Animal

Rats are a threat to health, Riden and Johnson emphasize. It has been said that rat-borne diseases have killed more people than all the wars in history. They are known to transmit to men and animals more than 35 diseases, including plague, typhus fever, food poisoning, leptospirosis, tularemia, rat bite fever, atrophic rhinitis, infectious jaundice and distemper. They also carry 18 kinds of lice, fleas, ticks and mites.

Most large cities report that rats bite 150 or more persons each year.

Rats are also expensive freeloaders. One rat will eat about one-third as much feed as a laying hen and will contaminate 10 times as much feed as it eats. Rats damage buildings and chew insulation on electrical wires, causing fires. Insurance companies estimate that rats cause 25 percent of the fires of undetermined origin in this country. And it is estimated that they destroy 200 million bushels of grain a year.

They Breed And Breed

The total loss due to rats is believed to exceed one million dollars a year, a figure that does not seem too far-fetched when calculations indicate that the descendants of one pair of rats could exceed 350 million in three years.

There are two preventive practices that should be used on every farm, Riden and Johnson believe. One is to eliminate rat harborage, such as tall weeds or grass, piles of trash, lumber, fence posts and brush. Then follow with good day-to-day housekeeping.

A second practice is to make buildings and feed bins rat-proof. Close cracks, breaks and spaces around pipes, vents and other openings with concrete, hardware cloth or sheet metal. Screen all drains, sewers, vent-

lators openings and windows.

New Weapons

If rats increase, poison baits become the most effective control. Ready-to-use or concentrated anticoagulant baits will give good control with proper use. If you use the concentrate, mix it with food that is highly acceptable to rats, put out fresh bait regularly and use the treatment up to 15 days. A single dose is not lethal.

Some anticoagulants are being mixed with an antibacterial agent to prevent a natural buildup of vitamin K. Riden and Johnson note.

Grass Important In U.S. Economy, Says ASCS Head

Most of us take grass for granted, but we'd be in bad shape without it, Lester E. Martin, Chairman, Morgan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said last week.

"If we didn't have grass, we'd not only lose our topsoil—and with it the fertility of our fields—but we'd have no fish in our streams. The silt clogging streams from runoff would soon kill all life in the rivers, streams and farm ponds. For the same reason, our reservoirs would soon be full of silt and we'd be short of drinking water and water for household and industrial uses."

"Improved stands of grass, as well as many additional acres, have resulted from ACP and Feed Grain Programs in recent years," Mr. Martin said. More than 400 Morgan County farmers are participating in these programs in 1965. Over 1,000 acres of cropland in these programs are now devoted to grass and other conserving uses. Most of this land had been used for row crops before being seeded to grass.

Chairman Martin pointed out that grass is just as important today as it was when farm programs started more than 30 years ago. He said "if you're going to tie down the land, or manage water efficiently using nature's tools, you've just got to have grass."

Morgan County farmers are invited to stop at the A.S.C.S. OFFICE — 15 Permac Road, Jacksonville, Illinois, and discuss ACP cost-sharing programs which relate to more and better grass cover. The present sign-up period extends through August 13, 1965. Farm operators may still sign after that date if funds are available.

Fewer Farmers Every Day — Healthy Or Unhealthy?

URBANA—The success of modern agriculture has meant that fewer people than before produce food and fiber for a whole population.

How far will this trend toward fewer farmers go? And how will society be affected if the ranks of active farmers become thinner?

Folke Doving, University of Illinois professor of agricultural economics, believes that these questions concern all the western world just as soon or later they will concern any country that succeeds in its quest for greater prosperity.

In the July issue of Illinois Agricultural Economics, Doving points out that the trend toward fewer farmers and farm workers has been under way in the United States for several decades. The peak number of farmers was reached about 1910. The decline started in the late 1930s, accelerated in the 1950s and continued rapidly. Between 1960 and 1964, it was averaging 4 percent a year. Today about one American in 15 is a farmer or farm worker, compared with one in four in 1930.

Doving says that three major problems are dramatized by the dwindling farm population: income as a motive for leaving the farm, technical needs for labor in agriculture, and the social and economic effects upon rural life.

Mighty Cheap Food

Despite complaints about high farm price supports, all the gains of greater productivity have not gone to farmers, Doving says. Farm prices continue to decrease in relation to the income level. Food expenses take a smaller part of the family budget than ever before. At the same time, the share of agriculture in the national income decreases and the farm labor force becomes smaller.

Both features are normal in a prosperous, rapidly expanding economy, Doving says. Yet some people question the substitution of capital for labor.

The fact that it takes place shows that it is profitable—a success story that other parts of the economy would find hard to surpass.

Without this massive exodus of labor from farming, one of three things would have been inevitable: high food prices, higher costs of farm support, or grinding farm poverty.

How About Tomorrow?

How much labor will it take to do our farming in the future? Doving points out that the past few decades have been rich in technical achievements. For example, grain crops now take only three to six hours of labor per acre a year. Gains in efficiency in livestock production prices at support levels through the year, the end of an era of soybean acreage and sales expansion? Will we find soybeans on the surplus commodity list just in advance of what will be by far the largest soybean crop in history, with all its problems, says Geo. M. Strayer, ASA executive vice president.

"In 1965 we have added another 12½ to our national soybean acreage," Strayer says. "With 20½ increase in acreage over 2 years ago — when we produced 700 million bushels of soybeans — what will we produce this year? Everything indicates by far the largest crop in history — probably well over 800 million bushels."

"What will we do with an 825- or 850-million-bushel soybean crop? Does it mean chaos, markets for the past 3 years."

are in sight. Labor in dairy farming may be reduced by half. U.S. agriculture could operate now with a three-million-man labor force instead of the four million used in 1960 if all farming were done as efficiently as it is on the better half of our farms.

Many people believe that a loss of farm population will cause the traditional family farms to be replaced by centrally operated "factories in the fields." Rather, the substitution of capital for labor has decreased the use of hired labor on corn-belt farms, making them more nearly "family" units, Doving says.

More Strain Today

Large-scale operation depends not on economic superiority, but on economic muscle, Doving believes. When farmers become fewer, farms grow larger and the financial strain on farmers increases. This situation has produced many part-owner farms in the U.S.

Doving notes that the decreasing number of farmers will strongly affect other groups of rural residents. Service people will have fewer customers. Country towns will decline, and farmers will spend more of their net income in the medium-sized cities. The local tax base may shrink, and the cost of community services may increase.

These disadvantages do not outweigh the advantages of substituting capital for labor in agriculture, Doving believes. But they are serious enough to cause concern and to start a search for remedies through better regional planning.

Vacation, Tourism?

The economic life of rural areas from which farmers have migrated is normally rebalanced by attracting industry or other new economic activity. The more picturesque regions may develop recreation and tourism. Recently farm vacation and recreation enterprises have been organized on a commercial scale in Illinois and several other states.

ILLINOIS OUTLOOK LETTER

EUROPE BUYING MORE BEEF —FROM AUSTRALIA

A couple of years ago our cattlemen became alarmed about the rapid increase in imports of meat. Since that time imports have been reduced sharply, and many stockmen have become interested in finding overseas markets for their own beef. They will doubtless be interested in some recent comments by E. E. Broadbent, professor of livestock marketing at the University of Illinois.

Broadbent recently returned to the campus after studying livestock marketing for several months in foreign countries. He reports that there is a growing shortage of beef in Western Europe. The shortage arises from greatly increased consumer demand for beef and from a shrinkage in the amounts supplied from former sources.

Stronger demand, Demand is increasing because of the high level of employment and rising wages. At the same time the formerly large flow of beef from South America to Europe has diminished.

Most countries in Western Europe have been enjoying nearly full employment and rising wages. Increases in buying power per person often exceed the rate in the United States, but population growth is slower.

West Germany is the major importer of beef in Western Europe. Shipments into the country during the first half of this year were equivalent to 407,000 head of cattle, 28 percent more than the year before. Most of this increase came from Australia and the United Kingdom.

Less beef from South America. Exports of beef from Argentina totaled about 147,000 tons during the first half of 1965, 28 percent less than last year. Exports from Uruguay were also lower. Most European observers do not expect any quick recovery in the flow of beef from South America to Europe.

Australia ships more. The Australians have greatly increased their shipments of beef to the West European markets. They have established meat market expeditions in Europe. Their prime targets are restaurants, hotels and institutional meat users.

New Zealand continues to ship a large proportion of her beef exports to Europe. The United Kingdom has become the third largest supplier of beef to West Germany.

European buyers want lean beef. Broadbent observes that most of the beef produced in U.S. feedlots is too highly finished to please European buyers. They want and use beef that is about like our typical Standard and Commercial grades. The best of their beef is similar to our Good grade.

Prices for these grades of beef recently were 2 to 4 cents a pound higher in the Common Market countries than in Chicago. This difference is not enough to pay transportation costs from our packing centers to the European markets.

Prices of our Standard grade of cattle recently were around $22.00 a hundred pounds, 27 percent higher than a year before. This rise puts our beef in an even less favorable position to compete with other supply sources.

Shipping costs high. Shipping

Rollin (Pepper) Martin, superintendent of the swine division of the Morgan County Junior Fair, presents a trophy to a proud and happy Ronnie Walpole after Ronnie's splendid 220 pound Yorkshire barrow easily won the grand championship rosette at the Morgan County Fair Friday. For the second straight year, Ronnie and his Yorkshires garnered the top prizes in the fair's swine competition.

costs from United States ports to Europe are around $110 a ton for chilled beef. The cost from South America and Australia is only about $75 a ton.

WANT TO VISIT FOREIGN LANDS AND EXOTIC PLACES?

If you do, why not start at your breakfast table? Your coffee was probably grown in Colombia or Brazil or possibly Africa. You drank tea? It came from Ceylon or India. The sugar for your cereal or coffee — there is a 50% chance that it came from the Philippines, the West Indies or one of the Latin American Countries. The pepper you had on your eggs came from Indonesia.

All this points up to the fact that about 12% of the food we eat is imported from other countries or U.S. Territories. Coffee of course heads the list followed by sugar, bananas, cocoa, beef, veal and fish products.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (NEA)—

There's a psychological line of thought, "that one's own conception is how you look."

And he toyed carefully with the thick black hair that dangled around his ears and piled over his head.

Two weeks ago the American

Hair Stylists Institute doused his head with a chemical that transformed the big all-league offensive tackle of the San tionable on the successful Chargers

when Jack Kemp was the quarterback, and a tradition of stealing bases this season at a pace almost impossible to comprehend.

"Sometimes I plan to steal

every time I get on base. Or bunt four times in one game.

I've done both. I'm not a power hitter so I've got to try to irritate the pitcher the best way I can.

"When they start throwing at me or make countless efforts to pick me off, that's when I know

I've succeeded."

From a vantage point in the dugout, Wills studies the pitchers' every move.

"Even before I get on base,"

he said, "I've decided whether

I'm going to steal." "In the dugout and on deck, I watch every move the pitcher makes — and

remember every one. You steal

Catalogs Pitchers

"I catalog every pitcher. I'm constantly on the lookout for a

give-away sign. A dip of the head, a twist of the shoulder, a

turn of the body, all these things

mean something to me.

"Most of the things a pitcher

does on the mound, he does un-

Track Aftermath: Seek Scapegoat

By SANDY PADWE

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The results of the U.S.-Russian track meet were not as predictable as the actions — and reactions — of the stay-at-homes.

"We didn't go to war with all our fighting men," bellowed

coach Bill Bowerman.

The Amateur Athletic Union

the United States Track Coaches

Association, should be blamed for "hours without sleep, the obvious lack of advance planning and arrangements which resulted in inexcusable delays;

the fatigue and general rundown condition of all our competitors."

Press reaction was typified by

"Aftermath of a Track Disaster: Whose Fault?"

With everyone so interested in finding a scapegoat for the 118-112 loss, hardly anyone mentioned that this was the first major international meet for most of our young sprinters.

And nobody mentioned that the Russians — humiliated at Los Angeles last year — wanted to win this meet worse than any other in the seven-year series.

For those who choose to blame the loss on the AAU-

NCAA power struggle, a simple check of facts will show that

Kiev.

This is based on comparative times and distances from the NCAA and AAU championships.

The first and second place finishers in the AAU meet qualified for the Russian trip.

A comparison shows that in all events the AAU champion was superior to his NCAA counterpart. And with the exception of the long jump, the AAU runner-up had a better time or distance than the NCAA champion.

The reasons for the loss are many.

Cliff Buck, the AAU president, based it on an over-confident attitude by American athletes.

Gabriel Korobkov, the Russian coach, said the same.

But without alibiing, inexperience, injuries and retirements hurt

the U.S. team.

The 400-meter relay team, made up mostly of newcomers to international competition, was changed at the last minute due to an injury to Darrel

Newman. This resulted in a poor baton pass and subsequent disqualification.

Billy Mills, the Olympic champion, did not run in the 10,000 meters due to tonsillitis and Gerry Lindgren, the winner in last year's meet, competed with a bad cold and finished third. Bob Schul, the Olympic 5,000-meter champion, has been hampered all year

by knee trouble.

In retirement are Henry Carr, who won the 100 and 200-meters last year; Mike Larrabee,

the 400-meter winner; Jerry

Siebert, the 800-meters winner; pole vaulter Fred Hansen; and triple jump winner Ira Davis.

The U.S. won in all but the pole vault and triple jump this year, but lost valuable points with third and fourth place finishes instead of the one-two sweeps we had in 1964.

And because of this, and because everyone wants to place

the blame, athletes like Ollan

Cassell (400-meters, 1600-meter

relay), George Germann (800-meters) and Wyomia Tyus (100-meters and 400-meter relay) will not receive the acclaim due for their outstanding and dramatic performances.

Their feats will be lost in the coming battles between the AAU and the NCAA, from lawmakers who will advocate some type of federal control over amateur athletics and from an apathetic, but flag - waving public which gets interested in track once every four years.

DEFENSIVE LINE — I'll

line up same way with Don

Brumm, Joe Robb on flanks,

Luke Owens, Sam Silas inside.

Brumm is the strong man on the pass rush. Owens fortifies the middle. Silas still has tendency to get trapped but he's

where a rookie has a chance to get a strong play. RATING — fair-to-good.

LINEBACKERS — If they can avoid injury, Cards have admirable combo of skill and experience. Dale Meinert's flanked by Bill Koman and Larry Stallings. Greatest virtue is that they make no mental errors. Cards hope for depth from rookie Dave Simmons. The corner of the corps is Stallings on strong side. RATING — good.

DEFENSIVE BACKS—Finally

got rid of Jimmy Hill on right corner, but got Abe Woodson from San Francisco for John

Crow, and that's an edge in age and speed. On other side

Pat Fischer does a m a z i n g things for a 5-9 tyke. Safeties are well stocked with Jerry

Stovall as the strong man and Larry Wilson for roaming and blitzing. Fifth man who'll get work is Jim Burson. RATING—good.

Birder Friends

By Emma Mae Leonhard

On July 3 we had a welcome telephone call from a member of the Audubon Society. She had a friend from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who was a devoted birder and who hoped to add the Loggerhead Shrike, the Mockingbird, and the Ruby-Throated Hummingbird to her year's list. She understood that they could be found in this area but the question was where.

Birders always welcome other birders and a chance to share experiences with them. Two of us rapidly changed our plans for the afternoon and set out with our guest in search of the three kinds of birds. We made no promises, as a warm summer afternoon is the poorest time for birding and the nesting season is also the hardest time for rapid birding.

Of the three kinds of birds, we guessed that the Shrike would be the most difficult to locate, but we were wrong. To dispose of the other two quickly, we caught only a glimpse of one Mockingbird as its long graceful gray-and-white form flew across the road and over to a tree across the field. At last we found two Hummingbirds where we hoped to—on the red and orange tubular flowers of the Trumpet Vine.

But unexpectedly we were treated with the Shrike first, in the middle, and last all along the country-road drive. First we caught sight of one on the telephone wire. Before we could get near the bird, it had flown with its characteristic low swooping glide down into the field.

Knowing its habit, we stopped and watched for its return to the wire. It followed its usual habit, and we had placed the Shrike on the list.

As we drove on looking for bird activity and sharing unusual bird stories, we caught sight of another Shrike on another telephone wire. Upon approaching it we discovered two more Shrikes near the pole and, beyond, another one—four Shrikes in a row. Of course, we were gazing at a whole family of Shrikes. By this time we had had a Shrike day, but we added two more before we ended the trip.

When our guest left us, she warmly said what all good birders say, "When you come to Cedar Rapids or any place (that applies) look me up. Maybe I can show you something that we have around there." And we may do just that, and see our birding friend again.

First Rocket Flight

By Walter B. Hendrickson, Jr.

LAUNCHING THE V-2 ROCKET

V-2's engine was lighted. Then valves were opened, allowing the rocket's fuel to flow by gravity into the motor. There it was lighted by the pinwheel.

With a deafening roar flames shot out of the rocket nozzle and splashed over the cone-shaped blast deflector. In spite of all this show the V-2 developed only a third of its full thrust.

Full Thrust

This came when V-2's fuel pumps were started. Immediately the motor built up its full 54,000 pound thrust pushing the rocket slowly into the sky. The raging inferno in the rocket motor gulped down 80 pounds of fuel every second adding 23.8 miles per hour to its speed each second.

The Rocket climbed straight up for four seconds then the gyroscopes in its steering system turned the four rudder-like graphite vanes just below the flame-spewing rocket nozzle. These turned the fifty foot fiery tail starting the rocket's turn-over into its long-range flight path. This turn was only half completed when a thunder clap rolled across the Cape as the V-2 broke the sound barrier.

To Edge Of Space

Soon the Bumper rocket was only a bright spot against the sky as it roared to the edge of space. In 54 seconds the V-2 had used up all its fuel and the WAC-Corporal took over adding its speed to that of the V-2. This carried the WAC-Corporal 189.4 miles down range.

A few people in the then small town of Cocoa Beach, eight miles south of the Cape, looked up to see the red-orange glow of the rocket as it slanted downrange. Few, if any, of them dreamed that in a few short years this would become such a common sight that they would hardly notice it. Even the men who were planning and building the missile range didn't imagine in just 15 years a probe launched from there would be snapping closeup pictures of Mars.

TIME GOES ON

MISHAWAKA, Ind. (AP)—Father time hasn't stopped in Miss Barbara Wilklow's family for more than 400 years.

She claims to have a grandfather clock made in Zug, Switzerland, 400 years ago, which still ticks.

She said she has records showing the solid cherry timekeeper was first repaired in 1803 after her family carried it from its homeland to Pennsylvania where they settled.

Taffy And Friend

By Mrs. Otto Dorr

Taffy the hen came walking away. Then muddy claw in with baby chicks when it prints tracked through Buff's was still much too cold for the door way and though his handle balls of fluff, but by lying some tail grew soggy and his close to kitty Buff all kept fur mud-spattered they strolled warm. Taffy returned the favor off together.

On a warm morning Taffy by shielding Buff from the wind as he went for a walk, and the stopped in the shade while Buff chicks came along too.

A snack here and there, a his yellow tail.

"Twelve wire legs carry those children too far and too fast," she fretted, "I can't go six ways at once!"

"You don't have to," Buff answered, looking across green grass at six bobbing heads. "They will come back running, you'll see."

"Tut, tut, tut, they never did," Taffy knew, but in a fluttering hurry all six did return. "Tut tut tut" had sounded like "Cluck cluck cluck" to them.

Prayer Poem—

Other's Job Looks Easy

By Mary Pence Claywell

Sometimes, a job looks "easy," Lord,

From the "outside," looking in, And to put our fingers on the "snap,"

We sometimes, get a yen: And too, we often stare at one We meet upon the way, And feel he's really hit it rich, With an "easy" job that pays: Yet, Lord, we know the going's rough,

At times, it sure can be... On any job, we tackle... So it pays... to take a peep: For if the work, we do, is real, Essential, skilled, or crude, It takes all three, brains, brawn, and hands,

To make it... right, and good: Now envy is a hateful thing, And it can be "contagious," And "lookers-in," Dear Lord can make Most anything outrageous...erably.

And so the "seeds" of "discontent," With roots that spread and smart, Soon make a "noxious" weed patch

That "ruins" the human heart: Please help us, Lord, to keep our eyes On "our own" job, and give THE BEST we have, and MAKE THIS world A BETTER PLACE... TO LIVE!

WEEKEND OF FUN?

LOUISVILLE (AP)—When Larry Pohlman transferred to a new job here, he spent months in motels and hotels until he found a home for his family.

Later, he attended a Chamber of Commerce breakfast and won first prize in a contest — "a fabulous weekend of fun" at a motel.

HUNTED

By John Rankin

The afternoon sun of late summer had dropped behind the mountains to the west, and shadows of early evening were creeping slowly over the quaint little cabin in the valley. A fox in pursuit of a rabbit darted across the small clearing and from somewhere in the distant hills came the plaintive howl of a wolf.

In a big armchair on the porch white-haired and elderly Dan Hogan puffed reflectively on a cornucop pipe as he peered down at ten-year-old Ted Spain seated on the bottom step, staring dejectedly into space.

"So you shot at a squirrel over on Jed Morley's place and killed a cow, eh?" the old man said in a kindly tone. "Does your uncle know what happened?"

Tells Secret

The red-haired youngster with the freckled nose jumped to his feet and turned to face the elderly man. He stood for a moment as if groping for words and then moved closer.

"Uncle Pete went into town for the day and I sort of slipped his squirrel rifle out while he was gone," he managed finally. "You won't tell him, will you Mr. Dan?"

The veteran backwoodsman gave the troubled youth a searching look before he said, "But you haven't got the rifle now... what did you do with it? Slip it back to the house, maybe?"

"I hid it in some brush over on Moss creek where I shot at the squirrel," Ted admitted ruefully. "When I saw the dead cow I was plenty scared so I got rid of the gun in a hurry and beat it right over here."

Uncle Gives Advice

The elderly man knocked the ashes from his pipe and got up to place a gently arm around the bewildered youngster. "But we can't run away from trouble, son," he counseled wisely. "So trot along home now and say nothing about what happened until I have a chance to talk to Morley and your uncle."

he had just cleared the mountain pass when the sound of horses pounding the trail up ahead brought him to a sudden halt.

Successful Auction Ends Morgan Fair; Cleanup Started

A highly successful auction of championship 4-H livestock brought the curtain down on the 1965 Morgan County Junior Progress Fair.

Generally, prices throughout the auction were well above market quotation and the top steer sold higher than in several previous years. There were no complaints from swine and sheep owners when the checks were made available.

The top sheep was purchased by Dr. and Mrs. Dean Gross on their bid of one dollar a pound; the top hog was purchased by Alvin "Pete" Lovekamp on behalf of Faultless Grain Company of Springfield at $1.25 per pound; and the top steer was sold to Jack Kurtz, owner of Howard Johnson's Restaurant on his bid of 84 cents a pound for the 905 pound animal.

All proceeds from the sale go directly to the owners. There are no commission fees from the fair association nor the auctioneers who donated their services.

Local Firm Gets Bridge Repair Job At Quincy

The Caldwell Engineering Company of Jacksonville was awarded a contract in the amount of $169,286 for repair of the roadway, sidewalks and curbs of a 3,500 foot bridge over the Mississippi River at Quincy.

The bridge is about 75 feet above the low water mark at the center span which is 1,256 feet wide.

Don Caldwell, president of the firm, said the work includes complete resurfacing of the 20-foot roadway which will be completed under traffic conditions on U.S. Route 24.

Caldwell said one-way traffic would be maintained at all times and that construction would begin within three weeks as soon as all safety equipment could be moved to the job site and installed.

Estimated time of completion is one year.

The work is under the supervision of the Illinois Division of Highways in cooperation with the Missouri Highway Department.

Scott Asks Bids On $500 Million In Bank Deposits

State Treasurer William J. Scott called last week for new bids on $500 million of State funds deposited in 850 banks throughout Illinois.

Scott estimated that new interest rates from the bids will increase the earnings of his office by at least another $2 million a year. Since taking office in January, 1963, Scott has made Illinois taxpayers over $50 million through investments of State funds.

Last month's earnings of $1,718,994 broke all records for the month of July, the previous high being Scott's own record of $1,589,549, in July, 1963.

The bid requests were sent to every bank in the State, and offered funds subject to 120-day, six-month, and one-year notices of withdrawal. Scott stated that no bids will be accepted on the 120-day funds for less than 3-1/4 per cent, which compares to a current rate of 2-1/4 per cent for the short-term funds. The one-year deposits should bring between 4.0 and 4-1/4 per cent, Scott said.

Scott recently negotiated a contract with four major Chicago banks, the Continental Illinois, Harris Trust, American National, and LaSalle National, which would guarantee the Illinois Toll Highway Commission a 4-1/4 per cent rate on their bank deposits for the next eight years. Chairman Donald Bonniwell of the Illinois Toll Highway Commission worked with Scott on the contract, which is considered the most favorable for any state agency in the United States.

Engineers Seek Bids For Levee On Lost Creek

BEARDSTOWN — The U.S. Army Engineers, Chicago District office, is advertising for bids for an Illinois Waterway Control project involving the Lost Creek Levee at Beardstown.

The work consists of approximately 6,500 L.F. of levee improvements including about 70,000 cubic yards of levee embankment, 3,200 cubic yards of stripping, 18 acres of seeding together with minor reinforced concrete work, dumped riprap and other related site improvements.

The bids are scheduled to be opened about August 31 and 120 calendar days will be allowed for the work.

Bids under this invitation are solicited from small business concerns only, and the project will be awarded to only a small business concern, according to the engineer's announcement.

WHAT'S ELECTROLYSIS?

There are few things more embarrassing to a woman than a patch of unwanted hair on her face. A superfluous growth of hair on her upper lip or on her cheek usually causes extreme self-consciousness and unhappiness.

The hair can be removed several ways. It can be shaved off, erased by a depilatory, abrasive or waxing, or removed by tweezing. However, all of these methods are temporary and must be repeated frequently to keep the hair under control. There is only one permanent way of doing the job and that's by electrolysis.

In electrolysis the papilla, which is source of the hair's life, is destroyed thus killing hair's growth.

The latest method of electrolysis that has been perfected is called thermolysis. It operates via a short wave machine, the principle of which is to coagulate the hair papilla by high frequency current.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard L. Farnbach

Farnbach and McCann

Miss Ruth Sharon McCann became the bride of Bernard L. Farnbach Saturday, July 17 in a double ring ceremony at the Methodist Church in Ransom. Rev. Clarence Kimmel officiated. Mrs. Ida Hoffman was organist and Robert Walling soloist.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McCann of Ransom. Mr. Farnbach is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Farnbach of White Hall.

Miss Rowena Metelka, a college roommate, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Walter and Miss Connie Windbiel. Daryl Rix, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Edward Baker served as best man and Dennis Flynn and Larry McCann, brother of the bride, were ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta with detachable train. Her three tiered elbow length veil fell from a jeweled crown and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Her attendants wore floor length gowns of pink crepe with matching headpieces and white accessories. They carried white wicker baskets of pink flowers.

The bride's mother wore a blue lace and linen dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose light blue nylon lace with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Assisting at the reception held at the American Legion Hall were Mrs. Sandra McMahan, cousin of the bridegroom, Mrs. Stephen Swank, Mrs. Robert Rix, Mrs. Harry Schroeder, sisters of the bride, Miss Karen Cleal, Miss Michelle Campbell, Miss Jo Ann Studnicki, Mrs. Michael Berry, Miss Judie Jennings and Miss Sandy Dawson.

A rehearsal supper was held at the Methodist church July 16 for the wedding party.

The bride is a graduate of the Seneca High school, attended Western Illinois University and was employed by the General Telephone Company in Streator until her marriage. Mr. Farnbach, a graduate of White Hall High school, was employed with the Automatic Electric at North Lake, Ill. until he entered the Army in January of 1965.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the newlyweds are at home in Fort Huachuca, Arizona where the bride's room is stationed.

This past year she represented her organization at the group's annual convention in San Francisco. In June she attended the 13th Quadrennial Congress of the International Nurses Congress held in Frankfurt, Germany.

She plans to work in Junction City, Kansas where Mr. Campbell is stationed with the United States Army. Mrs. George Campbell, Sr., 345 Caldwell, attended the graduation ceremonies.

Mrs. Jeffrey A. Gillom

Gillam and Shipton

ROODHOUSE — A former Roodhouse girl, Valerie Ann Shipton, was married in late June to Jeffrey A. Gillam of Dwight, Illinois. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Shipton of Oak Park, former residents of Roodhouse. Mr. Shipton published the Roodhouse Record while living here.

Mr. Gillam is the son of W. Leon Gillams of Dwight. The newlyweds are living in the Dunn Apartments, Carbonate, Illinois, Route Two.

Mrs. Gillam was graduated from Roodhouse High School in 1960 and from Southern Illinois University in 1964. She has been teaching English and journalism at the Hinsdale High School for the past year. Mr. Gillam, a music student at S.I.U., is appearing in leading roles in several musical productions on campus this summer.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Reverend Timothy Lyle at St. Edmund church in Oak Park. Miss Marilyn Mertz of Springfield was soloist.

Miss Kaye Shipton was her sister's maid of honor and Bradford Gillam attended his brother. Other members of the party were Miss Sarah Martin of Roodhouse, bridesmaid, and Kenneth Conway of Denver, Colorado, groomsmen. Ushers were Curt Shipton, brother of the bride and John Kochevar, Kincaid, Illinois.

The bride wore a floor length sheath gown of silk organza with Alencon lace. A jeweled tiara held her veil of illusions and she carried a cascade of white roses with tiny orchids.

The bride's attendants wore Nile green peau de soie with darker green detachable Watteau trains. The floral head-dresses, with brief veils, matched their costumes. Each carried a color-matched waterfall bouquet of French carnations.

The bride's mother wore a jonquil yellow linen sheath with matching color accessories and the groom's mother a blue lace with white accessories. Both wore yellow cymbidium orchid corsages.

A reception was held at the Oak Park Arms Hotel. Assisting were Miss Artie Sherman, Paducah, Kentucky; Judith Sternberg, Steelville, Ill.; Miss Mertz, Mrs. Edward Pawlowski, Blue Island and Mrs. James Skokan, Villa Park, friends of the couple.

Roodhouse residents attending were Mrs. Floyd Martin and Mrs. Nettie Story.

Don't forget that nowadays you can buy various varieties of dried beans already cooked in cans. The beans are fine to use when you want to whip up a casserole to serve with grilled meats for an outdoor supper.

Mrs. Larry Albert Rentschler

Miss Webster, Lincoln Man Repeat Vows

An impressive ceremony Sunday afternoon, August first at the Centenary Methodist Church united in marriage Miss Alma Kay Webster and Larry Albert Rentschler. Candelabra, ferns and baskets of yellow and white gladioli adorned the altar. Reverend David Ericson officiated. Miss Patricia Bradshaw, soloist, was accompanied at the organ by Gordon Wolgast.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Webster of 1323 South Clay avenue are parents of the bride. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Burnell Rentschler of Lincoln.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of taffeta and lace with train. Her veil of illusion fashioned with a crown of pearls was a elbow length and she carried a cascade of yellow and white carnations.

Miss Janet Loyd of Alexander, cousin of the bride, was a maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Davis, and Miss Corrine Spencer. Nancy Norfleet, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. All the attendants wore street length dresses of yellow satin and lace with matching headpieces and colonial bouquets of yellow and white carnations. Nancy Norfleet's dress was of yellow satin and lace with headpiece identical to the bridesmaids. She carried a basket of yellow rose petals and wore a wrist corsage of yellow flowers.

The bride's mother wore pink lace with white accessories and bridegroom's mother wore beige with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Assisting at the reception held in the church parlor were Mrs. Hubert Norfleet and Mrs. Kenneth Loyd, aunts of the bride. Mrs. Eugene Byers, Mrs. Richard Bourn, Miss Sharon Lawless, Miss Donna Wood, Miss Bonnie Clupper, Miss Jan Rentschler and Miss Gail Rentschler, the bridegroom's sister. The bride, who until her marriage was employed as secretary at Elliott State Bank, was graduated from Jacksonville High school. Mr. Rentschler, graduate of the same high school, is employed at Cutler Hammer in Lincoln.

Guests from out-of-town were Elmhurst, Mt. Pulaski, Peoria, Lincoln, Springfield, Alton, Carlinville, Shipman, Franklin, Alexander and Virginia.

Combine chilled pineapple juice and cranberry juice cocktail for a delicious cold beverage to serve to unexpected guests. If the cans aren't on hand in the refrigerator, just take them from the pantry shelf and give them a quick chilling by adding ice cubes and stirring vigorously. Remove the ice before it dilutes the drink too much.

Judith Hack Of Pike Bride Of Lt. Chesley

Miss Judith Hack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hack of Pittsfield rural route one, became the bride of Lt. (j.g.) Howard S. Chesley in a candlelight ceremony at the Marble Collegiate Church in New York City on June eleventh. The Reverend Allister Haig officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by Edward Schwarzer, wore a floor length empire waist gown of peau-de-soie and Chantilly lace designed and made by her mother. Her finger tip veil fell from a pillbox hat and she carried a bouquet of white roses and orchids.

Miss Lois Jeffrey of the Bronx, New York, was maid of honor, and Miss Anita Boras of New York City, was bridesmaid. Both wore identical floor length gowns of mint ice silk shantung, with matching pillbox hat and bouquets of pink rosebuds and carnations.

Lt. (j.g.) Jacques Richey was bestman. Lt. (j.g.) David Pearson and Lt. James Champin were ushers.

A navy blue silk shantung suit was worn by the bride's mother. The bridegroom's mother wore a turquoise and white dress with white accessories.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the New York room of the commissioned officers' mess, New York Naval shipyard, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Mrs. Chesley graduated from East Pike High school and Personnel Training Institute, Omaha, and is presently employed with the Mutual of New York. Lt. Chesley is a graduate of Marquette University, Milwaukee, and is serving as Aide to the Commandant, Third Naval District, New York, N.Y.

The newlyweds are at home in Brooklyn after returning from wedding trip to Indian Lake, N.Y.

Add barbecue-type seasonings to condensed tomato soup and heat; add frankfurters (whole or cut in chunks) and reheat. Serve, if you like, on halved toasted buttered frankfurter rolls.

Barbara Harp, La Grange Man Wed In Greene

WHITE HALL — White spider lilies and roses with greenery were used at the candlelight altar of the Calvary Baptist church for the mid-afternoon wedding Saturday, July thirty-first, of Miss Barbara Sue Harp and James Richard O'Keane.

The Reverend Ray Emerson officiated. Miss Bonnie Sparks of Wood River, formerly of White Hall, was at the organ and Miss Kay Gardner of Kennett, Missouri, a sorority sister of the bride, sang.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harp of White Hall and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Velma O'Keane of Lockport and the late Howard O'Keane.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Terry Tennill of Roodhouse, was matron of honor. Mrs. Edward Baker, White Hall, former classmate of the bride, Miss Ann Bredden, Bolivar, Tennessee, and Miss Betty Bridgewater, Brownsville, Tennessee, both sorority sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Donald O'Keane of Topeka, Kansas served as his brother's best man. Ernest Ornellas, White Hall, cousin of the bride; Gary Moser, Union City, Tennessee, fraternity brother of the bridegroom and Bayard Watkins, Lockport, brother-in-law of the bridegroom were groomsmen.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal wedding gown of white peau de soie and Chantilly lace with chapel train. Her illusion veil fell from a crown of lace, crystals and pearls, and she carried a single long-stemmed white rose.

Her attendants wore floor length gowns of mint green satin with satin cabbage rose headpieces with rose veils. Each girl carried a single long-stemmed white rose.

Ushers for the ceremony were Larry Brogdon and James McCurley of White Hall.

Suellen Tennill, niece of the bride, was flower girl and Marc Alan Tennill, her brother, was ring bearer. Suellen wore a floor length dress made similar to those worn by the attendants.

The mother of the bride wore navy blue sheer with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother chose a beige costume with matching accessories. Both mothers wore shoulder corsages of white roses.

At the reception held in the parlors of the White Hall Methodist church the following friends and relatives assisted, Mrs. Pauline Fox, Mrs. JoAnn Ward, Miss Linda Savage, Miss Brenda Dawdy, Mrs. Kathryn Blake, Miss Theresa Ornellas, Mrs. Ernest Ornellas, Martha Littleton and Mrs. Dean Wellhausen.

The newlyweds will make their home in LaGrange, Illinois after a brief wedding trip.

Mrs. O'Keane, a graduate of White Hall High School, attended Southwest Baptist College and received her degree from the Union University at Jackson, Tenn. She was a member of the National Honor Society and Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. She will teach in the LaGrange elementary school this fall.

Mr. O'Keane was graduated from Caruthersville High School, Caruthersville, Missouri and attended Union University where he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He is employed at LaGrange.

The rehearsal dinner served the Friday evening before the ceremony was hosted by the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Tennill in their home at Roodhouse.

Guests attended from the immediate area and Springfield, Carbondale, Alton, Palmyra, Salem, Carrollton, Pana, Jacksonville, Hillview and from the states of Kansas, Missouri, Tennessee, Iowa and California.

Mrs. Farnbach Shower Honoree

The former Miss Ruth McCann of Ransom, Illinois, who became the bride of Pvt. Bernard L. Farnbach on July 17, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given June 25 at the Old Sewer Pipe office in White Hall. Mrs. Florence Lemons, Mrs. Vera Taylor and Mrs. Fern Phares were hostesses.

Mrs. McCann received many lovely gifts. Forty-five guests were in attendance and many sent gifts but were unable to attend. The hostesses served refresh-

Law Is Mortar For Building

Mere absence of war is not enough. Before real peace can come to the world, a truly international and truly workable system of law must somehow be hammered out of the diverse legal and political systems, cultures, religions, fears and suspicions, needs and desires of the nations of the world.

What may one day be viewed as a significant milestone on the road to this goal is the second international conference on World Peace Through Law, to be held in Washington Sept. 18-19. More than 2,000 judges, lawyers, law professors and students will attend to exchange ideas and problems at its sessions.

President Johnson has designated the opening day of the conference as World Law Day and lawyers in every community are being asked to stage some special program in observance.

Driving force behind the conference is Charles S. Rhyne, former president of the American Bar Association, who organized the first world conference held in Athens in 1963. Out of this meeting sprang the World Peace Through Law Center, which Rhyne heads and which is presently headquartered in Washington. It is supported by dues from member lawyers around the world.

Purpose of the 1965 Washington conference is twofold:

First, to examine the thousands of existing international treaties and precedents and to draw up new treaties and laws in a host of actual and potential areas of friction and dispute; second, to lay the groundwork for a system of world regional courts to handle cases not important enough to go to the International Court of Justice in The Hague.

Lawyers, who will attend the conference as individuals and not as official representatives of their countries, will go home to drum up support for their proposals.

While Rhyne points to "the shocking inadequacies of existing international law and legal institutions," he nevertheless feels that "ours is becoming the golden age of the law"—one that will be fashioned by and shared by all nations and all peoples.

He has to be right. There is no other rational way.

FINDING THE WAY

Listen and Understand

BY RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For years I've visited hospitals, calling on patients and counseling with people in need. The care and maintenance of these complicated institutions of healing has been intriguing. I enjoyed visiting; I could always leave. All of that changed a few days ago when I became the patient. It has been a new, unasked for, but meaningful experience.

The art of listening, which is important in the whole of life, is especially significant here. Doctors and nurses are suddenly interested in listening to the sounds of my body. "Breathe deeply! Cough!" They listen to heart, to lungs, to abdomen. Despite the pain and the temperature, I could rejoice with the doctor when he looked up to say, "Good stomach sounds!"

To listen is one thing; to understand is another. All of these body sounds are unintelligible to the layman. It's as though the body had a voice, spoke with an articulate and logical language which has been successfully decoded and interpreted by the scientist.

It's comforting to be listened to by the understanding. As Arne Sirila has wisely commented, "In the encounter with illness the two participants (patient and physician) cannot remain in the position of simply responding to each other's fears and wishes. It is necessary to concentrate on listening to the language of illness as it appears in the human organism." They have to do more than listen to each other!

For me, this visit to the hospital is comparatively brief. The few weeks are soon lost in the continuing history of other experiences. These experiences, I am well aware now, will require the same quality of listening. For in our political, civic, and racial illnesses we must do more than listen to one another. We must also listen to the voice of the illness.

Jesus knew how to do this. A woman came to him asking for the healing of her body and he replied, "Thy sins be forgiven thee." She hadn't asked for that, but that was her real need.

We must listen to the voice of One who was known as the Physician and who understood the sounds that were deeper than words.

I've learned many things in these days in the hospital and among them, a new dimension to the art of listening.

The Mature Parent

Habits Established Early

By BRUNO BETTELHEIM
Excerpted from "Dialogues With Mothers"

Mother: My pediatrician says that if you let a small child go on and on with the bottle that it gets to be a habit. And they begin to assume that a bottle is something you play with.

Dr. B.: Now look. If you want to obey your pediatrician's rules on child rearing, that's fine with me. But then don't ask me for advice.

Mother: But her feeding will go on and on. But when I prop the bottle, she takes it very nicely and quietly.

Dr. B.: I don't see how a child who is regularly fed with a propped bottle can have too easy a time in establishing decent relationships to other human beings. It might be a very successful individual, you know: it might be a very intelligent individual. It need not be a bad child or a problem child because there are many ways of life. There are people who are isolates, lone wolves as we call them, but who are otherwise very successful citizens.

You know what I mean? But social relations are established very early in infancy; and so far as we know, that's what the child enjoys most—social relations.

Now you say that your pediatrician wants to prevent the forming of bad habits. Well, a person's habits, or his tendencies if you like, are established quite early in life. The tendency to enjoy one's food and to enjoy company—or to take one's food alone and get along without company—can both be established early in childhood.

So if you haven't much time or use for your child in these early months or years, don't be amazed if he may not have much time or use for you either later on, because you've started this pattern yourself.

I can see how this happens. People are busy and have little time. Well, that's all right with me. But then they shouldn't look for too much sociability in their child. Gregarious people like Churchill and Roosevelt were fed very long and extensively, if not by their mothers but by their nurses. They turned out to be very optimistic people, enjoying food and drink, enjoy company, sitting very long at the dinner table, chatting and having a good time.

Don't think I'm saying that you'll make a misfit out of your child. I'm saying that there is a discrepancy between your wishes for your child as you've stated them—and the way you establish certain habits in him. Now, what you're going to do about this is entirely up to you.

Palm Oil Used in Foods

By GAYNOR MADDUX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Q—One of my neighbors warns me some of our American foods have palm oil from Africa in them. Is that really true?

A—Yes. The United States imports a lot of palm oil and palm kernel oil from the Congo every year and uses the best grades in margarine, cooking fats, chocolate bars and other foods. Palm kernel oil from the Congo is used extensively in the baked goods you buy in your local shops. It helps keep them fresh and attractive longer.

The Farm Index, published by the Department of Agriculture, states that the Congo's oil-palm industry is one of the best managed in Africa. The United States buys about half the exports of palm kernel oil from the Congo, averaging 32,000 metric tons a year.

Q—What's the best way to keep fresh grapes in good condition after I buy them?

A—Plan to use grapes, nectarines, peaches and plums as soon as possible. Sort before storing, discarding any bruised or decayed fruit to prevent it from contaminating sound fruit. When grapes and other fruits are ripe, store uncovered in refrigerator. Use within three to five days. If not ripe, allow to ripen in open air at room temperature. Do not place in sun.

Bitter Pill For Medical Men

American doctors may learn to swallow Medicare and like it, but a lot of them in Ohio are having disturbing after-effects from another kind of prescription that has been dispensed from Washington.

The Ohio State Medical Association is slamming a directive from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare requiring doctors to sign a pledge that they will comply with the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and not practice discrimination among welfare patients.

Such a requirement, complains the association, is making "second-class citizens" of Ohio physicians, about 4,900 of whom have signed the oath and are now having second thoughts.

Caught in the middle is the Ohio Department of Public Welfare, which must apply the regulation to the doctors working with it in order to qualify for government monies. A proposal by the department that doctors be permitted to make an oral promise to abide by the law was turned down by HEW.

It all amounts to another example of government distrust of its citizens—or selected groups of citizens. It smacks of the loyalty oaths students must sign to receive federal loans, something that has long aroused the ire of liberals.

In the matter of the doctors, anyway, it would seem that another oath—the ancient Oath of Hippocrates—ought to take precedent and cover any situation that might arise under the Civil Rights Act.

The self-imposed ethics of the medical profession apparently carry little weight with the bureaucrats, however.

Our Modern Arms Alone Can't Win Guerrilla War

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA) —

There's an old frontier story about a famous Indian medicine man. When a white scout with an incurable sore on his hip asked the Indian if he could heal him, the red-skin doctor said yes. Whereupon he tied the white man to a tree, ordered a poker heated red hot in a campfire and thrust into the man's side. When the victim regained consciousness he weakly but angrily asked what the Indian thought he was doing.

"It's simple," said the medicine man. "I didn't know how to cure that sore. But I do know how to cure a burn. Now your sore is gone and you have a burn. I can handle that."

The question is whether the United States with a red hot poker (a massive influx of modern arms) can convert an old-fashioned guerrilla war (which we don't know how to fight) into a conventional conflict (at which we are adept).

History gives a mixed answer. The Japanese failed in China, the French in Indochina and Algeria. The United States succeeded in Greece and the British in Malaya. The Philippine government put down the Huk. Long years ago, after a long struggle, the U.S. Army defeated the American Indians.

There are critical points to note about each successful anti-guerrilla campaign. Modern weapons were very useful. They were not the deciding factor.

None of the antiguerrilla wars, in fact, were won by directly defeating the guerrilla forces. No war against guerrillas was won until five major objectives were achieved:

1. The guerrillas were cut off from their major foreign and domestic supplies of weapons, ammunition and food. The plains Indians were finally defeated—not in battle—but when the whites killed off the buffalo. The Greek guerrillas were defeated when the borders were sealed. The Malayan guerrillas were controlled when the non-Communist farmers and their food supplies were sealed off from the underground fighters.

2. Some successful program was initiated to give the enemy guerrilla a chance to surrender and live with his family and children in a better world than he was living in as a guerrilla. In the Philippines, the Huk were offered farming land. The Indians were given reservations, however meager.

3. Some way was found to separate the guerrillas from the loyal or neutral country and city folk. The guerrillas were rooted out of the safe areas, not left to build underground as they did in Algeria, Indochina and China.

4. Some form of orderly government and police protection was offered in the hamlets, villages and cities to those who remained on the government anti-guerrilla side.

5. The ordinary people on the government side (and the neutrals) saw an opportunity for gradually bettering their lot. The lesson of history would seem to indicate that modern weapons will not win the Vietnamese war unless these five criteria are followed with strong determination.

Well, I'm not entirely out of it. I am sure the President is going to ask my advice now on how we settle the Cuban conflict.

"I opened the envelope..." and it was a notice from the Office of Emergency Management, giving me my directions as to how I could be evacuated from Washington.

Observers of Goldberg believe President Johnson was fully aware of the justice's discomfiture, and may also have known of his hankering to cavort a little on the international stage—among others.

White House sources say the President thought of Goldberg almost immediately as a possible replacement for the late Adlai Stevenson. Johnson's first talk with the justice came a day or so after Stevenson's death in London.

Other announced timetables notwithstanding, it is said the President had largely made up his mind the day before he took Goldberg with him to Stevenson's funeral in Illinois.

The President's contacts with Goldberg over the months have been fairly frequent. Goldberg was on the scene, offering a bit of advice, when Johnson was preparing his convention acceptance speech last August.

As the new U.N. Ambassador, Goldberg will have one handicap—a rather heavy-handed speaking style. But most who know him think he will nevertheless perform superbly at the United Nations because of his dazzling talents as a negotiator. He is described as a "tinkerer" who gets at the problem of the moment and builds a bridge which often prevents a long-range crisis from ever materializing.

One lawyer says with an admiring laugh: "I almost feel sorry for the Communists. He'll de-trouser them, and they'll stand there smiling, liking him."

This same man thinks Goldberg will have the "brass" to insinuate himself into decision-making more than Stevenson did and won't be hobbled by the 225-mile gap between Washington and New York. He adds:

"He'll be the (airline) shuttle's most noted passenger."

He said he felt his detachment most keenly the week or more of the Cuban crisis in October, 1962. He kept thinking President Kennedy would summon him for help. To the lawyers at Chicago he added:

"But our phone was silent. And we went about our business of calling the calendar, and judging..."

U.N. Reds Face Wily

Opponent in Goldberg

WASHINGTON (NEA) —

Justice Arthur Goldberg's publicly voiced reluctance at leaving the Supreme Court for the U.N. ambassadorship cannot hide the abundant evidence that he felt "walled up" in the high court's marble isolation.

Ebullient in spirit, a tireless talker, a prime mover throughout his life, Goldberg never really adjusted to the hushed tones and red velvet that went with the honored post he accepted from President Kennedy in 1962.

Says a labor lawyer who has observed his court tenure closely: "He's done a good, competent job. But he really belongs out with the boys."

Goldberg is an inveterate problem solver. When he has finished solving his own, he likes to plunge—sometimes uninvited—into the handling of other people's difficulties.

If his appointment to the United Nations was a genuine surprise, his leaving the court was not at all stunning to many in labor and law who knew him. Says one such source:

"We felt he could not last in the detached atmosphere of the bench."

Goldberg himself dropped many cues on this score. He heartily disliked the court's long vacations. At the American Bar Association convention in Chicago in 1963, he told assembled lawyers:

"A (labor) secretary's and a labor lawyer's phone never stops ringing. The justice's never does ring. Even his best friends won't call him."

He said he felt his detachment most keenly the week or more of the Cuban crisis in October, 1962. He kept thinking President Kennedy would summon him for help. To the lawyers at Chicago he added:

Dear Ann:

Breaks Pact To Quit Smoking

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: On New Year's eve my husband and I made a pact to quit smoking.

Hank was a much heavier smoker than I was so I knew it would be more difficult for him to quit. Well, Ann, he hasn't touched a cigarette since the night we made the agreement, but I started three weeks ago when I found half a pack of cigarettes which had been left by a guest.

Last night when Hank came home he saw a cigaret butt in the garbage pail. He asked me who had been smoking. I lied and said the plumber had come to fix the sink. He picked up the garbage pail and said, "Since when did the plumber start to wear lipstick?" I felt like a trapped rat.

Now Hank insists the only way I can square things is to quit smoking for good. I don't want to quit. (Perhaps I should be honest and say I don't think I CAN quit.) Furthermore, I resent his bossiness. Please give me your most broadminded, liberal opinion. —LYDIA

Dear Lydia: My most broadminded, liberal opinion is that a woman who made a deal with her husband should keep it. You say you CAN'T quit. I say ANYBODY can quit if he makes up his mind. A person who is addicted to tobacco will find it very difficult, but not impossible.

Dear Ann Landers: A girl I know (but have never been close to) asked me to be a bridesmaid at her wedding. I tried to refuse graciously but she was so insistent I finally accepted.

I spent $40 on a dress and $12 on shoes. I also bought her a shower gift and wedding gift. My parents pay for everything because I am a high school student and have no money of my own.

The wedding invitations were sent out last week and I was sure my parents would receive one. They did not. The mother of the bride met my mother at a party yesterday and told her she was sorry they could not invite them to the wedding because the church was so small.

I am very upset. My folks want to see me in the wedding procession and I want them to be there. Who is wrong and what should be done? —OFFENDED

Dear Offended: The parents of the attendants should always be invited to the wedding—regardless of the size of the church. Tell the bride exactly how you feel. If your parents don't receive an invitation promptly your friend's family is guilty of atrocious taste.

Dear Ann Landers: This may sound like a very insignificant problem compared with some you get, but it really does annoy the heck out of me.

My wife had a beautiful trousseau of bedshirts, pillow cases and towels. Everything was monogrammed at the bottom with the initials of the nut's last name. I hate to see this stuff around and I've told my wife how I feel. Her answer is as follows: "My folks spent a fortune on these things and I'm not going to throw them out."

I appreciate my wife's practical nature, but I think my feelings should count for something, too. Any ideas, Ann? —HACKLES UP

Dear Hack: Suggest that your wife cut the initials off and re-hem everything. It would mean a lot of work and shorter towels and bed linens but it's the best compromise I can think of.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NEW YORK (AP) —Phonograph record sales in 1964 sold at an all-time high, the Record Industry Association of America says.

In retail list price value, sales in 1964 amounted to $578,600,000 against $529,660,000 in 1963.

Long-playing record comprised about 76 per cent of total dollar volume, pretty much the same as in 1963.

Stereophonic recordings accounted for 45 per cent of total LP sales compared with just under 44 per cent in 1963. In stereo, classical albums also were up a per cent; classical comprised over 54 per cent of total stereo sales compared with 53 per cent in 1963.

News, Views Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Journal
COL. MCCLAIN F. WOOD—The father-in-law of Col. Woods received a dispatch from his daughter, at Nashville, Tenn., on Tuesday morning, informing him of the death of her husband, Col. Wood, at that city the evening before. The Colonel had been sick for several weeks with typhoid fever, and his death was not unexpected. He was in command of the post at Nashville when he died and had won the confidence and respect of those in authority as well as of soldiers and citizens. The Colonel had served his country well and faithfully, and earned a proud record to leave as an inheritance to his relatives and friends. Suitable arrangements are being made to receive his remains and honor them with a burial in a manner becoming a brave soldier who died at his post. Our limits this week forbid a more extended notice.

Col. Wood was the first Jacksonville man to answer Lincoln's call for troops to put down the rebellion. In 1861 he was county jailer and stopped at Springfield on his return from taking two prisoners to the new state penitentiary in Joliet. There he learned that Fort Sumter in Charleston Bay was being fired upon, immediately looked up his friend, Gov. Yates, and was authorized to raise at least a company of soldiers.

He was instrumental in raising Co. A, 10th Illinois Regiment, was later promoted to captain and then to lieutenant colonel. After serving three and a half years he resigned his commission, but was called back into uniform by Jacksonville people when the 154th Infantry was organized in February, 1865. He was elected colonel of the regiment and was the commandant at Nashville when he died.

MARRIED—Mr. J. H. Wyatt to Miss E. J. Longley, both of Morgan county, at the residence of the bride's father, in Jacksonville, August 4th, 1865. Accompanying the above notice were the compliments of the happy pair to the printers, and samples of the wedding cakes. May they be blessed with a brilliant honeymoon, a long life, a large and happy family, and an abundance of life's choicest blessings.

MARRIED—Capt. Lewis Hancock to Miss Hattie Cooper, by the Rev. Tutill, at the residence of Mr. Wilson Smith, on Wednesday, the 3d, inst.

No paltry slice of cake was offered to appease the printer in this case, but a peremptory order from one accustomed to command to be present at the wedding and to share in the wedding feast. We were there, and must confess that the brave Captain surrendered with becoming dignity, while his beautiful and modest captor magnanimously declined to humiliate her prisoner by exacting aught but a promise of love and loyalty in the future! Happy couple! May the union be long and enduring, and the fruit thereof many worthy sons of an able sire.

A NEW BOOK BINDERY—has been established in Jacksonville by Mr. Ernest Moeller, over McDonald's News Depot.

THE SIAMESE TWINS, Chang and Eng, having lost nearly all their property during the rebellion, have resorted to giving exhibitions in our Northern cities and may come here. It is said during the war they remained perfectly neutral and suffered both from the rebel and Union forces. Their residence was in North Carolina.

SOLDIER'S RECEPTION PICNIC—takes place to-day at Pisgah Church and a large number of our citizens have gone out.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel:
NEW FIRM—We learn that Mr. John W. Goltra, of the late firm of Goltra & Stryker, southwest corner of the square, has associated with him at the old stand, Mr. Joseph Tomlinson under the style of J. W. Goltra & Co. The new firm proposes to combine the hat and cap business of the late firm—greatly enlarged and improved—with a first class merchant tailoring establishment; the latter to be under the special supervision of Mr. Tomlinson. Mr. Tomlinson has long since secured the confidence of the public by giving convincing evidence of his thorough practical knowledge in manufacturing clothing to order, and by his skill in fitting "the human form divine." He is now in the Eastern cities, selecting a choice stock of cloths, cassimers, vestings, &c., for order work.

Mr. John Goltra, the senior partner of the new firm, has been engaged for thirty years in the hat and cap business, and his practical knowledge and enlarged experience, give assurance that this branch of the business of the new firm will be so conducted as to give entire satisfaction to the public. The advertisement of the new firm will soon appear in our columns.

Our friend, Roland R. Chambers, presented us this week a tomato raised in his garden, measuring 14½" in circumference, and weighing 1 lb., 11 ozs. A defunct bay horse was found lying on the south side of the public square on last Monday morning. We were unable to learn whether it was a case of equine suicide or bots. The remains were removed during the day by supervisor Bozarth.

North and South were two experts playing in a catch-as-catch-can rubber bridge game. They were experts, but they were also old-fashioned experts who did not believe in the Gerber four club convention.

However, when expert South opened one no-trump, expert North decided that he had a perfect hand to bid four clubs to ask for aces. He felt sure that his partner would read his bid as Gerber whereupon expert North would be able to sign off at four spades or bid six or seven as the occasion warranted. Sure enough, South read the four club bid and responded four spades to show three aces. Of course, in the Gerber convention four diamonds shows no aces; four hearts one; and four spades two; but old-fashioned expert South could not really be expected to know this. Fortunately for North and South's peace of mind, expert North was equally unfamiliar with Gerber. In Blackwood he knew that spades showed three aces. It ought to be the same in Gerber. South read his partner for three aces. He could count to thirteen tricks and bid seven no-trump. Like most of this week's articles on misunderstandings there is a serious side to this article. It should serve as a warning to players who may intend to use the Gerber convention that they make sure they know how many aces their responses show.

WHITE HALL CLERGY PLANS MENTAL HEALTH CONFERENCE

WHITE HALL — Rev. E. Harris Paulson and Rev. Daniel Hall went to Springfield, Illinois last week for an interview with Tom Clark, acting therapist of the department of mental health. They also spoke with B. W. Tucker, chief of mental health education of the department of mental health. A future conference is being planned with Mrs. Marian Slivka, field representative of the Illinois association of mental health, to be held at the Jacksonville State hospital. A meeting of county officers on this project will be held in September.

DRIVER INJURED—Harvey L. Mueller, 51, of 1420 Passavant Drive is in fair condition at Passavant hospital where he was admitted as a patient shortly after 9 o'clock Friday evening. Mueller was alone in his auto, about two miles northwest of the city on the County Farm Road, when he apparently lost control of the vehicle on a curve. The auto skidded about 300 feet, sheared off a telephone pole and overturned after vaulting a 9-foot ditch. Mueller was rushed to the hospital by Lowe ambulance. State police said Mueller was thrown from the auto after it struck the telephone pole. Telephone service northwest of town was knocked out for several hours until repair crews restored the broken lines. The demolished auto was towed from the scene.

Rat—The Great Killer Can Be Exterminated

Why board rats when each one costs you $10 or more a year and gives nothing in return but disease problems and property damage?

Too many people do little about rats because they are misled into believing that they have few rats on their farms, according to University of Illinois extension poultry specialists S. F. Riden and Hugh S. Johnson. But a few visible rats mean that many more are on the premises.

For example, when one farmer sold his laying flock, he decided to get rid of the "one or two" rats in his henhouse. The score at the end of his extermination program was 1,800 dead rats.

Here is a way to estimate rat population: If you never see rats but see signs of them, there are from one to 100 on the premises. If you see rats occasionally at night, there are 100 to 500. Occasional daytime and numerous night sightings indicate 500 to 1,000. And there may be as many as 5,000 rats if you see many of them at night and several in the daytime.

A Deadly Animal
Rats are a threat to health, Riden and Johnson emphasize. It has been said that rat-borne diseases have killed more people than all the wars in history. They are known to transmit to men and animals more than 35 diseases, including plague, typhus fever, food poisoning, leptospirosis, tularemia, rat bite fever, atrophic rhinitis, infectious jaundice and distemper. They also carry 18 kinds of lice, fleas, ticks and mites. Most large cities report that rats bite 150 or more persons each year.

Rats are also expensive freeloaders. One rat will eat about one-third as much feed as a laying hen and will contaminate 10 times as much feed as it eats. Rats damage buildings and chew insulation on electrical wires, causing fires. Insurance companies estimate that rats cause 25 percent of the fires of undetermined origin in this country. And it is estimated that they destroy 200 million bushels of grain a year.

They Breed And Breed

The total loss due to rats is believed to exceed one million dollars a year, a figure that does not seem too far-fetched when calculations indicate that the descendants of one pair of rats could exceed 350 million in three years.

There are two preventive practices that should be used on every farm, Riden and Johnson believe. One is to eliminate rat harborage, such as tall weeds or grass, piles of trash, lumber, fence posts and brush. Then follow with good day-to-day housekeeping.

A second practice is to make buildings and feed bins rat-proof. Close cracks, breaks and spaces around pipes, vents and other openings with concrete, hardware cloth or sheet metal. Screen all drains, sewers, ventlators openings and windows.

New Weapons

If rats increase, poison baits become the most effective control. Ready-to-use or concentrated anticoagulant baits will give good control with proper use. If you use the concentrate, mix it with food that is highly acceptable to rats, put out fresh bait regularly and use the treatment up to 15 days. A single dose is not lethal.

Some anticoagulants are being mixed with an antibacterial agent to prevent a natural buildup of vitamin K. Riden and Johnson note.

Grass Important In U.S. Economy, Says ASCS Head

Most of us take grass for granted, but we'd be in bad shape without it, Lester E. Martin, Chairman, Morgan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said last week.

"If we didn't have grass, we'd not only lose our topsoil—and with it the fertility of our fields—but we'd have no fish in our streams. The silt clogging streams from runoff would soon kill all life in the rivers, streams and farm ponds. For the same reason, our reservoirs would soon be full of silt and we'd be short of drinking water and water for household and industrial uses."

"Improved stands of grass, as well as many additional acres, have resulted from ACP and Feed Grain Programs in recent years," Mr. Martin said. More than 400 Morgan County farmers are participating in these programs in 1965. Over 1,000 acres of cropland in these programs are now devoted to grass and other conserving uses. Most of this land had been used for row crops before being seeded to grass.

Chairman Martin pointed out that grass is just as important today as it was when farm programs started more than 30 years ago. He said "if you're going to tie down the land, or manage water efficiently using nature's tools, you've just got to have grass."

Morgan County farmers are invited to stop at the A.S.C.S. OFFICE — 15 Permac Road, Jacksonville, Illinois, and discuss ACP cost-sharing programs which relate to more and better grass cover. The present sign-up period extends through August 13, 1965. Farm operators may still sign after that date if funds are available.

Fewer Farmers Every Day — Healthy Or Unhealthy?

URBANA—The success of modern agriculture has meant that fewer people than before produce food and fiber for a whole population. How far will this trend toward fewer farmers go? And how will society be affected if the ranks of active farmers become thinner?

Folke Dövring, University of Illinois professor of agricultural economics, believes that these questions concern all the western world just as soon or later they will concern any country that succeeds in its quest for greater prosperity.

In the July issue of Illinois Agricultural Economics, Dövring points out that the trend toward fewer farmers and farm workers has been under way in the United States for several decades. The peak number of farmers was reached about 1910. The decline started in the late 1930s, accelerated in the 1950s and continued rapidly. Between 1960 and 1964, it was averaging 4 percent a year. Today about one American in 15 is a farmer or farm worker, compared with one in four in 1930.

Dövring says that three major problems are dramatized by the dwindling farm population: income as a motive for leaving the farm, technical needs for labor in agriculture, and the social and economic effects upon rural life.

Mighty Cheap Food
Despite complaints about high farm price supports, all the gains of greater productivity have not gone to farmers, Dövring says. Farm prices continue to decrease in relation to the income level. Food expenses take a smaller part of the family budget than ever before. At the same time, the share of agriculture in the national income decreases and the farm labor force becomes smaller.

Both features are normal in a prosperous, rapidly expanding economy, Dövring says. Yet some people question the substitution of capital for labor. The fact that it takes place shows that it is profitable—a success story that other parts of the economy would find hard to surpass.

Without this massive exodus of labor from farming, one of three things would have been inevitable: high food prices, higher costs of farm support, or grinding farm poverty.

How About Tomorrow?
How much labor will it take to do our farming in the future? Dövring points out that the past few decades have been rich in technical achievements. For example, grain crops now take only three to six hours of labor per acre a year. Gains in efficiency in livestock production are in sight. Labor in dairy farming may be reduced by half. U.S. agriculture could operate now with a three-million-man labor force instead of the four million used in 1960 if all farming were done as efficiently as it is on the better half of our farms.

Many people believe that a loss of farm population will cause the traditional family farms to be replaced by centrally operated "factories in the fields." Rather, the substitution of capital for labor has decreased the use of hired labor on corn-belt farms, making them more nearly "family" units, Dövring says.

More Strain Today
Large-scale operation depends not on economic superiority, but on economic muscle, Dövring believes. When farmers become fewer, farms grow larger and the financial strain on farmers increases. This situation has produced many part-owner farms in the U.S.

Dövring notes that the decreasing number of farmers will strongly affect other groups of rural residents. Service people will have fewer customers. Country towns will decline, and farmers will spend more of their net income in the medium-sized cities. The local tax base may shrink, and the cost of community services may increase.

These disadvantages do not outweigh the advantages of substituting capital for labor in agriculture, Dövring believes. But they are serious enough to cause concern and to start a search for remedies through better regional planning.

Vacation, Tourism?
The economic life of rural areas from which farmers have migrated is normally rebalanced by attracting industry or other new economic activity. The more picturesque regions may develop recreation and tourism. Recently farm vacation and recreation enterprises have been organized on a commercial scale in Illinois and several other states.

prices at support levels through the year, the end of an era of soybean acreage and sales expansion? Will we find soybeans on the surplus commodity list for the first time in history? Just what does it mean to farm operators?" Strayer asks.

There probably has never been a time in history when it was so important to know as much as possible about all the factors affecting the crop. Everything on the convention program — weed control talks, a farm machinery panel, talks on overseas markets, is being aimed at the soybean producer, Strayer says.

Soybeans ranked as the No. 3 cash crop in the United States last year, and have been the leading dollar crop in export markets for the past 3 years.

ILLINOIS OUTLOOK LETTER

EUROPE BUYING MORE BEEF --FROM AUSTRALIA

A couple of years ago our cattlemen became alarmed about the rapid increase in imports of meat. Since that time imports have been reduced sharply, and many stockmen have become interested in finding overseas markets for their own beef. They will doubtless be interested in some recent comments by E. E. Broadbent, professor of livestock marketing at the University of Illinois.

Broadbent recently returned to the campus after studying livestock marketing for several months in foreign countries. He reports that there is a growing shortage of beef in Western Europe. The shortage arises from greatly increased consumer demand for beef and from a shrinkage in the amounts supplied from former sources.

Stronger demand. Demand is increasing because of the high level of employment and rising wages. At the same time the formerly large flow of beef from South America to Europe has diminished.

Most countries in Western Europe have been enjoying nearly full employment and rising wages. Increases in buying power per person often exceed the rate in the United States, but population growth is slower.

West Germany is the major importer of beef in Western Europe. Shipments into the country during the first half of this year were equivalent to 407,000 head of cattle, 28 percent more than the year before. Most of this increase came from Australia and the United Kingdom.

Less beef from South America. Exports of beef from Argentina totaled about 147,000 tons during the first half of 1965, 28 percent less than last year. Exports from Uruguay were also lower. Most European observers do not expect any quick recovery in the flow of beef from South America to Europe.

Australia ships more. The Australians have greatly increased their shipments of beef to the West European markets. They have established meat market expediter in Europe. Their prime targets are restaurants, hotels and institutional meat users.

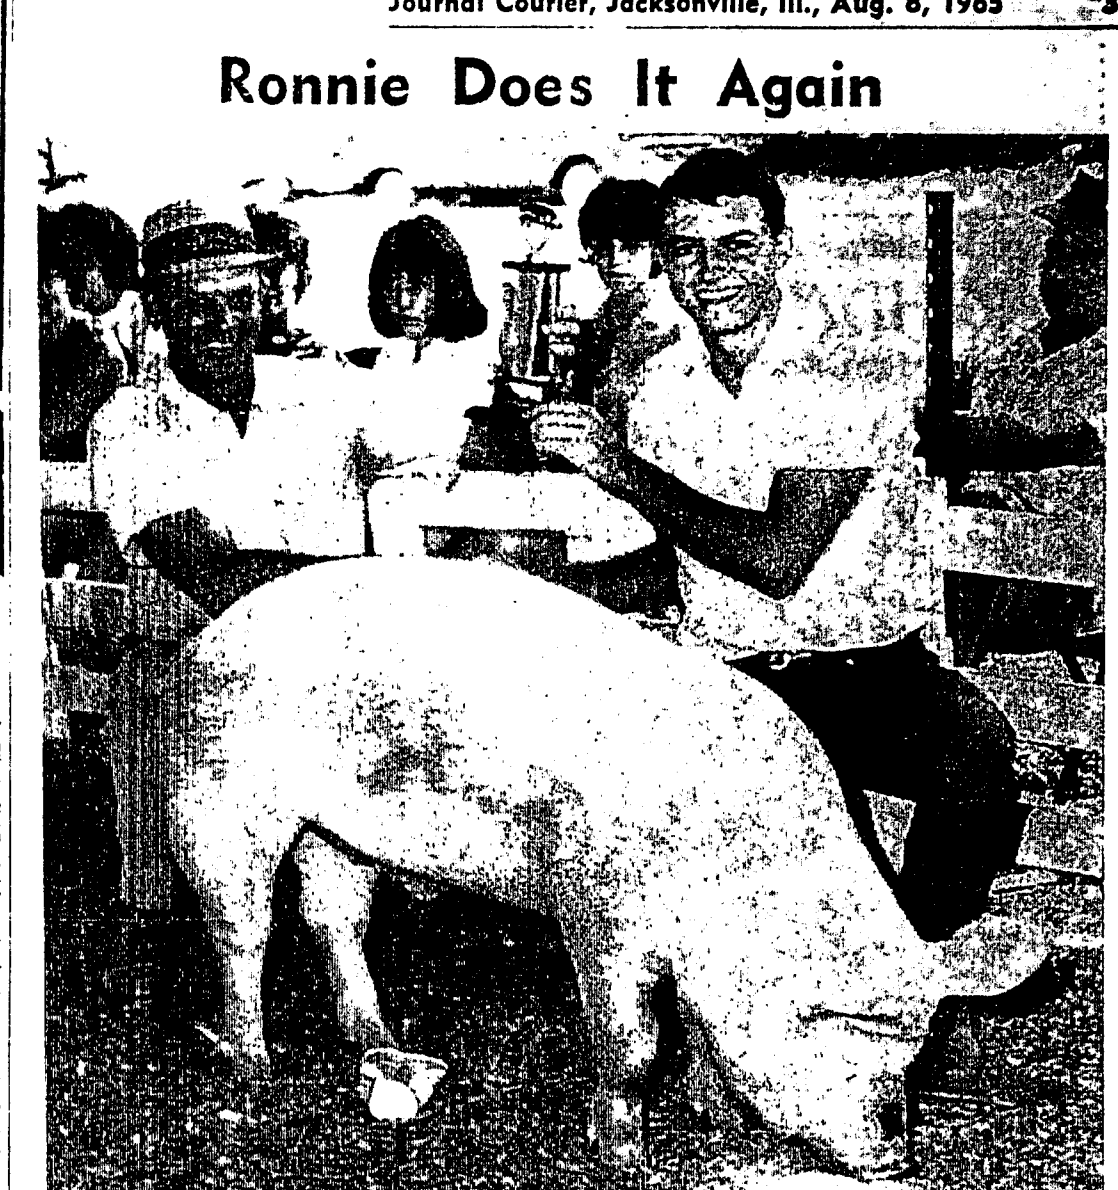

New Zealand continues to ship a large proportion of her beef exports to Europe. The United Kingdom has become the third largest supplier of beef to West Germany.

European buyers want lean beef. Broadbent observes that most of the beef produced in U.S. feedlots is too highly finished to please European buyers. They want and use beef that is about like our typical Standard and Commercial grades. The best of their beef is similar to our Good grade.

Prices for these grades of beef recently were 2 to 4 cents a pound higher in the Common Market countries than in Chicago. This difference is not enough to pay transportation costs from our packing centers to the European markets.

Prices of our Standard grade of cattle recently were around $22.00 a hundred pounds, 27 percent higher than a year before. This rise puts our beef in an even less favorable position to compete with other supply sources.

Shipping costs high. Shipping

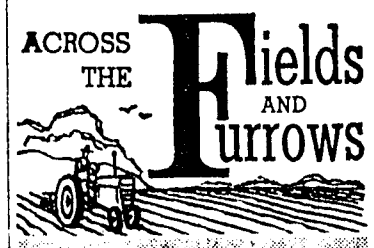

Rollin (Pepper) Martin, superintendent of the swine division of the Morgan County Junior Fair, presents a trophy to a proud and happy Ronnie Walpole after Ronnie's splendid 220 pound Yorkshire barrow easily won the grand championship rosette at the Morgan County Fair Friday. For the second straight year, Ronnie and his Yorkshires garnered the top prizes in the fair's swine competition.

costs from United States ports to Europe are around $110 a ton for chilled beef. The cost from South America and Australia is only about $75 a ton.

FORMER ROODHOUSE MAN DISCOVERS RARE ARTIFACTS

ROODHOUSE — Rare Spanish artifacts, including muskets and pottery, discovered on St. Joseph's Peninsula are expected to lead to new knowledge about the Spanish occupation of Florida during the period from 1650 - 1750.

Dr. Hale G. Smith, Florida State University archaeologist, son of Mrs. S. Lee Smith of Roodhouse, announced the discovery recently. He said the village his team unearthed was a military outpost until early in the 18th century when it was moved to Pensacola.

His mother, the former Nina Hale, long-time resident of Roodhouse, has entered the Hilltop Rest Haven near White Hall where she is receiving care at the present.

Roodhouse News
Mrs. Ora Gonterman of this city has received word of the birth of a son, May 5, to Mr. and Mrs. Gary R. Gonterman of Sanford, Fla. The son has been named Gary R. Gonterman II. He joins two sisters, Marge Renee and Garma Lavelle.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jameson of Jacksonville are the maternal grandparents. Mrs. Gonterman is the paternal grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ray Morgan are the parents of a baby girl born Tuesday, July 27, at Boyd Memorial Hospital.

Carrollton.
The child has been named Tonia Lynn Morgan.
Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morgan of Roodhouse and the maternal grandmother is Mrs. Agnes Kirchbach of Carrollton.

The father has been spending a thirty-day leave from the US paratroopers at home and will leave Aug. 10 for California and later for Okinawa.

Jean Reese, 11-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Derrol Angle, fell from a swing at the uptown park while attending Bible School Wednesday during play time. She was taken to the White Hall hospital where her right wrist was found to be fractured and was placed in a cast.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hendrickson and four children of Oklahoma City, Okla., are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hendrickson, and other relatives.

Abb Edwards quietly celebrated his 93rd birthday anniversary, July 28. Mr. Edwards who has been confined to his home the last year received many cards and gifts from friends and relatives and received visitors during the day. Among other remembrances was a lovely bouquet of roses from the Edward Christison flower garden.

WHITE HALL CLASS OF '55 HAS REUNION

WHITE HALL—The members of the Class of 1955 of White Hall High school held a 10 year reunion at Lions Park on July 31 with a potluck dinner. Letters were read from David Coker, Bob Meyer, and Shirley Dyer Hughes, members unable to attend. Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Sawyer of Roodhouse, also attended. Mrs. Sawyer was class sponsor.

Members of the class attending were Jeanie Chumley Fansler, Barbara Thomas Wells, Georgia Warrell Nash, George M. Washburn, Lee Roy Mast, Joyce McCaherty Steckel, Ruth Koenig Lindsay, Jeanette Backs Bateman, Sharon Westledge Dustman.

Charlotte Cox Hammon, Sharon Price, Robert C. Hart, James F. McClure, Rev. Robert Ricks, Sue Search Ricks. The next reunion will be in 1970, and Sharon Price and Charlotte Cox to serve as committee for same.

LARRY THOMAS LAHEY (right) was three years old August 7, and GARY DENNIS (left) will be six years old August 22. Shown with them are big brother Terry and baby brother Carey Philip. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lahey, 415 E. Douglas.

KEVIN WAYNE STREETER is one year old right today, August 8. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Streeter, 820 N. Prairie. Kevin has two older sisters Sue and Wanda.

BETH GARNER writes, "I will be six years old August 10. My parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Garner, White Hall. I have two grandmothers, Mrs. Mae Garner and Mrs. Iola Enoch both of White Hall. I have three brothers and one sister."

BIRTHDAY WISH
All the Junior Page readers and your editor send best Birthday Wishes to these marchers. (We think there must be many Birthday Marchers away on vacations.)

JOIN THE PARADE
To be a Birthday Marcher: two weeks before your birthday send your name, address, age and birthdate, also parents' names, to the Junior Page Editor, Jacksonville Journal Courier, Jacksonville, Ill. If you send a photo this may be called for as soon as it appears in the paper. Names may be sent at any time, and they will be held for the Sunday nearest your birthday.

Let's Go Birding

Birder Friends

By Emma Mae Leonhard

On July 5 we had a welcome telephone call from a member of the Audubon Society. She had a friend from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who was a devoted birder and who hoped to add the Loggerhead Shrike, the Mockingbird, and the Ruby-Throated Hummingbird to her year's list. She understood that they could be found in this area, but the question was where.

Birders always welcome other birders and a chance to share experiences with them. Two of us rapidly changed our plans for the afternoon and set out with our guest in search of the three kinds of birds. We made no promises, as a warm summer afternoon is the poorest time for birding and the nesting season is also the hardest time for rapid birding.

Of the three kinds of birds we guessed that the Shrike would be the most difficult to locate, but we were wrong. To dispose of the other two quickly, we caught only a glimpse of one Mockingbird as its long graceful gray-and-white form flew across the road and on over to a tree across the field. At last we found two Hummingbirds where we hoped to—on the red and orange tubular flowers of the Trumpet Vine.

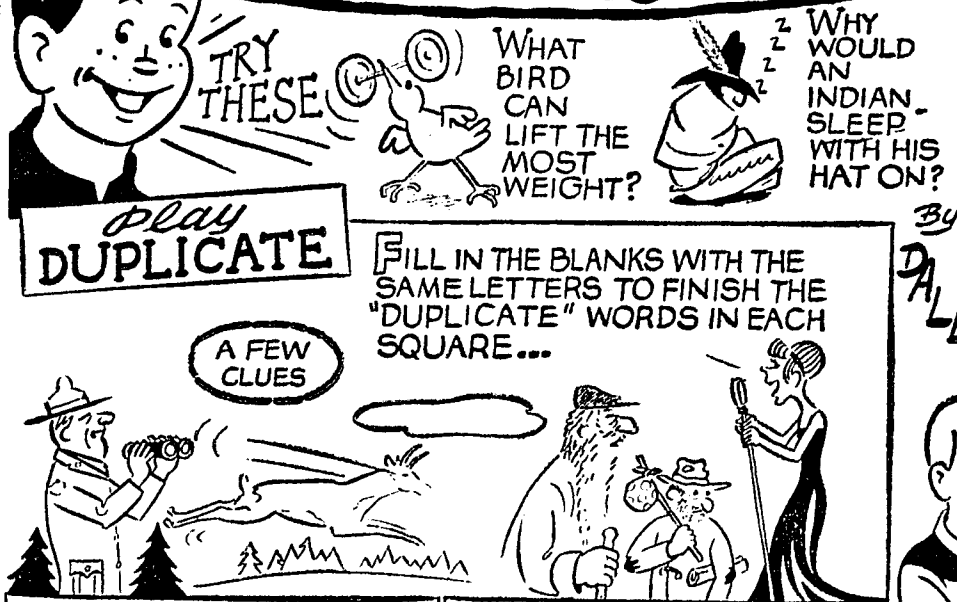

But unexpectedly we were treated with the Shrike first, in the middle, and last all along the country-road drive. First we caught sight of one on the telephone wire. Before we could get near the bird, it had flown with its characteristic low swooping glide down into the field.

Knowing its habit, we stopped and watched for its return to the wire. It followed its usual habit, and we had placed the Shrike on the list.

As we drove on looking for bird activity and sharing unusual bird stories, we caught sight of another Shrike on another telephone wire. Upon approaching it we discovered two more Shrikes near the pole and, beyond, another one—four Shrikes in a row. Of course, we were gazing at a whole family of Shrikes. By this time we had had a Shrike day, but we added two more before we ended the trip.

When our guest left us, she warmly said what all good birders say, "When you come to Cedar Rapids (or any place that applies) look me up. Maybe I can show you something that we have around here." And we may do just that, and see our birding friend again.

Reds Edge Dodgers In 11th, 5-4

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds lashed out four home runs Friday night but had to call on Jim Coker for a pinch single in the 11th inning for the winning run in a 5-4 decision over the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

Coker, batting for Bill McCool, singled to left with one out, driving in pinch runner Marty Keough. Keough had come in to run for Don Pavletich after his leadoff single. Charley James' sacrifice moved the winning run into position.

The Reds' first four runs came on solo homers. Pavletich's eighth, Pete Rose's ninth, Deron Johnson's 21st and Tommy Harper's 12th.

The Dodgers tied it twice, in the second on a single and two Reds' errors, and the last time at 4-4 in the eighth.

Abernathy Halts New York Rally To Save 4-3 Edge

NEW YORK (AP) — Ted Abernathy's 59th relief appearance of the year choked off a New York rally Friday night and preserved Chicago's 4-3 victory as well as Larry Jackson's spotless record against the Mets.

Jackson, who has a 13-0 lifetime record against the Mets, had a shutout going for eight innings before Gary Kolb laced a three-run homer with none out in the ninth.

That brought a hurried call for Abernathy, the majors' busiest reliever, who struck out the first two men he faced and got the third on a ground out.

Jackson was staked to a 3-0 lead in the fifth, two of the runs scoring on Don Landrum's homer and the other on Ron Santo's single off reliever Larry Bear-nath.

WANTED! MEN - WOMEN

from ages 18 and over. Prepare now for U. S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five passes.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Hal Lanier doubled home two runs and then scored on Dick Groat's hit throw as the San Francisco Giants nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 Friday night.

Shortstop Groat's relay trying to get McCovey at the plate bounced away from catcher Tim McCarver, and Lanier slid home with the decisive run.

Bunning 5 Hits Bucs For 5-0 Philly Triumph

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jim Bunning shut out Pittsburgh on five hits, striking out 12 along the way, as Philadelphia defeated the Pirates 5-0 at five Friday night.

Johnny Callison's 25th homer into the left field stands at the start of the fourth inning was the big blow in the Phillies' third straight victory. Tony Gonzalez, who had three singles, drove in Rich Allen with another run in the same inning. Bunning doubled in two more runs in the seventh.

Oliver's 4 RBI Powers Braves To 8-4 Triumph

WILWAUKEE (AP) — Gene Oliver drove in four runs with a double and a homer, powering Milwaukee and Tony Cloninger to an 8-4 triumph over Houston Friday night.

Oliver put the Braves in front in the third inning with his double after Hank Aaron got the first of his three hits, a double, and Ed Mathews was walked intentionally.

Ron Taylor, making his first start of the season, walked Aaron in the fifth before Oliver connected for his 11th homer.

White Sox Pound Out 13 Hits 11-5

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox pounded out 13 hits and whipped the Cleveland Indians 11-5 Friday.

Johnny Romano's 10th home run and clutch hitting by J.C. Martin and Don Buford highlighted the victory, which went to Joe Horlen. Martin had a double and two singles and drove in five runs. Buford batted in three runs with a double and single.

Rocky Colavito had four of Cleveland's 13 hits, which included Leon Wagner's 20th home run.

Cash's Single Gives Detroit 5-4 Win Over NY

DETROIT (AP) — Norm Cash's run-scoring single in the seventh inning broke a tie and gave the Detroit Tigers a 5-4 victory over the struggling New York Yankees Friday night.

The Yanks, trailing 3-0 and 4-1, tied it in the top of the seventh after the first three batters singled, but Cash's line shot to right followed a walk and a sacrifice and pinned the loss on Pedro Ramos, New York's third pitcher.

The Tigers got three runs in the first on singles by Don Wert and Jerry Lumpe, a walk, a two-run single by Willie Horton and a sacrifice fly.

Athletics Blast Baltimore, 9-4

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Wayne Causey and Jose Tartabull each rapped three hits as Kansas City crushed Baltimore 9-4 Friday night.

Tartabull's double followed by Causey's single in the third inning snapped a 2-2 tie and started the Athletics on their way to the easy victory. Jim Landis added a two-run single before starter Milt Pappas retired the side.

Tartabull started the fifth with a single and came around on Ken Harrelson's second run-scoring double. Harrelson drove in Causey, who had singled, in the first inning, and scored as Dick Green singled.

The Athletics put the game away with three more runs in the sixth.

Huarte-Led Rally Falls Short, Browns Win 24-16

CHICAGO (AP) — John Huarte of Notre Dame and the New York Jets, entering the game with Cleveland leading 24-3, passed the College All-Stars to a brilliant rally that fell short against the Browns Friday night.

Cleveland finally won the 32nd annual All-Star game 24-16 before 68,000 and Vice President Hubert Humphrey but not before Huarte had thrown a thorough scare into the National Football League champions.

In the final period Huarte passed the All Stars to one touchdown in an 80-yard drive in which he threw six passes for 68 yards, and to another in which he completed three out of four for 54 yards including one for 40 yards to Lance Rentzel of Oklahoma. In the end it was sweeping punt returns, the hard running of Jimmy Brown and the hard passing of Frank Ryan that broke the back of the College All-Stars.

Intermittent rain failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the crowd which cheered Huarte. With four minutes to play, the All-Stars blocked a field goal try of the Browns from the 25 and again Huarte took over. This time, however, the Browns smothered the attack.

There were two costly injuries. Paul Warfield, Brown flanker, received a broken left clavicle, and Roger Staubach, the Navy quarterback who was the early spark of the All-Stars, received a possible dislocated left shoulder after only 19 minutes of play.

The punt returns cost the College All-Stars a blocked kick close to their own goal. Walter Roberts set up the first Brown touchdown with a 45-yard return and Leroy Kelly the third with a 37-yard return.

Kelly's 37-yard dash set up a 10-yard TD pass from Ryan to Gary Collins for a 24-3 Brown lead.

Still up in the air, however, is whether the 75-year-old baseball marvel will be back at the helm next year.

In his first news conference since his confinement nearly two weeks ago, Stengel said he expected to leave the hospital in about five days, with orders to rest in his apartment for at least two or three weeks.

Asked if he would be managing again before the season was over, Stengel sat straight up in his wheelchair, gripped the sides hard with both hands and replied:

"I wouldn't tell you and I couldn't tell you. But if you want to know the truth, I'll tell you. I'm still the manager of this here club."

"The coaches consult with me every day and every move that's made is done after they consult with me — beforehand."

Stengel's words poured from his lips so fast and furious that at one point his nurse hurried to his side to make sure he didn't attempt to stand up without assistance.

"She takes care of me pretty good," he said. "She's afraid I'll fall right in her lap. And I would, too."

Just 30 minutes was allotted for the news conference but it was extended to 45 minutes because Stengel posed 20 minutes for the photographers, demonstrating his agility and ability to move about in a special walker.

At one point, he loosened his pale yellow kimono-like robe and pulled up one leg of his pajamas, exposing the area where the operation was performed.

"Isn't that a beautiful thing?" he asked, as the reporters gaped at the incision that required 22 stitches.

Despite his animation, Stengel looked pale and wan. It was obvious he had lost weight, perhaps 10 to 12 pounds.

Stengel was operated upon July 25 to repair his left hip, fractured as he twisted out of a friend's car two days earlier.

PISTONS PLAYER CHARGED
DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit Pistons basketball player was charged with assault and battery on a policeman Friday.

Police claimed Reggie Harding punched a Detroit policeman who was ticketing him for a minor traffic violation.

The 7-foot, 225-pound Harding admitted striking Officer James Coffin, police said, but claimed Coffin provoked him "When he told me in an unlikable manner to get out of the street."

Coffin said he found Harding's car parked in a "no standing" zone.

AMATEUR ARCHERY TITLE

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Hans Wright, 29-year-old Australian archery champion, won the American amateur title Friday with a final score of 3,684 in the 81st championships of the National Archery Association.

George Slinzer of Dallas, Pa., finished second with 3,559; Allen Muller of Minneapolis, third with 3,506, and Ed Sroka of Sellersville, Pa., fourth with 3,441.

Although Daniel Boone died in Missouri, his remains and those of his wife were moved to Frankfort, Ky., in 1845.

NEW YORK (AP) — Say what you like about the mighty drives of such muscle men as Jack Nicklaus, Arnie Palmer, George Bayer, etc., the average player in the U.S. Open hits 'em only about 250 yards off the tee.

And the best scorers and longest hitters don't drive much farther.

For the third straight year, the U.S. Golf Association had a team of analysts, headed by Jack Reddy of Boston, studying shots in the 1965 Open at Bellerive. For drives they chose the 470-yard fourth.

The result: the average length of 396 drives on this hole — and 63 per cent were in the fairway — was 251 yards. The 10 low scorers in the tournament averaged 253 yards. Gary Player, the winner, averaged an even 250 with a 265-yarder his longest.

Runner-up Kel Nagle averaged only 240 yards.

Amateur champion Bill Campbell belted one 289 yards, the longest measured drive, while Tony Lema averaged 272 yards on his four drives.

A half dozen players, including Nicklaus, were singled out as noted long hitters who played all four rounds. They averaged 263 yards. Nicklaus and Miller Barber had 268-yard averages and Tom Weiskopf 267.

In 1964 at Congressional, two holes were chafed and the field averaged 252 yards on drives. At Brookline in 1963, where wind was troublesome and the rough and fairway grass denser than usual, the average was only 244 yards. Back in 1956 on the 432-yard eighth at Oak Hill, Rochester, the field drove an average of 253 yards.

To gather a few more facts, the analysts took their charts and tape measures to the 401-yard seventh to study the effects of drivers on scoring. The 48 shots that hit the fairway more than 260 yards out resulted in an average score of 3.94 on the par-four hole. Five in a trap about that far out brought a 4.60 average.

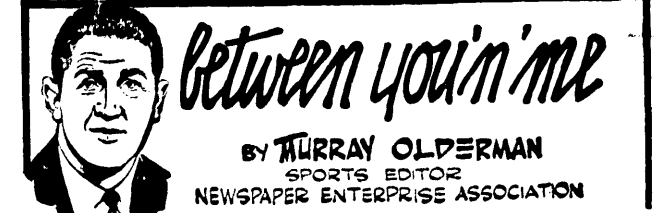

In the 240-260-yard range in the fairway the average score was 4.05 while the short but straight drivers averaged 4.12. The guys who drove into the rough had somewhat worse scores but not as bad as the ones who hit the big trap.

JUST CAN'T SCORE
NEW YORK — (NEA) — What's the most inhibited sport in the world? Soccer, water polo, alligator wrestling? In England, the vote is likely to go for what venerable if exclusive pastime, the Eaton Wall game, which had its beginnings early in the 18th century.

Students at Eaton School for Boys are the primary participants. Their playing field — a horrible thing 110 yards long and six yards wide — was laid out against a campus wall in 1717.

The rules of the game are simple: get a ball over the opponents' goal line. It's no fair using gas but most everything else goes in a fracas where the only approved strategy is brute force.

How tough does it get? Fearful. There has been no score at all in the Eaton Wall Game for the last 50 years.

LIBERTY, Mo. (NEA) — Bohemian (on his father's side) Emil Joe Holub sat his first raked the bronc with his spurs wild bull at a small rodeo in Rawls, Tex. It was a spinning coded the horse across the bull, what they call a money arena in a swan dive, landing bull, because the animal was on his head.

E. J. was on it for kicks, to break up the routine at Texas Tech, where he was a sophomore studying to be an All-American football player. He used a fictitious name. The coaches might object to a center risking a broken neck.

When they set him on the bull, an old cowhand thrust a ring of Old Grand-Dad in his mouth and drawled, "Have a chaw, son. And when you come out, look back at the stars."

If a rider looks down at the bull's head, he'll be pulled right over it.

By the time he came out of the chute, the chaw of tobacco had E. J. half woozy. And then the bull went into a spin just inside the fence.

"He threw me right off," recalled Holub. "My spur got caught on his hump, and we went round five, six times, me dragging along. My head was really goin' round."

FAN 26 IN 24 INNINGS
SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Scott Morton of Pierre, S.D., struck out 26 batters — nearly one for each inning, as Pierre beat Sioux Falls 5-3 in a 24-inning Basin League baseball game Tuesday night.

One Sioux Falls batter was up 11 times in the 6 1/2 hour game — and five men from Pierre and two from Sioux Falls were up 10 times each.

The Beast (which comes out easier than E. J. and fits his tobacco-chewing personality), begins his fifth season with the Chiefs as a risk for the long haul because of those knees.

When he's right, he's an all-league linebacker and was an inspirational force behind the Chief's only AFL title in 1962.

Football, he finds, is fun and fine, but as for living, well... he'll feel he's had it all when he gets to go to the Calgary Stampede and the rodeo festival at Cheyenne some day.

CHANGE STADIUM NAME
GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The City Council voted unanimously Tuesday night to change the name of Green Bay's City Stadium to Lambeau Field in honor of the late E. L. Curly Lambeau, founder of the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

Lambeau, who coached the Packers for 31 years, died June 1. He was 67.

Only triple play in the 1964 American League baseball season was executed by the Washington Senators.

COCKERILL FAMILY HOLDS REUNION AT WINCHESTER

The twenty-ninth annual Cockerill reunion was held Aug. 1 at Monument Park, Winchester.

Forty-six relatives and one guest attended the reunion. Joe Fletcher, 82-year-old Murrayville resident, was honored as the oldest person present. The youngest family member was Mike Cockerill, nine-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cockerill of Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

Following a basket dinner served at noon, a business session and election of family officers was held. Ruth Lackschmidt of Perry is the new president. Austin Cockerill of Jacksonville is vice president. Estella Cockerill of Murrayville was named secretary-treasurer.

The 1966 reunion will be held on the first Sunday in August at Elbaugh corner, near Winchester. Alfred Cockerill was reelected chairman of the table committee.

Honored for traveling the longest distance to the reunion were Mrs. Tessie Nichols of South Gate, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cockerill and family of Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

JOURNAL COURIER PRIZE WINNERS

Friday's winner in the Journal-Courier daily prize drawing was Miss Minnie Rose Purdue of Route 3, Jacksonville. Miss Purdue has won an AM-FM portable radio by entering the contest at the Journal-Courier booth in the Merchants' Building at the Morgan County Fairgrounds.

Miss Purdue may receive her radio by calling at the Journal-Courier Business office, 235 West State.

The drawing was held at the Journal-Courier booth at 8 p.m. with John Thomas Aultenkamp selecting the name from Friday's entries. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Aultenkamp of Chapin.

A suspicion of curry powder added to baked beans that are being heated gives interesting flavor.

SHOWER HONORS CHARLA MUTCH IN NORTONVILLE

NORTONVILLE — A bridal shower honoring Miss Charla Mutch was held at the club hall in Nortonville Friday, July 30. Hostesses were Mrs. Harvey Crow and Mrs. Bill Orris.

Games were played and gifts awarded to Mrs. Herbert Clayton, Marjorie Mutch, Juanita Hinson, Gayle Penick and the door prize was given to Mrs. Hugh Burnett.

Final arrangements are being made for the Nortonville Picnic to be held August 12. Hens will be dressed Monday morning, Aug. 9, at the Lionel Seymour home.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kelly Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Parker Seymour, Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Rolson, Pleasant Plains, Mrs. Wayne Henry of near Murrayville, and Mrs. Raymond Trowbridge, Jacksonville.

Sunday callers at the Monroe Chaudoin home were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hicks, Mrs. Henry Chaudoin and children, Mrs. Lowell Wells, Leslie Cox and children of Morton. Eddie and Darryl Cox stayed for a visit. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Chaudoin and sons of Pleasant Plains were supper guests.

Sunday supper guests of the Melvin Koehler were Mr. and Mrs. John Koehler, Elizabeth McDannald, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coleman and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hamm. Victor, Tod and Angela Rolson are visiting while their parents the Jack Rolsons are in Tennessee. Victor went home with the Charles Colemans. Miss Sarah Wells from Rolling Meadows, near Chicago, and a friend spent the weekend with her parents, the Lowell Wells and family, then were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Wells in Jacksonville.

CRESTWOOD, Ky. (AP) — No one has trouble remembering the Zip Code number for Crestwood.

Postmaster Fred Lindsey obtained permission to have the number painted on the town's water tank which towers over the community.

News, Views Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Journal
COL. McLAIN F. WOOD—The father-in-law of Col. Woods received a dispatch from his daughter, at Nashville, Tenn., on Tuesday morning, informing him of the death of her husband, Col. Wood, at that city the evening before. The Colonel had been sick for several weeks with typhoid fever, and his death was not unexpected. He was in command of the post at Nashville when he died and had won the confidence and respect of those in authority as well as of soldiers and citizens. The Colonel had served his country well and faithfully, and earned a proud record to leave as an inheritance to his relatives and friends. Suitable arrangements are being made to receive his remains and honor them with a burial in a manner becoming a brave soldier who died at his post. Our limits this week forbid a more extended notice.

Col. Wood was the first Jacksonville man to answer Lincoln's call for troops to put down the rebellion. In 1861 he was county jailer and stopped at Springfield on his return from taking two prisoners to the new state penitentiary in Joliet. There he learned that Fort Sumter in Charleston Bay was being fired upon, immediately looked up his friend, Gov. Yates, and was authorized to raise at least a company of soldiers.

He was instrumental in raising Co. A, 10th Illinois Regiment, was later promoted to captain and then to lieutenant colonel. After serving three and a half years he resigned his commission, but was called back into uniform by Jacksonville people when the 154th Infantry was organized in February, 1865. He was elected colonel of the regiment and was the commandant at Nashville when he died.

MARRIED—Mr. J. H. Wyatt to Miss E. J. Longley, both of Morgan county, at the residence of the bride's father, in Jacksonville, August 4th, 1865.

Accompanying the above notice were the compliments of the happy pair to the printers, and samples of the wedding cakes. May they be blessed with a brilliant honeymoon, a long life, a large and happy family, and an abundance of life's choicest blessings.

MARRIED—Capt. Lewis Hanback to Miss Hattie Cooper, by the Rev. Tutthill, at the residence of Mr. Wilson Smith, on Wednesday, the 3d, inst.

No paltry slice of cake was offered to appease the printer in this case, but a peremptory order from one accustomed to command to be present at the wedding and to share in the wedding feast. We were there, and must confess that the brave Captain surrendered with becoming dignity, while his beautiful and modest captor magnanimously declined to humiliate her prisoner by exacting aught but a promise of love and loyalty in the future! Happy couple! May the union be long and enduring, and the fruit thereof many worthy sons of an able sire.

A NEW BOOK BINDERY—has been established in Jacksonville by Mr. Ernest Moeller, over McDonald's News Depot.

THE SIAMESE TWINS, Chang and Eng, having lost nearly all their property during the rebellion, have resorted to giving exhibitions in our Northern cities and may come here. It is said during the war they remained perfectly neutral and suffered both from the rebel and Union forces. Their residence was in North Carolina.

SOLDIER'S RECEPTION PICNIC—takes place to-day at Pisgah Church and a large number of our citizens have gone out.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel:
NEW FIRM—We learn that Mr. John W. Goltra, of the late firm of Goltra & Stryker, southwest corner of the square, has associated with him at the old stand, Mr. Joseph Tomlinson under the style of J. W. Goltra & Co. The new firm proposes to combine the hat and cap business of the late firm—greatly enlarged and improved—with a first class merchant tailoring establishment; the latter to be under the special supervision of Mr. Tomlinson. Mr. Tomlinson has long since secured the confidence of the public by giving convincing evidence of his thorough practical knowledge in manufacturing clothing to order, and by his skill in fitting "the human form divine." He is now in the Eastern cities, selecting a choice stock of cloths, cassimeres, vestings, &c., for order work.

Mr. John Goltra, the senior partner of the new firm, has been engaged for thirty years in the hat and cap business, and his practical knowledge and enlarged experience, give assurance that this branch of the business of the new firm will be so conducted as to give entire satisfaction to the public. The advertisement of the new firm will soon appear in our columns.

Our friend, Roland R. Chambers, presented us this week a tomato raised in his garden, measuring 14½" in circumference, and weighing 1 lb., 11 ozs. A defunct bay horse was found lying on the south side of the public square on last Monday morning. We were unable to learn whether it was a case of equine suicide or bots. The remains were removed during the day by supervisor Bozarth.

North and South were two ex-
 catch-can rubber bridge game.
 They were experts, but they were also old-fashioned experts who did not believe in the Gerber four club convention.

However, when expert South opened one no-trump, expert North decided that he had a perfect hand to bid four clubs to ask for aces. He felt sure that his partner would read his bid as Gerber whereupon expert North would be able to sign off at four spades or bid six or seven as the occasion warranted.
 Sure enough, South read the four club bid and responded four spades to show three aces.
 Of course, in the Gerber convention four diamonds shows no aces; four hearts one; and four spades two; but old-fashioned expert South could not really be expected to know this.
 Fortunately for North and South's peace of mind, expert North was equally unfamiliar with Gerber. In Blackwood he knew that spades showed three aces. It ought to be the same in Gerber. South read his partner for three aces. He could count to thirteen tricks and bid seven no-trump.

 Like most of this week's articles on misunderstandings there is a serious side to this article. It should serve as a warning to players who may intend to use the Gerber convention that they make sure they know how many aces their responses show.

ROODHOUSE—Rare Spanish artifacts, including muskets and pottery, discovered on St. Joseph's Peninsula are expected to lead to new knowledge about the Spanish occupation of Florida during the period from 1650 - 1750.

Dr. Hale G. Smith, Florida State University archaeologist, son of Mrs. S. Lee Smith of Roodhouse, announced the discovery recently. He said the village his team unearthed was a military outpost until early in the 18th century when it was moved to Pensacola.

His mother, the former Nina Hale, long-time resident of Roodhouse, has entered the Hill-top Rest Haven near White Hall where she is receiving care at the present.

Reds Edge Dodgers In 11th, 5-4

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds lashed four home runs Friday night but had to call on Jim Coker for a pinch single in the 11th inning for the winning run in a 5-4 decision over the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

Coker, batting for Bill McCool, singled to left with one out, driving in pinch runner Marty Keough. Keough had come in to run for Don Pavlich after his leadoff single. Charley James' sacrifice moved the winning run into position.

The Reds' first four runs came on solo homers. Pavlich's eighth, Pete Rose's ninth, Deron Johnson's 21st and Tommy Harper's 12th.

The Dodgers tied it twice. In the second on single and two Reds' errors, and the last time at 4-4 in the eighth.

Abernathy Halts New York Rally To Save 4-3 Edge

NEW YORK (AP) — Ted Abernathy's 59th relief appearance in the choke choked off a New York rally Friday night and preserved Chicago's 4-3 victory as well as Larry Jackson's spotless record against the Mets.

Jackson, who has a 13-0 lifetime record against the Mets, had a shutout going for eight innings before Gary Kolb laced a three-run homer with none out in the ninth.

That brought a hurried call for Abernathy, the major league's best reliever, who struck out the first two men he faced and got the third on a ground out.

from ages 18 and over. Prepare now for U. S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Hal Lanier doubled home two runs and then scored on Dick Groat's bad throw as the San Francisco Giants nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 Friday night.

Shortstop Groat's relay trying to get McCovey at the plate bounced away from catcher Tim McCarver, and Lanier slid home with the decisive run.

White Sox Pound Out 13 Hits 11-5

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox pounded out 15 hits and whipped the Cleveland Indians 11-5 Friday.

Johnny Romano's 10th home run and clutch hitting by J.C. Martin and Don Buford highlighted the victory, which went to Joe Horlen. Martin had a double and two singles and drove in five runs. Buford batted in three runs with a double and single.

Rocky Colavito had four of Cleveland's 13 hits, which included Leon Wagner's 20th home run.

DETROIT (AP) — Norm Cash's run-scoring single in the seventh inning broke a tie and gave the Detroit Tigers a 5-4 victory over the struggling New York Yankees Friday night.

The Yanks, trailing 3-0 and 4-1, tied it in the top of the seventh after the first three batters singled, but Cash's line shot to right followed a walk and a sacrifice and pinned the loss on Pedro Ramos, New York's third pitcher.

The Tigers got three runs in the first on singles by Don Wert and Jerry Lumpe, a walk, a two-run single by Willie Horton and a sacrifice fly.

Huarte-Led Rally Falls Short, Browns Win 24-16

CHICAGO (AP) — John Huarte of Notre Dame and the New York Jets, entering the game with Cleveland leading 24-3, passed the College All-Stars to a brilliant rally that fell short against the Browns Friday night.

Cleveland finally won the 32nd annual All-Star game 24-16 before 68,000 and Vice President Hubert Humphrey but not before Huarte had thrown a thorough scare into the National Football League champions.

In the final period Huarte passed the All Stars to one touchdown in an 80-yard drive, in which he threw six passes for 68 yards, and to another in which he completed three out of four for 54 yards including one for 40 yards to Lance Rentzel of

The punt returns cost the College players dearly but a blocked kick close to their own goal. Walter Roberts set up the first Brown touchdown with a 45-yard return and Leroy Kelly the third with a 37-yard return.

Kelly's 37-yard dash set up a 10-yard TD pass from Ryan to Gary Collins for a 24-3 Brown lead.

Huarte, entering midway in the period, completed six straight passes in an 80-yard march, capped by the Irish star's five-yard shot to Yale's Chuck Mercein.

Average Drive
About 250 Yards

NEW YORK (AP) — Say what you like about the mighty drives of such muscle men as Jack Nicklaus, Arnie Palmer, George Bayer, etc., the average player in the U.S. Open hits 'em only about 250 yards off the tee.

And the best scorers and longest hitters don't drive much farther.

For the third straight year, the U.S. Golf Association had a team of analysts, headed by Jack Reddy of Boston, studying shots in the 1965 Open at Bellerive. For drives they chose the 470-yard fourth.

Their conclusions appear in the August issue of the USGA Journal.

The result: the average length of 396 drives on this hole— and 63 per cent were in the fairway —was 251 yards. The 10 low scorers in the tournament average 253 yards. Gary Player, the winner, averaged an even 250 with a 265-yarder his longest. Runner-up Kel Nagle averaged only 240 yards.

A half dozen players, including Nicklaus, were singled out as noted long hitters who played all four rounds. They averaged 263 yards. Nicklaus and Miller Barber had 268-yard averages and Tom Weiskopf 267.

In 1964 at Congressional, two holes were charted and the field averaged 252 yards on drives. At Brookline in 1963, where wind was troublesome and the rough and fairway grass denser than usual, the average was only 244 yards. Back in 1956 on the 432-yard eighth at Oak Hill, Rochester, the field drove an average of 253 yards.

To gather a few more facts, the analysts took their charts and tape measures to the 401-yard seventh to study the effects of drivers on scoring. The 48 shots that hit the fairway more than 260 yards out resulted in an average score of 3.94 on the par-four hole. Five in a group about that far out brought a 4.60 average.

In the 240-260-yard range in the fairway the average score was 4.05 while the short but straight drivers averaged 4.12. The guys who drove into the rough had somewhat worse scores but not as bad as the ones who hit the big trap.

PISTONS PLAYER CHARGED

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit Pistons basketball player was charged with assault and battery on a policeman Friday.

Police claimed Reggie Harding punched a Detroit patrolman who was ticketing him for a minor traffic violation.

The 7-foot, 225-pound Harding admitted striking Officer James Coffin, police said, but claimed Coffin provoked him "When he told me in an unlikable manner to get out of the street."

Coffin said he found Harding's car parked in a "no standing" zone.

DEPEND ON SKELGAS

LIBERTY, Mo. (NEA) — Bohemian (on his father's side) Emil Joe Holub sat his first raked the bronc with his spurs wild bull at a small rodeo in Rawls, Tex. It was a spinning arena in a swan dive, landing bull, because the animal was bred for action.

E. J. was on it for kicks, to break up the routine at Texas Tech, where he was a sophomore studying to be an All-American football player. He used a fictitious name. The coaches might object to a center risking a broken neck.

When they set him on the bull, an old cowhand thrust a ring of Old Grand-Dad in his mouth and drawled, "Have a chaw, son. And when you come out, look back at the stars."

If a rider looks down at the bull's head, he'll be pulled right over it.

By the time he came out of the chute, the chaw of tobacco had E. J. half woozy. And then the bull went into a spin just inside the fence.

"He threw me right off," recalled Holub. "My spur got caught on his hump, and we went round five, six times, me dragging along. My head was really going round."

Next E. J. tried a bucking bronc bareback at another little rodeo in west Texas. The big

The Beast (which comes out easier than E. J. and fits his tobacco-chewing personality), begins his fifth season with the Chiefs as a risk for the long haul because of those knees.

When he's right, he's an all-league linebacker and was an inspirational force behind the Chief's only AFL title in 1962.

Football, he finds, is fun and fine, but as for living, well... he'll feel he's had it all when he gets to go to the Calgary Stampede and the rodeo festival at Cheyenne some day.

CHANGE STADIUM NAME
GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The City Council voted unanimously Tuesday night to change the name of Green Bay's City Stadium to Lambeau Field in honor of the late E. L. Curly Lambeau, founder of the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

Lambeau, who coached the Packers for 31 years, died June 1. He was 67.

Only triple play in the 1964 American League baseball season was executed by the Washington Senators.
